

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

SENATE CHAMBER,
Lansing, May 25, 1899.

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

Sir—I am instructed by the Senate to transmit to the House the following concurrent resolution:

Whereas, The American people remain unalterably and uncompromisingly opposed to all forms of oppression and political usurpation; and

Whereas, The American people have always entertained the most profound sympathy for every people of whatever race, nationality or creed, in their efforts to secure and preserve self-government and to maintain inviolate all their civil, political and religious liberties; and

Whereas, Upon the conquest of Finland by Russia in 1809 in the "Act of Assurance" Alexander I, most solemnly and sacredly promised "to confirm and ratify the religion and fundamental laws of the country (Finland), together with the privileges and rights according to the constitution," and "to rule this honest people according to their laws and to the inviolable order of eternal justice;" and as solemnly and sacredly pledged himself and his successors to preserve to the people of Finland the full measure of autonomy and local self-government then enjoyed; and furthermore at each succeeding coronation, Alexander II, Nicholas I, Alexander III, and the present Nicholas II, upon taking the title of Grand Duke of Finland have respectively ratified and reaffirmed in every particular the said Act of Assurance; and

Whereas, Under the union consummated by the Act of Assurance the prosperity and advancement of the Finnish people in material well-being and civilization—with its accompanying sciences, arts and moral culture—has not only surpassed that of any other portion of the Russian Empire, but has been the wonder, the marvel and the admiration of the civilized world; and

Whereas, Within a few months from the date on which Czar Nicholas II promulgated to the world the now famous peace message, the Russian government, by a special ukase, abrogated the Act of Assurance, abolished the Finnish constitution and destroyed the autonomy of the Grand Duchy of Finland; and now proposes to extend the term of military service and to increase the quota of Finnish conscript for the standing army four-fold and proportionately augment the Finnish military budget; therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That we express our profound and heartfelt sympathy for the downtrodden people of Finland in their present hour of darkest trouble, and with admiration approve their efforts to preserve to themselves and to their posterity inviolate and undiminished their hereditary and fundamental rights and privileges—the proud heritage of seven centuries of progressive development; and be it further

Resolved, That in view of the fact that the whole purpose and tenor of the ukase and proposed legislation for Finland respecting military affairs is incompatible and irreconcilable with the professed purpose and spirit of the Peace Conference to be held at The Hague, we respectfully but urgently request President McKinley to instruct our commissioners to the Peace Conference to express, in case the opportu-

ity presents itself, the disapproval of the people of the United States of the policy of the Russian government in its present administration of civil and military affairs in Finland; and be it further

Resolved, That we respectfully but earnestly and urgently request President McKinley, through our duly accredited representative at the Court of St. Petersburg, if not inconsistent with public interest, to express to the Government of the Czar the serious concern of the Government of the United States because of the abrogation of the Act of Assurance of Alexander I, sacredly ratified and reaffirmed by each of his successors; the abolition of the ancient Finnish constitution; and the consequent destruction of Finnish autonomy; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of State be instructed to transmit a certified copy of these resolutions to President McKinley, and our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

And to inform the House that the resolution has been adopted by the Senate. In this action of the Senate the concurrence of the House is respectfully asked.

Very respectfully,

CHARLES S. PIERCE,

Secretary of the Senate.

The question being on concurring in the adoption of the resolution, The resolution was adopted.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Carton offered the following:

Whereas, The House of Representatives has learned with profound regret of the death of Honorable Albert Pack, which occurred at his late residence in Detroit, Wednesday, May 31, 1899; and

Whereas, In the death of Mr. Pack the State loses one of its best citizens, who has contributed in no small degree to the development and prosperity of our State: a man of the strictest integrity and untiring industry, he richly deserved the success that crowned his efforts; he was ever mindful of the rights and interests of his fellow men, and the duties and responsibilities devolving upon citizenship in a country governed by the people were never shirked or evaded; and

Whereas, The House of Representatives, of which body he was a member during the session of 1865, desire to place upon record the evidence of their appreciation of the noble character of him who has gone from among us and express to those who knew him in the family circle their sincere and heartfelt sympathy; therefore be it

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the House Journal and that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased by the Speaker of the House.

Which was unanimously adopted.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Speaker announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, May 31, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

I respectfully request that you recall House bill No. 363, appropriating money for improvements and repairs at the Michigan State Prison, at Jackson, and for improving the sewerage in Grand river, so that you may give it further consideration before I act upon it. I desire to recommend that you amend the bill by striking out the appropriations for building new kitchen and dining room, $20,000; for building new wall, $22,500, and for improving sewerage in Grand river, $15,000, making a total reduction of $57,500, and leaving in the bill the appropriations for boilers amounting to $5,000, and for general repairs amounting to $8,000, a total of $13,000.

I feel confident that these reductions in the appropriation will not seriously cripple or embarrass the management of the prison, because the warden, on October 1, 1898, wrote to the State Board of Corrections and Charities, in response to a request for a statement of the necessary appropriations, that "we shall only ask for our usual appropriation for general repairs for the two years of 1899 and 1900, $5,000 for each year."

I transmit this communication to you in the form of a request for a recall of this bill because it is not my purpose to veto such portions of the appropriations as are absolutely necessary to maintain the institution. It appears, however, from a ruling of your Speaker, made upon a communication relating to the investigation of the war fund, which I sent to you on May 22, that certain messages from the chief executive of the State have no standing before your body and cannot be received. If this communication violates the rule established by your Speaker, I regret very much that the situation will force me to return this bill without my approval.

These recommendations for reduction of the appropriation for the State Prison are made, not because I think that this institution is being too generously treated. I have no doubt but that the improvements for which money is asked are needed. But I am firmly of the opinion that all of the appropriations, now pending before your body or in your Ways and Means committee, should be reduced to the lowest possible limit. I do not think that money should be denied an institution which will be seriously crippled if the appropriation is not made. However, wherever improvements or new buildings, or even extensive repairs and alterations, are planned, it is apparent to me that the appropriations for such should be deferred until the Legislature of 1901. I make these recommendations in connection with this bill appropriating money for the State Prison, because it is the only House bill at present before me for my approval.

I have sent a similar request today to the Senate to recall Senate bill No. 74 appropriating money for building and special purposes for the State Agricultural College.

If there are any other appropriation bills which have passed the Legislature but which have not yet reached me, I shall feel it my duty to request them to be recalled also, and all appropriations stricken out which are for improvements, new buildings, etc., not absolutely necessary in order to maintain the institutions until the next Legislature convenes.

I make these suggestions to you because an examination of the financial condition of the State, and of the appropriations which your body is asked to make, shows a state of affairs which is serious enough to demand your earnest attention. I deem this an appropriate occasion to urge upon you the imperative necessity of exercising the greatest economy in making appropriations.

I find that the total amount of bills, introduced in the House and Senate, calling for appropriations for the years 1899 and 1900, including the amount of the general purpose tax, is $9,280,121.35. This is nearly $5,000,000, in excess of the State tax for the years 1897 and 1898, levied to meet expenses, provided by law and appropriations of the Legislature of 1897, which State tax was $4,538,677.90 for the two years. The difference is startling, to say the least.

In the above total of $9,280,121.35, the beet sugar bounty is included at $1,600,000 for the two years, which is $400,000 less than the largest estimate, and the general purpose tax at $2,500,000, an estimate based upon the general purpose tax for 1897 and 1898, a conservative estimate because the general purpose tax will be larger for 1899 and 1900. All other appropriations, not including a few minor ones, amount to $5,180,121.35, making the total of all appropriations asked for $9,280,121.35.

There are already upon the statute books, however, laws enacted by prior Legislatures, providing for expenditures, which must be included in the State tax for 1899 and 1900, amounting to a total of $495,022.66 for the two years. If all of the appropriations asked for at the hands of this Legislature should be made, the total to be raised by State tax for 1899 and 1900, including the expenses authorized by previous laws, would, therefore, be $9,775,143.35.

The consequences to the State of levying a State tax of nearly ten million dollars for 1899 and 1900 instead of $4,538,677.90, as in 1897 and 1898, are too plainly perceived to need emphasis.

Because of the legislation of 1891, there is a large deficiency, which the Legislature of 1893 not only failed to decrease, but rather largely increased. The Legislature of 1891 is the one which repealed the law providing for a specific tax on copper. I am advised that $600,000 was included in the general purpose tax of 1895 for the purpose of meeting the deficiency then existing. There is at present a deficiency of about $900,000. This deficiency, which the Legislature of 1891, a democratic Legislature; 1893 and 1895, republican Legislatures, failed to provide for, must be taken into consideration by you when making your appropriations.

I am of the opinion that, by striking out of the appropriations all amounts for new buildings, large alterations and repairs and improvements of every kind which can be deferred without crippling the institutions, you can reduce the appropriations nearly one million dollars.

But it is very evident that even such wholesale reduction will not be sufficient to relieve the property owners of the State from the increased burden of State taxation. It is apparent that you will be unfaithful to your duty and to your constituents, if you adjourn without enacting laws which will make property, which now either escapes taxation or does not pay sufficient taxes, pay its just proportion of taxes.

Whatever increase of State taxes your body, by its appropriations necessitates, will fall most heavily upon the farmers, the workingmen and clerks who own their own homes, and the merchants and business men. This will be true unless you enact laws which will compel railroads, telegraph, telephone, express and mining companies and other corporations to pay their share of taxes. It will also be true, unless you pass laws under which personal property, stocks, bonds and investments generally, now escaping taxation entirely, can be found and assessed.

The present financial condition of the State is largely the result of a legislative custom, which cannot be charged to any individual or set of individuals. It is a defect which it will be difficult to cure. The institutions are located, members of the Legislature, who come from districts in which State institutions are located, combine their votes for the purpose of securing the appropriations for which they ask. A promises to vote for B's appropriation if B will vote for A's; or, stated in another way, A will not vote for B's appropriation unless B votes for A's, and, of course, in self defense B is compelled to vote for A's appropriation.

It is the duty of the Ways and Means committee in the House and the Finance Committee in the Senate to act as a safety valve, and regulate the appropriations in the same manner as the financial manager of a business institution would. These committees are under great pressure from members of the Legislature and friends of the institutions, and it is not singular that the committees cannot give the same thought and attention to this matter of appropriations as their members would to their own private business. The State would profit, probably, if the members of these committees had no personal interest in the appropriations, that is, if their districts contained no State institutions.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

On motion of Mr. Collins,

The communication was referred to the committee on State Prison.

Resolved by the Senate (the House concurring), That we, as individuals, and representatives of the people of the State of Michigan, extend to his family and relatives our deepest sympathy; that the flag on the State Capitol be placed and kept at half mast until after the last sad rites shall have been performed over his body, and that these resolutions be spread upon the Journal, and that an engrossed copy of the same be forwarded to the family of the deceased by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

On motion of Mr. Goodyear,

The proposed substitute for the two bills was ordered printed in the Journal, for the use of the special order.

Following is the proposed substitute for the two bills for the taxation of Upper Peninsula mining companies to be considered in the future:

A bill to provide for the collection of specific taxes from the mining companies of the Upper Peninsula.

The People of the State of Michigan enact:

Section 1. All corporations and all associations and joint stock companies having any of the powers or privileges of corporations not possessed by individuals or partnerships engaged in the business of mining, smelting and refining ores in the Upper Peninsula of this State, shall annually pay into the State Treasury specific taxes as follows: that is to say, every such corporation, association or joint stock company engaged in copper mining shall pay a tax of one-sixteenth of a cent per pound for each pound of copper produced and obtained where the annual production of said corporation, joint stock company or association for the preceding calendar year shall be less than five million pounds. Every such corporation, association or joint stock company whose annual production of copper for the last calendar year exceeds five million pounds of copper and does not exceed ten million pounds, shall pay a tax of one-eighth of one cent per pound for each pound of copper produced and obtained during said year. Every such corporation, joint stock company and association whose annual production of copper for the last calendar year shall exceed ten million pounds of copper, but shall not exceed fifty million pounds of copper per year, shall pay a tax of one quarter of one cent per pound for each pound of copper produced and obtained during said year. Every such corporation, association or joint stock company engaged in copper mining, whose annual production for the last calendar year shall exceed fifty million pounds of copper, shall pay a tax of one-half cent per pound on each pound of copper produced and obtained during said year. Every such corporation, association or joint stock company engaged in iron mining shall pay a tax of three cents for each ton of two thousand two hundred and forty pounds of iron ore obtained by such corporation, association or joint stock company engaged in such mining business. Said taxes shall be paid annually in the month of July at the office of the State Treasurer, or such place in the city of Detroit as he may designate.

Sec. 2. The specific taxes collected under this act shall be placed by the State Treasurer to the credit of the general fund, to be used in defraying the general expenses of the State government. Nothing herein contained shall exempt from State taxation any property of any such corporations, associations or joint stock companies not invested or used in their mining or manufacturing business.

Sec. 3. In case any such corporation, association or joint stock company shall fail to pay its specific State taxes, or any portion thereof, in the month of July, as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General, at the request of the State Treasurer, to bring an action or actions in the name of the people of the State of Michigan against such corporation, association or joint stock company, or against any stockholder or member thereof, in any court of competent jurisdiction in this State, or in any other state or country. for the recovery of said taxes and interest thereon, from the first day of August, at the rate of 12 per cent per annum; and each stockholder or member of any such corporation, association or joint stock company shall be personally liable for such taxes. Said taxes shall be a paramount lien on all the property and assets of the corporation, association or joint stock company situated within this State, and the Attorney General, at the request of the State Treasurer, may file a bill in equity in any court of competent jurisdiction, State or federal, in this State, to enforce and foreclose such lien.

Sec. 4. All property paying specific taxes under this act shall be placed on the general assessment rolls, and shall be subject to local and to State and county taxes, the same as other property on such rolls; but the amount of State taxes paid by any such corporation, association or joint stock company during the same calendar year shall be deducted from the specific tax levied by this act, and the balance only shall be collected from such corporation, association or joint stock company.

Sec. 5. All acts and parts of acts contravening the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 739. By mail to the Clerk: Petition of James H. Pound, contesting the election of George S. Hosmer, William L. Carpenter, Morse Rohnert, Robert E. Frazer and Joseph W. Donovan to the position of circuit judges of the Third Judicial Circuit of Michigan for the term beginning January 1, 1900.

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal, as follows:

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan for the year 1899:

Your petitioner, the undersigned, James H. Pound, a native born resident of Michigan, respectfully shows and represents unto your honorable body as follows:

First—That he was one of the nominees of the Democratic party of the county of Wayne for the office of Circuit Judge of the Third Judicial Circuit of Michigan at the spring election of the year 1899, held April 3, 1899, your petitioner having been duly nominated by said party and accepted its nomination and been placed upon the official ballot to be voted for at said election for said office.

Second—That as given by the official count as finally published and given out, nineteen thousand six hundred and sixty-two votes were cast for your petitioner, as shown by the official returns as corrected, now on file in the office of the Secretary of State, to which your petitioner refers for greater certainty.

Third—That your petitioner, being advised of many errors contained in the said returns as made by the precinct inspectors of the cities of Detroit and Wyandotte, and the various townships, by reason of the publishing in the daily press of Detroit of certain inaccurate advice by the Hon. Charles Flowers, Corporation Counsel of the city of Detroit, who advised that the election inspectors should count all ballots where a cross was made at the head of the party ticket and certain other crosses made at the side of the opposing candidates' names, but no erasure was made of any name on the party ticket voted to indicate who the voter desired to abstain from voting for, thus allowing a voter to cast his ballot for six or more candidates for circuit judge and permit the election inspectors either to count them all or to say who should be rejected, all of which is directly contrary to the laws of this State as contained in the public acts of 1895, third official instructions, pp. 588 and 589.

Fourth—That by reason of such wrongful and illegal advice, the Hon. George S. Hosmer, William L. Carpenter, Robert E. Frazer, Joseph W. Donovan and Morse Rohnert, who all claim to be elected over your petitioner, were each and every one credited with nearly one thousand votes, if not more, in the city of Detroit more than was legally cast for them.

Fifth—Your petitioner further avers that as he is informed and believes, he was miscounted carelessly, negligently and criminally out of many votes both upon the face of the returns and in returns where the frauds on the face of the returns were complete and covered up and that the returns so far as they affected your petitioner were the result of mistake, fraud and crime as he believes.

Sixth—That upon the face of the returns as canvassed your petitioner was attempted to be defrauded by flagrant errors of the following votes: Thirty votes in the fourth precinct of the sixth ward, eighteen votes in the second precinct of the thirteenth ward, twenty votes in the fifth precinct of the eleventh ward. That all these errors were detected simply because the wrong doing was not complete; but your petitioner avers that he is informed and believes that wrong was done him in apparently running one hundred votes behind his companions on his ticket in the seventh and eighth precincts of the first ward, something done no other place in the county and which is simply incredible to anyone knowing the conditions of the election.

That your petitioner was attempted to be deprived of eight votes in the third precinct of the second ward and in the fourth precinct of the fifth ward Mr. Morse Rohnert was given credit for three votes too many, four votes too many in the fifth precinct of the sixth ward. That in the second precinct of the tenth ward your petitioner is informed and believes that he did not receive within five votes of the number cast for him. That in the third precinct of the thirteenth ward the returns were not written at all, and were put in figures, thus not possessing the check or test which lead to the discovery of the errors found elsewhere and by which they were detected, and your petitioner avers that this was also true of the fourth and fifth precincts of the thirteenth ward, save that in the fifth even the figured returns show patent evidence of erasure and rewritten figures. That in the third and fourth precincts of the twelfth ward your petitioner is informed that he was deliberately defrauded of at least ten votes in each precinct. That in the second precinct of the fourteenth ward Mr. Rohnert, your petitioner is informed, received fifty-two votes too many by the returns and your petitioner twenty-three votes too few, and that in the third precinct of the same ward, Mr. Rohnert gets one too many credited to him and in the sixth precinct Mr. Rohnert has three votes too many given to him. That in the third precinct of the fifteenth ward the returns were in figures merely and not written in as required by law. That mistakes also occurred in each precinct in the sixteenth and particularly in the canvass of the vote in the three precincts of the seventeenth ward. That the foregoing your petitioner knows with reasonable certainty and that he is informed and believes that in every other precinct in Detroit and particularly in the seventh precinct of the fifth ward, he is advised by a republican election inspector, Mr. Flynn, that your petitioner was deprived of seven votes by the following of Mr. Flowers system by Mr. Robert being credited with votes which by law he was not entitled to. That your petitioner has been informed by Mr. Bolton that he was aware of an error against your petitioner of seventeen votes in one precinct, he being now an office holder elected on the republican ticket, and so petitioner charges, he having received similar information from many reputable citizens, that in each of the remaining election precincts in Detroit and Wyandotte errors were committed to his injury which can only be rectified by a recount, which he herewith prays.

Seventh—Your petitioner further avers that he was not given credit for the votes cast for him in the townships of Brownstone, Gratiot, Dearborn, Greenfield, Grosse Pointe, Hamtramck, Plymouth, Sumpter, Van Buren, Redford, Springwells three precincts, Monguagon, Huron, Taylor, Romulus, Livonia, Ecorse, three precincts, Northville, Nankin two precincts and Canton. That in a number of these returns only figures are used and that in the townships of Ecorse, Springwells and Huron the official ballot was taken outside the polling booth and marked, and then voted by illegal voters, and that in all the townships State ballots were voted which were wrongfully thrown out by the board of election inspectors because of distinguishing marks and the claim that they had not been properly voted on trifling pretexts, and that particularly was this true of the townships of Grosse Pointe and Monguagon.

Eighth—That petitioner is forty-six years of age, a practitioner of law upward of twenty-five years, and first an American citizen and second a party man, as he believes all other citizens should be.

Ninth—That petitioner applied to the board of county canvassers in due time, deposited one hundred dollars with the clerk of said board, and in all things complied with act number 125 of the public acts of 1897, and thereby invoked the aid of said law passed by the law making branches of the government of Michigan to meet such a case as this and demanded as of right a recount, but that the canvassing board first, and the circuit court of Wayne county second, and the Supreme Court of the State of Michigan last, held that the act number 125 of the public acts of 1897, particularly sections ten and eleven, did not apply or mean what it plainly says, and that the Legislature and the executive of this State had failed to carry out their manifest intent and object and that said act did not apply to candidates for State officers as it reads it does.

Tenth—That petitioner is a practitioner of law now upwards of twenty-five years of successful practice, and believes his standing at the bar full as good as any who have passed upon this law and he avers he cannot understand why when the law making power of this State says that any candidate voted for at any election at which State, county or district officers are voted for, should have a recount, why it does not mean candidates for State offices, or why or by what right the judiciary presumes to give a strained and unnatural construction to the word State, or says that the law making power don't mean State when it enacts a law to remedy a defect arising from the wrongful construction of the courts in the first instance, as the case of Vance vs. the Board of Canvassers in the 95th Michigan, 462, certainly was.

Eleventh—But they being the constituted authorities, your petitioner bows to their decision and gave notice of his desire to contest the right of Morse Rohnert and the Hon. George S. Hosmer, William L. Carpenter, Robert E. Frazer and Joseph W. Donovan to be declared elected over him, petitioner, to the Board of State Canvassers, who in turn acting under the advice of the Attorney General of Michigan, referred the matter of the contest to the honorable, the Legislature of Michigan.

Twelfth—I therefore, your petitioner, James H. Pound, do hereby respectfully ask your honorable body to act under section 5 of article 8 of the constitution of this State, I hereby contesting the right of the before mentioned gentlemen, the Hons. George S. Hosmer, William L. Carpenter, Morse Rohnert, Robert E. Frazer and Joseph W. Donovan to be declared elected circuit judges of Wayne county, which is the third judicial circuit of Michigan, over your petitioner, and I herewith humbly pray a hearing of an honorable body of American citizens forming the Legislature of Michigan, belonging to political parties who have ever advocated a free ballot and an honest count, that this rule may prevail in Michigan and that your petitioner having exhausted all remedy afforded by the courts and being told by them that they could or would afford no relief and that relief could only be granted by your honorable bodies, the Legislature of Michigan, acting in joint convention assembled, I invoke and respectfully ask and insist upon that aid and pray that your honorable body will be pleased to do your share to make this promise good, and that it may not be a promise but made to the ear to be broken to the hope. I dare not expect anything but a full examination of the details of my cause of complaint, and not the applications such as may have obtained in ward caucuses in times gone by. Your petitioner averring his full belief that a recount will show him to be a legally elected circuit judge in Michigan, which office he avers he is now sought to be deprived of by chicane and asserted narrow majority of from twenty-six to thirty-five in upward of forty thousand votes cast.

Thirteenth—Your petitioner avers that in twenty-five years observation he never knew of a recount of the city of Detroit or county of Wayne or any other county in the State of Michigan and he has known a number that did not prove to be inaccurate to an extent of upwards of thirty-five votes, the amount it is claimed petitioner is defeated by.

Fourteenth—That your petitioner is credibly informed that great frauds, errors and mistakes were perpetrated against him in the matter of his election by certain of the precinct election inspectors in the cities of Detroit and Wyandotte, and in the various townships of Wayne county, and believing that to an American the duty of doing justice is held to be a privilege as well as a right, he in great confidence asks of the Legislature of his State that an inquiry be made and a recount had of the ballots cast at the election of April 3, 1899, in Wayne county, for the circuit judges, and that such declaration be made as to the persons as may be agreeable to truth and justice and that those found to be elected circuit judges of the third judicial circuit of Michigan may be so declared by your honorable bodies in joint convention assembled, as required by the constitution of this State, which award is to be based upon the legal ballots cast at the said election.

And your petitioner, a citizen and native of this State, will ever pray as his only remedy.

JAMES H. POUND.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, }
County of Wayne. } ss.

On this 31st day of May, A. D. 1899, personally came before me, the undersigned, notary public of said county, James H. Pound, who acknowledged that he subscribed the foregoing petition and knew the contents thereof and that the same is true of his own knowledge except as to those matters which are therein stated to be upon information and belief, and as to those matters he believes it to be true.

By the committee on Federal Relations:

The committee on Federal Relations, to whom was referred the following concurrent resolution:

Concurrent resolution concerning the admission of B. H. Roberts to a seat as a member in the Congress of the United States from the State of Utah.

Whereas, A pure and righteous family is of the supremest importance to the welfare of the nation; and

Whereas, One of the darkets blots upon the history of our country has been the existence of polygamy within our territory, which the good citizenship of the nation has attempted for many years to stamp out, by religious and educational effort and by statutes of the National Legislature, especially those known as the Edmunds Law of 1882, and the Edmunds-Tucker law of 1887, and by the operation of the courts; and

Whereas, B. H. Roberts, who has been elected to the House of Representatives of the United States from the State of Utah, is a confessed polygamist and has stated, May, 1898, "Polygamy is not adultery;" it "must be not only not bad, but positively good, pure and holy;" and

Whereas, The admission of B. H. Roberts to a seat in the United States House of Representatives would be an encouragement to the polygamists whose evil practices the nation has been long striving to suppress; and

Whereas, The United States House of Representatives is the judge of the qualifications of its own members, according to section 5 of article 1, of the constitution of the United States; therefore it is hereby

Resolved by the House (the Senate concurring), That we express to the Representatives in Congress from the various congressional districts of Michigan, that, in our judgment, for B. H. Roberts to be permitted to take his seat as a member of the Congress of the United States would be to conflict with all those standards of high civilization for which our nation stands, an offense to the good citizenship of the nation and contrary to sound public policy, and we recommend to the Representatives in Congress from the State of Michigan that for these reasons they vote against the seating of B. H. Roberts as a member of the National House of Representatives; and

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, signed by the Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House, be sent to each Representative in Congress from this State.

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House, with the following substitute therefor:

Whereas, B. H. REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

Your special committee, to whom was referred the following resolutions:

By Mr. Gillam:

Whereas, The duties devolving upon the official proof reader of this House and his assistant are in the highest degree responsible, and the services of persons expert in that line of work are consequently required; and

Whereas, Mr. Robert S. Ramage, official proof reader, and Mr. John H. Banninga, who has acted in the dual capacity of financial clerk and assistant proof reader, have discharged the responsible duties of these respective offices with singular fidelity and such painstaking care that the grievous errors that were common and oftentimes of fatal consequence to acts of the former sessions of the Legislature, have been practically eliminated, so that it can safely be said that the acts of the Legislature of 1899 are the nearest approach to perfection that have been obtained in this State; therefore be it

Resolved, That in view of the foregoing facts, each of the above named officers shall be entitled to receive, in addition to the amount allowed under the statute, the further sum of two dollars per day for and during the legislative session of 1899.

Also, by Mr. Carton:

Whereas, Mrs. Lillian A. Wells, clerk of the committees on Private Corporations and Judiciary, and Mrs. Etta Saunders, clerk of the committees on Railroads, Revision and Amendment of the Statutes, and Towns and Counties, have each performed a large amount of extra work for this House and its members in the discharge of their official duties, separate and apart from their regular work as clerks of said committees; therefore

Resolved, That each be paid by this House the sum of two dollars per day extra compensation during the session for such extra services so rendered by them.

Have given the same careful consideration and herewith report and recommend as follows:

Your committee recognize the capable and faithful services rendered by the House officials during the present session of the Legislature. They have performed their duties in a courteous and highly satisfactory manner. Your committee call attention to the following: Article 3, session laws of 1873, provides for the payment of the salaries of officers and employees of the Legislature, and fixes the compensation at three dollars per day for all employees except messengers, and for the latter, two dollars per day for actual attendance, and mileage at the rate of 10 cents per mile actually traveled in coming to and returning on the usually traveled route. Section 21, article 4 of the constitution further provides as follows: "The Legislature shall not grant nor authorize extra compensation to any public officer, agent or contractor after the services have been rendered or the contract entered into." Your committee fully recognizes that the importance of some of the clerical positions of the House call for signal ability and experience, and that some of the employees of this House are clearly entitled to greater compensation than that provided for in the statutes herein cited, but the existence of such statutes, and the constitutional provision cited, seem to leave nothing to the discretion of this committee. That exact justice may be done in the future, the law should be amended, and a proper classification of compensation established. Until this is done, we believe the granting of extra compensation towards the close of a session, is a vicious practice, totally unwarranted in law, and subjects the Legislature to severe criticism by the press and the people of this State. Your committee recommend that the requests embodied in the resolutions aforesaid be denied, and that no additional compensation be granted to any employee of this House.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Speaker announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, June 1, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

I desire to earnestly recommend that you enact a law providing for a tax upon mining companies. The law taxing these companies by a specific tax was repealed by the Legislature of 1891, and since that time they have been assessed locally. The present high value placed upon the stock of mining companies in the stock market has demonstrated to the people of the State that a large amount of very valuable property is practically escaping taxation.

The necessity of raising more money from mining companies is so apparent that there is no ground for postponing the enactment of a law making them contribute their share of taxes.

At the request of members of your body, I have caused statistics to be collected showing the name, character of product, assessment, amount of State and other taxes of all the mining companies in the Upper Peninsula. I submit a partial report of the results herewith. It includes the information furnished by the county treasurer of every county in the Upper Peninsula containing mines (except Houghton county). The treasurer of Houghton county would not respond to my request for this information and I was obliged to request a citizen of Houghton to secure the figures from the tax rolls in the possession of the county treasurer. I expect to be able to transmit to you the results of his investigation at an early date.

In order to secure this data correctly I sent to each county treasurer the following telegram:

"Please wire me, collect, at once, following information:

1. Name of each mine in your county.
2. Nature of product of each mine, whether iron, copper, etc.
3. Total assessment of property of each mine.
4. Amount of each tax for 1898, State, county, municipal, township, etc., specifying each separately for each mine.

Please send sworn statement of above by next mail.

H. S. PINGREE, Governor."

The results, submitted herewith, show that the total assessment of the property of all mining companies in the Upper Peninsula by counties for the year 1898, except those of Houghton county, is as follows:

County.	No. Mines.	Total Assessment.	Total all Taxes.
Iron.....	28	$175,040	$10,702 16
Gogebic.....	12	3,674,000	139,254 36

It is to be regretted, if it is thought practicable to tax these companies only by specific tax, that the taxes so raised must be paid, under the constitution, into the primary school fund instead of into the general fund. I mean by this, not that we can be too generous in our treatment of the school fund, but it is apparent that the exigency, created by the large appropriations now pending, is because of the necessity of raising, by taxes, an amount necessary to relieve the demands upon the general fund of the State.

I am satisfied that we ought at least to provide in some way for a fund of at least $6,000,000, to put our State institutions in a proper condition. They need new buildings and new equipment in order to properly perform their functions, and I would not hesitate a minute to approve all appropriations necessary to accomplish this, if laws were enacted to make the burden fall where it properly belongs, that is, upon the property, including mining companies, which does not now contribute its just share of taxes. I am aware that this is a repetition of what I have said many times, but I think it cannot be too forcefully emphasized.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE.
Lansing, June 1, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

For the reasons given in my communication to you of May 31, relating to the appropriation for the State Prison at Jackson, I respectfully request you to recall House bill No. 931, making appropriations for the Central Normal School at Mt. Pleasant, so that you may give it further consideration before I act upon it. I desire to recommend that you amend the bill by reducing the appropriation of $43,000 for additions to the normal building to $22,000, to provide for the erection of one wing to the present building. The number of students in this institution has increased from 150, two years ago, to 425 at this date. The necessity for additional buildings is, therefore, apparent, but this institution should be required, in common with all State institutions, to defer its improvements and new buildings until the next Legislature convenes and until laws are enacted placing the increased burden of taxation where it belongs, namely, upon corporate property, and the personal property of individuals which now escapes taxation.

I am advised by the Superintendent of Public Instruction that a large number of the present students at the Central Normal School are not graduates of high schools, but are combining a high school with a normal school training at this institution. I am of the opinion that the State should not furnish a high school education, because that duty belongs to the municipalities and local divisions of the State. It is also my belief that the policy of the State should tend towards the abolition of State normal schools, instead of encouraging their growth. In every town of 15,000 inhabitants, or thereabouts, which contains a well equipped high school, there should be added to the high school a normal training department. The duty of and expense of preparing teachers seems to me to belong more properly to each locality rather than to the State. This same principle you are asked to recognize in the bill to establish schools for the deaf in municipalities and localities.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The communication was ordered spread on the Journal, and
On motion of Mr. Lusk,
The communication was referred to the committee on Ways and Means.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Speaker announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, June 6, 1899.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

Sirs—Before acting upon House bill No. 933, making an appropriation for the payment of bounty to beet sugar manufacturers of this State, I most respectfully call your attention to the same and ask that it be recalled and given further consideration.

Two years ago the Legislature passed an act granting to the manufacturers of beet sugar within the State, one cent a pound covering a period of seven years. To make such act effective, subsequent Legislatures must, from time to time, appropriate sufficient amounts to meet the same. While this bill appropriates only the sum of $400,000, it also provides that all amounts needed to meet the bounty over and above the $400,000 may be drawn from the general fund in the treasury. A conservative estimate places the amount for the next two years at $900,000, while others claim the amount will reach $2,000,000. I am advised that, if the factories which are completed and now in process of construction, are run to their full capacity, the amount of the bounty will reach $900,000 per year or $1,800,000 for the two years. It is safe, however, to estimate that not less than $1,600,000 will be required.

Section 6 of Art. 14 of the constitution reads as follows:

"The credit of the State shall not be granted to or in aid of any person, association or corporation."

Section 45 of Art. 4, reads as follows:

"The assent of two-thirds of the members elected to each house of the Legislature shall be requisite to every bill appropriating the public money or property for local or private purposes."

The bill passed the Senate, as appears by the Journal entry, by less than two-thirds majority of all the members elected.

I have requested the Attorney General to advise me as to the constitutionality of the law of 1897, providing for the bounty. He is of the opinion that it is doubtful constitutionality, not only because it lacks the requisite two-thirds vote, but because it violates the constitutional provision that the State shall not grant its credit in aid of any person, association, or corporation. I will transmit his opinion later.

But my objections to the bill are principally for other reasons than that of its doubtful constitutionality.

While we may be desirous of encouraging new industries in the State, if the whole people are to be burdened with taxes for their support, they will prove of little blessing.

Those who advocate this measure undertake to show that it will be a great benefit to the farmer, in the market produced for beets. No greater deception could be urged. An insignificant proportion of our farmers will be benefited by the law, being only those living in the immediate vicinity of the factory. The factories that will draw from our treasury $1,600,000 in two years will not patronize to exceed 8 per cent of the farmers in the State and probably a very much less number, while the remaining 92 per cent of the farmers and all other people in the State will be burdened with the tax.

There is no reason why the Michigan farmers outside of a small circle around these factories, should bear this extra taxation, than should the farmers of Indiana or Massachusetts, for they will receive no more benefit.

While I personally doubt the wisdom or policy of any such legislation at all, yet considering the law passed two years ago, it may not be unfair to grant a bounty in accordance with the same, but to no one factory or corporation an amount exceeding $25,000 per year; the same to be with a condition attached that any corporation which shall directly or indirectly enter into any trust or combination to fix the price of its products, shall not be entitled to the bounty. A bounty of $25,000 to each factory is equivalent to interest at 6 per cent on about $400,000, the average amount invested in each projected factory.

I am advised that the nine factories, now completed and in process of construction, represent an investment of about $3,600,000. Contracts have already been entered into with about 15,000 farmers. It will be seen, therefore, that under the law of 1897, there is a moral, although not a legal obligation, on the part of the State to grant some encouragement, but for a limited period, and also to a limited amount. I believe, however, that the giving of a bounty by the State to a class of manufacturers or producers is entirely wrong in principle. I think that notice should be served upon the owners of the present factories, and upon those who are contemplating the construction of new factories, that the bounty will cease at the expiration of a short and definite period. While the bounty is illegal and wrong in principle, it would be working positive hardship to cut it off abruptly and without notice to the owners of capital invested and to the farmers who have their crops planted.

I, therefore, most respectfully ask that the bill be recalled by your honorable body so that it may be amended by limiting the amount of bounty to each factory at not exceeding $25,000 per year, and by providing that the bounty shall cease whenever the factory shall directly or indirectly join a trust or combination to fix or control the price of sugar. If such a limitation is made and if no additional factories are built than those now projected, the expenditure will be not more than $225,000 per year, or a saving to the State of $1,375,000, upon the estimated expenditure of $1,600,000.

I believe such course to be in the interest of the State and its taxpayers.

In this connection, I would recommend an amendment to the law of 1897, reducing the amount of the bounty to one-half cent a pound, for a short and limited period, because I believe that such a rate is liberal enough to establish this industry upon a sound basis.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The communication was ordered spread on the Journal.

Mr. Goodell moved that the communication be referred to the joint committees on State Affairs and Agriculture.

Mr. Wood moved that the motion to refer be amended by inserting the committee on Ways and Means in lieu of the committee on Agriculture.

For which motions to refer,

Mr. Kelly moved as a substitute that the views contained in the communication from the Governor be adopted by the House, and that a respectful message be sent to the Senate requesting the Senate to send a respectful message to the House asking the return of the bill in question to the Senate, in order that the House may be able to send a respectful message to the Governor asking the return of the bill to the House.

The question then being on amending the motion to refer by inserting the substitute motion which had been agreed to, in lieu thereof,

The substitute motion was concurred in, and the clerk was instructed to send a respectful message to the Senate, requesting the Senate to send a respectful message to the House requesting the House to return to the Senate

House bill No. 933 (file No. 231), entitled

A bill to make an appropriation for the payment of claims arising under the provisions of act No. 48 of the public acts of 1897, entitled "An act to provide for the encouragement of the manufacture of beet sugar, and to provide a compensation therefor, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved March 26, 1897.

In order that on the receipt of such respectful message from the Senate the House may be able to send a respectful message to the Governor, asking from His Excellency the return of the bill for further consideration by the Legislature.

The Speaker also announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, June 6, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

Gentlemen—I transmit herewith a copy of the Attorney General's opinion, referred to by me, in my message to your honorable body, requesting that the beet sugar bounty bill be recalled for further consideration by you.

Yours respectfully,

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The communication and accompanying document were ordered spread on the Journal.

The following is the accompanying document:

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Lansing, June 2, 1899.

Hon. Hazen S. Pingree, Governor, Capitol:

My Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your communication of 26 ult., requesting me to give you my opinion as to whether the so called beet sugar bounty bill is constitutional, and whether, if constitutional, the assent of two-thirds of the members elected to each House of the Legislature is required in order to make it valid.

I have endeavored to give this matter very careful consideration, and for reasons which will appear in the course of my communication, I hesitate in giving you a positive opinion, although I have come to conclusions which I believe are correct. The question of the right of the State to pay bounties in aid of purely industrial enterprises has come before our Legislature at various times since the adoption of the constitution in 1850, and in some instances legislation was enacted along similar lines to the present beet sugar act. I refer to the bounty for the manufacture of salt, first passed in 1859. The constitutionality of this law was never brought in question before our courts, and was apparently acquiesced in, and stood without protest until its final repeal. The courts of this State have never passed directly so far as I can find, upon the constitutionality of this species of legislation, although questions so nearly analogous have been before the courts in relation to the right of the State or municipalities to impose taxes in aid of private industries, and the law has been so positively stated in these decisions, that I believe there is little doubt as to how the court would finally decide the case if the beet sugar bounty act is before it.

As respects taxation, the following cases have held that the right to tax does not exist except for public purposes:

People v. Salem, 20 Mich., 452.

Bay City v. State Treasurer, 23 Mich., 499-504.

Ryerson v. Utley, 16 Mich., 269.

Anderson v. Hill, 54 Mich., 477.

Davis v. Board of Supervisors, 64 Mich., 404.

In the case of People v. Salem, Judge Cooley in his opinion states that in the course of the argument allusion was made to the power of the State to pay bounties, and he uses this significant language:

"But it is not in the power of the State, in my opinion, under the name of a bounty or under any other cover or subterfuge, to furnish the capital to set private parties up in any kind of business, or to subsidize their business after they have entered upon it. A bounty law of which this is the real nature is void, whatever may be the pretense on which it may be enacted. The right to hold out pecuniary inducements to the faithful performance of public duty in dangerous or responsible positions, stands upon a different footing altogether; nor have I any occasion to question the right to pay rewards for the destruction of wild beasts and other public pests; a provision of this character being a mere police regulation. But the discrimination by the State between different classes of occupations, and the favoring of one at the expense of the rest, whether that one be farming or banking, merchandising or milling, printing or railroading, is not legitimate legislation, and is an invasion of that equality of right and privilege which is a maxim in State government. When the door is once opened to it, there is no line at which we can stop and say with confidence that thus far we may go with safety and propriety, but no further. Every honest employment is honorable; it is beneficial to the public; it deserves encouragement. The more successful we can make it, the more does it generally subserve the public good. But it is not the business of the State to make discriminations in favor of one class against another, or in favor of one employment against another. The State can have no favorites. Its business is to protect the industry of all, and to give all the benefit of equal laws. It cannot compel an unwilling minority to submit to taxation in order that it may keep upon its feet any business that cannot stand alone. Moreover, it is not a weak interest only that can give plausible reasons for public aid; when the State once enters upon the business of subsidies, we shall not fail to discover that the strong and powerful interests are those most likely to control legislation, and that the weaker will be taxed to enhance the profits of the stronger. I shall not question the right of the people, by their constitution, to open the door to such discriminations, but in this State they have not adopted that policy, and they have not authorized any department of the government to adopt it for them."

Along the same line of argument so vigorously set forth by Judge Cooley, which it seems to me is directly in point, I would quote the language of Mr. Justice Miller, of the United States supreme court, in the case of Loan Association v. Topeka, 20 Wall., 655, as follows:

"We have established, we think, beyond cavil, that there can be no lawful tax which is not laid for a public purpose. It may not be easy to draw the line in all cases so as to decide what is a public purpose in this sense and what is not. But in the case before us, in which the towns are authorized to contribute aid by way of taxation to any class of manufacturers, there is no difficulty in holding that this is not such a public purpose as we have been considering. If it be said that a benefit results to the local public of a town by establishing manufacturers, the same may be said of any other business or pursuit which employs capital or labor. The merchant, the mechanic, the inn-keeper, the banker, the builder, the steamboat owner, are equally promoters of the public good and equally deserving the aid of citizens by forced contributions. No line can be drawn in favor of the manufacturer which would not open the coffers of the public treasury to the importunities of two-thirds of the business men of the city or town."

Mr. Justice Gray, in the case of Cole v. La. Grange, 113 U. S. 1, states the following:

"The general grant of legislative power in the constitution of a state does not enable the Legislature, in the exercise either of the right of eminent domain or of the right of taxation, to take private property, without the owner's consent, for any but a public object. Nor can the legislature authorize counties, cities or towns to contract, for private objects, debts which must be paid by taxes. It cannot, therefore, authorize them to issue bonds to assist merchants or manufacturers, whether natural persons or corporations, in their private business. These limits of the legislative power are now too firmly established by judicial decisions to require extended arguments upon the subject. The decisions in the courts of the states are to the same effect" (citing a number of them) and, "we have been referred to no opposing decision."

Justice Miller says, "To the cases cited by Mr. Justice Gray may be added the following, some of which were cited in Opinions of the Judges, 58 Me., 587; Curtis v. Whipple, 24 Wis., 350; Hanson v. Vernon, 27 Iowa, 28; Matter of Niagara Falls and Whirlpool Co., 108 N. Y., 375; Deal v. Mississippi Co., 107 Mo., 464." The last case cited is directly in point here; the court holding therein that an act of the Legislature authorizing the payment of bounties for the planting of trees upon private lands, was an unconstitutional exercise of legislative power.

Mr. Justice Wells of the supreme court of Massachusetts, in case of Lowell v. Boston, 111 Mass., 454, uses this language:

"To justify any exercise of the power of taxation requires that the expenditure, which it is intended to meet, shall be for some public service or some object which concerns the public welfare. The promotion of the interests of individuals, either in respect of property or business, although it may result incidentally in the advancement of the public welfare, is, in its essential character, a private and not a public object. However certain and great the resulting good to the general public, or to the State, which results from the promotion of private interests and the prosperity of private enterprises or business, does not justify their aid by the use of public money raised by taxation or for which taxation may become necessary. It is the essential character of the direct object of the expenditure which must determine its validity as justifying a tax, and not the magnitude of the interests to be affected, nor the degree to which the general advantage of the community, and thus the public welfare, may be ultimately benefited by their promotion."

"In an analogous case, Mr. Justice Brewer, speaking for the supreme court of Kansas, of which he was then a member, said: 'Public aid to private purposes cannot be secured by yoking them to a public purpose. And where the public and private purposes are attempted to be aided by a single concession, the latter vitiate rather than the former uphold, the grant.'"

Central Branch U. P. R. R. Co. v. Smith, 23 Kan. 533.

"Nor was the decision of either of those cases made to turn upon a mere question of 'municipal authority,' but instead upon the broad question of 'legislative power.' As said by Wells, Justice: 'The point in difficulty is not as to the distribution of the burden by allowing it to be imposed upon a limited district within the State; but as to the right of the Legislature to impose or authorize any tax for the object contemplated by this statute.'"

It cannot be contended but that the act to which you call my attention means taxation. It is an appropriation of public money which must be brought into the State Treasury by taxation, and the authorities I have cited all tend to the conclusion that it will not be taxation for a public purpose, and if so, the act of the Legislature in making the appropriation cannot, in my judgment, be sustained.

You refer me to section 45 of article 4 of our State constitution, which is as follows:

"The assent of two-thirds of the members elected to each House of the Legislature shall be requisite to every bill appropriating the public money, or property, for local or private purposes," and you ask whether the act in question requires a two-thirds vote to be lawfully adopted by the Legislature. The article of the constitution to which you refer would seem to imply the right of the Legislature to appropriate money for local or private purposes, and if that is true, the decisions quoted would seem to be inapplicable in Michigan. This section, in a measure, conflicts with the sections contained in article 14, and it is difficult to reconcile them. Section 1 of article 14 seems to limit the right to tax to the payment of the estimated expenses of the State government. Section 6 of the same article provides: "The credit of the State shall not be granted to, or in aid of, any person, association or corporation." An examination of the history of section 45 leads me to think that it is to some extent an anachronism in our constitution. It was borrowed from the constitution of New York, 1821, in which provisions analogous to those contained in article 14 of our constitution did not exist. I believe that section 45 does not apply to appropriations that mean ultimate taxation, and hence could not apply to the case under discussion. When Judge Cooley wrote his decision in the Salem case, and when the other Michigan cases which I have cited were decided holding that taxation to be valid must be for public purposes, section 45 was in full force, and the courts did not suggest that it caused a modification of the principle that taxation must be for public purposes.

From the above you can gather the opinion I hold as to this act. My embarrassment in giving you this opinion lies in this, that if you unreservedly act upon it, and veto the bill as unconstitutional, unless the act receives a two-thirds vote and is passed over your veto, my opinion has accomplished a result that is final. The Legislature of 1897 held out certain inducements to the citizens of this State to turn from their ordinary avocations and engage in this industry. Large manufactories have been erected, and others are in the course of construction or promotion. Contracts have been let and money invested on the strength of the inducements that were thus held out. In justice to those interests I feel that final disposition of this matter should rather be determined by the courts upon a hearing where the interests can all be fully represented, than by a single individual acting as I now do, solely upon my unaided investigations. I have no doubt but that if this legislation receives your approval in its present, or in a modified form as you may judge most advisable, its validity will be, and I think it should be tested by the courts at as early a date as possible, before further and greater interests are built up in reliance upon a law of such doubtful constitutionality as I believe this to be. The sooner it is done the better it will be for all interests concerned.

Yours respectfully,

HORACE M. OREN,
Attorney General.

The Speaker also announced the following:

Mr. Carton moved that the bill be ordered to take immediate effect.

By the committee on Ways and Means:

Your committee on Ways and Means take pleasure in informing the House of the fact that they have practically completed their labors, and have reported to the House the various stated appropriation bills for the State institutions, as well as miscellaneous appropriation bills that the public interests have required. This action does not include the general budget, or so called omnibus bill, which is not usually presented until within two or three days of adjournment, because of the fact that all items of expense which do not provide a tax clause must be included in this bill. We hope it is unnecessary to inform the House that this committee have earnestly endeavored to conscientiously perform the responsible duties committed to it. The necessities this year are certainly greater than they have been in any preceding year in the history of our State. The growth of the State and relative increase in population, the increased attendance at our various State institutions, the natural necessity for improvements and repairs, and the demands for increased facilities must of necessity obligate the State to provide revenues to meet these demands. We firmly believe that the request from our State institutions have not been unreasonable; that these institutions are conducted, without exception, in a manner which reflects credit upon the administration of each, and that in supplying the financial aid reported in the several bills to you we have simply performed our sworn duty, and it has afforded us much satisfaction to know that, with but two or three exceptions, the House has approved our actions by the passage of the various bills.

Appended herewith are the several appropriations referred to.

On motion of Mr. Carton,

By a vote of two-thirds of all the members elect, the bill was ordered to take immediate effect.

By the special committee on certain newspaper charges against members of the House:

Your special committee, appointed under a resolution adopted by the House to investigate certain charges made in the columns of the Detroit Evening News in an issue of that paper of May 5th, submits the following report:

Mr. George Brown, the confessed author of the article in question, was subpoenaed and appeared before your committee, testifying under oath. With reference to the list of 35 members mentioned in the article, he stated that he had no personal knowledge of the fact charged and absolutely refused to divulge the name of the party having such list; and also refused, upon repeated inquiries, to divulge the names of the persons which were said to be upon such list. Mr. Brown further stated that none of the charges made in the article in question were within his own personal knowledge, and could not say the statements made in the article were true. Your committee was wholly unable to obtain any definite information from the witness.

The charges made in the article mentioned with reference to the fish trust, the beet sugar bill, and an organized plan to hold up and pass bills, he could not say were true of his own knowledge.

The part of the article in question having reference to a certain Senator being connected with the Chicago fish trust, he claimed was based upon a letter directed to some person in Chicago, signed by a Senator, which he claimed had been picked up near the Capitol without an envelope, and he refused to make any further statement concerning it. Mr. Brown mentioned the name of only one party in connection with the article who, he claimed, had seen the list. That party was subpoenaed, and under oath stated that he knew of his own personal knowledge that the statements concerning the parties named upon the alleged list which he had seen were absolutely false and untrue; that the parties had never voted together on any single proposition where opposition had arisen, as he claimed was proved by the record of votes taken in the House. This witness also refused to state who the party was having the alleged list, and would not disclose the names of the parties, or any of them, appearing thereon.

Your committee failing to obtain any definite or tangible information from either of those witnesses, made earnest efforts to obtain other information, but were unable to obtain any, or to learn the name of a single individual who could give any information or shed any light on the subject of the truth or falsity of the article in question.

Your committee had no authority to compel the witnesses examined to testify to matters which they refused to disclose, but has made as complete an investigation of the matter assigned as was possible under the circumstances, and report that the statements made in the article referred to were based upon nothing more tangible, at most, than hearsay, and were absolutely unwarranted, and your committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Very respectfully,
F. C. CHAMBERLAIN,
JOHN J. CARTON,
H. K. GUSTIN,
C. E. WHITNEY,
D. J. HAMMOND,
JOHN J. MURDOCH,
J. H. READ.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

The Speaker also announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, June 8, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

Gentlemen—I return to you herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 135.

This bill provides certain amendments to the law relative to the Advisory Board in the matter of pardons.

I regret that the bill comes to me in such shape that I cannot affix my signature and make it a law. The provisions of the bill are in most particulars satisfactory, as it contains certain amendments desired by those interested in penology. I cannot, however, approve the amendment limiting the expenses of the members to four dollars per day.

There should be some tribunal to hear and adjudicate the grievances of the convicts of the State. These unfortunates are sometimes wronged. Sometimes an innocent man is sent to prison, and sometimes a guilty man becomes so benefited by his punishment that for his own good, and the welfare of those dependent upon him, it is wise to release him before the actual expiration of his sentence.

Michigan is a large State, and these cases are numerous. No executive can devote enough time to these matters to properly investigate them without aid and advice.

Sometimes it is advisable for the good of our penal institutions to transfer men from one prison to another and proper selections must be made.

This is the work done by the Advisory Board of Pardons. In the prosecution of this work they are obliged to visit the prisons and various localities. They do not ride on passes and the State must pay their expenses. The proposition that they can pay railroad fare, hotel and other traveling expenses on the amount limited by this bill is preposterous.

The members of this board have never charged more than the actual expense necessitated. I audit their bills. I have often requested them to visit different localities to investigate these applications. I know they have done excellent work and that each has given to the State services far in excess of any recompense they have received. Their trip to the Marquette prison usually takes four or five days. Under this bill they would receive $20 for expenses. It would be an impossibility for members residing in the Lower Peninsula to make this journey on that sum, unless they rode on passes, which I personally know they do not possess.

The State has been fortunate in securing a board of men with the ability and integrity possessed by the members of this board. I value their services highly, as did my predecessor. I have no desire to cripple the work they are doing for the State, which would be the result if I signed this bill.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The question being, as provided by the constitution, on the reconsideration of the vote by which the House passed

House bill No. 135 (file No. 199), entitled

A bill to amend sections 4 and 5 of act No. 150 of the public acts of 1893, entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of a pardoning board, prescribing the powers and duties, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith," also to amend section 6 of above entitled act, as amended by act No. 256 of the public acts of 1895, and to add a new section thereto, to stand as section No. 11.

The vote was duly reconsidered.

The question being on the passage of the bill, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

On motion of Mr. Hammond,

The bill was laid on the table.

Mr. Chamberlain offered the following:

Concurrent resolution providing for the distribution of the public acts of 1899 and compiled laws of 1897.

Whereas, In the framing of section 2 of act No. 44, public acts of 1899, providing for the distribution of the public acts of each Legislature, certain State and county officers were unintentionally omitted; and

Whereas, It has been customary in laws previously enacted by the Legislature of the State of Michigan to include said officers in the distribution of the public acts; be it therefore

Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan (the Senate concurring), That the Secretary of State be and is hereby instructed to deliver one (1) set of the compiled laws of 1897 and one (1) copy of the public acts of 1899 to the following: State officers and their deputies, ex-State officers, officers of State institutions, clerks of circuit courts, supervisors and assessors of incorporated villages and cities, and public schools having libraries.

Laid over one day under the rules.

The House then took up the regular order.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Speaker announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, June 13, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

I return herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 431, being "An act to amend the title and section 1 of act No. 78 of the public acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1887, being an act entitled "An act to prevent persons from unlawfully using or wearing the badge of the Grand Army of the Republic in this State, or of the Loyal Legion of the United States."

This is substantially the same bill as passed by the Legislature of 1897, which I returned to the Senate without my approval on March 24, 1897. I have not altered my views since that time, and I submit to you the same reasons for disapproving the measure as I expressed to the Senate at that time. They apply with equal force now.

The act which is repealed by this act makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, for anyone to wear the badge of the Grand Army of the Republic, or of the Loyal Legion of the United States, or using them to obtain aid or assistance without being entitled to do so under the rules and regulations of these orders. The law passed by this Legislature includes the button of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the rosette of the Loyal Legion. This act also makes those criminals, who wear the button, and who have never been members of the Grand Army of the Republic, or who have been expelled or dropped from the order.

This law would affect all those who happen to be in arrears for dues, and it would consequently reach a very large number of old soldiers who have met with misfortune and have been unable to pay dues.

The button of the Grand Army is supposed to be cast from cannon captured by our soldiers. Those who ever had the right to wear it must have offered themselves as a willing sacrifice to save their country. They must have done faithful service and received honorable discharges. In most cases these men not only risked their own lives, but the prosperity of their children. Many of them are now old and poor. They can no longer pay their dues and maintain their good standing in their posts. To call such men criminals is monstrous. The Grand Army has never asked these men to return their buttons. Their more fortunate comrades should be glad to have them wear them as an evidence of honorable service, and if in their misfortunes others should be moved to aid them, all right-minded people should rejoice. These men are not criminals and should not be treated as such.

I look upon this bill as an attempt to collect dues through a criminal statute, and to punish the unfortunate and poor so as to aid those who trade on their Grand Army connections for political purposes to keep up their organization. I will not be a party to such ingratitude on the part of the State. Fraud should be punished, but I can see no reason why the present law is not amply sufficient to provide against fraud or deception. Laws are brought into contempt by making those things crimes which are not so in fact.

The Grand Army button has come to be looked upon as an insignia that the wearer was a soldier for the Union in the war of the rebellion. Men do not ask whether some aged poor soldier has paid his dues who now wears the button and has perhaps at some time been a member of a post.

In some localities G. A. R. posts can no longer be supported because of decreasing members, due to death. To deprive the poorer members of the right to wear the button would be absolutely wrong.

No community would endorse the attempt to imprison a soldier of the Union armies for wearing the button where he was unable to pay the fine imposed. The G. A. R. posts would not be proud to see their comrades in arms thrown in prison for such an offense.

I, therefore, respectfully return the bill without my approval.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The question being, as provided by the constitution, on the reconsideration of the vote by which the House passed the bill,

The vote was duly reconsidered.

The question being on the passage of the bill, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

On motion of Mr. Fleischhauer,

The bill was laid on the table.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE.

The Speaker announced the following:

The People of the State of Michigan enact:

Section 1. The following named persons, John Patton of Grand Rapids, Devere Hall of Bay City, Russell C. Ostrander of Lansing, George H. Durand of Flint, and Rolland Morrill of Benton Harbor, Michigan, are hereby appointed a tax commission, the duties of which shall be as follows:

First. They shall procure, classify and arrange in convenient tabular form full and pertinent statistics showing, as far as possible, the amount raised for taxes in each taxing district in this State, the rates of taxation in each taxing district, the difference between the true and assessed valuation of property taxed; the value of all railroad property in the State, the amount of property in each taxing district, so far as possible, which escapes taxation, and such other information in reference to the practical operation of the tax laws of this State as they may deem important and essential;

Second, They shall thoroughly investigate all complaints which may be made to them of illegal, unjust, excessive or unequal taxation, and shall endeavor to ascertain to what extent and in what manner, if at all, the present system is defective and unequal. They shall make and compile, after such investigation, a comparative statement of any unequal valuation which they may find of property assessed for taxes in the several counties of this State;

Third, They shall, after such investigation, make a comparative statement, showing the facts as to whether railroad property in this State, and the property of all other corporations organized under the laws of this State, or doing business in this State, whether organized under the laws of this State or any other State, is paying its just proportion of taxes as compared with other property subject to taxation under the laws of this State;

Fourth, They shall avail themselves of all information afforded by the reports of tax commissions of other States, and shall inquire into the system of State, county and municipal taxation in force in other States, especially those in which new methods have been introduced, with a view of ascertaining what changes, if any, in the taxation laws of this State are expedient and desirable;

Fifth, They shall make such recommendations as to the revision of the tax laws of Michigan and as to the enactment of new laws as they may deem necessary in order to simplify, assist or improve the present system and equalize the burden of taxation upon all classes of property:

Sixth. They shall embody the result of their investigations in a report, which shall be as plain, concise and comprehensive as possible; such report shall be prepared in proper form for publication, with full index, and shall be transmitted to the Secretary of State not later than the first day of June, 1900.

Section 2. The Secretary of State, prior to the first day of August, 1900, shall cause to be printed not less than 10,000 copies of such reports, as he may deem expedient for distribution to such persons as are now authorized by law to receive copies of the compiled laws, including the members and officials of the Legislature of 1899. Each member of said commission shall be entitled to receive twenty copies of such report, and such copies as are not distributed as herein provided shall be distributed under the direction of the Secretary of State to such persons as shall apply for the same.

Section 3. In case of vacancy in such commission occurring by death, resignation or otherwise, the same may be filled by appointment by the Governor of the State.

Section 4. Said commission shall hold their first meeting in the office of the Secretary of State on the 10th day of July, 1899, at which time and place they shall elect one of their number chairman and one secretary of said commission.

Section 5. Said commission shall meet at the office of the Secretary of State, at Lansing, at least once every three months, and the secretary of said commission shall from time to time, when requested by the Governor so to do, make and submit to the Governor and Secretary of State a brief report of the work accomplished by the commission up to that time.

Section 6. The members of said commission shall hold their office until the thirty-first day of December, 1900.

Section 7. Said commission are hereby authorized and empowered to subpoena persons and compel their attendance before said commission as witnesses, to administer oaths to witnesses, to take depositions, to send for and compel the production of books, papers and records, and to employ such assistance and incur the expense thereof as shall be necessary to carry out in good faith the provisions of this act.

Section 8. The members of said commission shall receive such compensation for their services as shall be determined and allowed by the Board of State Auditors of this State. They shall be allowed in addition to the compensation for their services such necessary expenses as they shall incur in discharging the duties of their office, to be allowed from time to time by the Board of State Auditors.

By unanimous consent the House took up the order of

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

By the special committee on Industrial Home for Girls:

Your special committee, to whom was referred the matter of investigating the charges made against the management of the Industrial Home for Girls at Adrian, beg leave to submit this, their report:

In the investigation which they have made they have given every facility to the superintendent and local board of the institution to be present and take part in the examination of witnesses, and the superintendent, Mrs. Sickles, has been represented by counsel during the entire investigation, for the purpose of cross-examining witnesses which were produced. And your committee have also subpoenaed every witness, at the expense of the State, which the superintendent or board desired should be brought before the committee, and the committee are happy to report also that every facility was afforded the committee by the superintendent and officers in charge of the institution that the investigation should be free and full, and all documents which the committee desired and which would throw any light on the subject matter investigated have been freely placed before them by the superintendent.

In the examination of witnesses the larger number have been those who have been subpoenaed by the committee at the request of the superintendent or her attorney. The witnesses whom the committee subpoenaed numbered 20, while those who were subpoenaed at the request of the superintendent or her counsel numbered 39. The expense of subpoenaing the witnesses whom the committee designated was $150.94. The expenses of those requested by the superintendent and counsel were $315.40. So that the larger expenditure has been for witnesses produced by the superintendent and the officers of the institution.

As to the matter of the financial condition of the institution, and the accounts of the superintendent, which had been presented and audited and paid at the Auditor General's office under the law, the committee beg leave to report that they found everything in a proper condition, the vouchers correct, and there has been no mismanagement of any kind so far as they could ascertain in regard to the financial affairs of the institution during the administration of the present superintendent.

The investigation of the committee has been limited purely and necessarily on account of the short time at its disposal to investigating the reports of extreme and cruel punishment, which had been inflicted upon the inmates of the institution during the administration of the present superintendent. These punishments the committee ascertained to be of the following kinds:

First. Punishment called silence, by which the inmate was prevented from speaking for a definite time.

Second. Confinement of inmates in their rooms.

Third. Confinement in rooms in the cottage, which were used for solitary confinement, upon bread and water, with the exception of breakfast, when hot cocoa was given.

Fourth. Punishment by compelling the inmates to wear bandages around the head or mouth marked with the words "thief" or "liar," etc., to designate some offense they had committed, and the placing across the mouth a surgeon's plaster or court plaster to prevent speech.

Fifth. Confinement in what are called the "strong rooms" in the basement of the cottage.

Sixth. Corporal punishment inflicted by the use of the rubber tubing, sizes from $\frac{3}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter; by the use of a ruler; by the use of paddles, pieces of wood some two feet in length and $\frac{1}{4}$ of an inch in thickness and five inches in width.

Seventh. By the use of shackles and handcuffs.

Eighth. By the use of hot baths.

PUNISHMENT OF SILENCE.

In investigating the administering of this punishment your committee found it was inflicted as a punishment for breach of rules, more frequently in speaking to other inmates at the hours when such speech was forbidden, and although this silence was continued for a longer period than your committee deemed proper, no very great stress is laid upon this method of punishment or any abuse of its administration, although your committee are unanimous in the opinion that this is not the proper mode of punishment in this school.

SOLITARY CONFINEMENT OF INMATES IN THEIR ROOMS.

This your committee found was given for impudence, disobedience, running away and in aggravated cases of other breaches of the rules, and sometimes, according to the testimony of Miss King, the assistant superintendent, the inmate was confined for weeks and sometimes a month. According to her testimony they were deprived of communication with others. They had cocoa and bread for breakfast and bread and water the other two meals of the day. Sometimes the confinement was not in the room of the inmate herself, but in another room in the cottage, and was called the solitary room. In the Central cottage the rooms are numbered 50 and 66, and in the other cottages room number 33. These rooms were about the size of other rooms, but the windows were high and it was necessary to stand on a chair in order to look out. Some windows had bars over them and some had not. (Miss King, pages 3-9.)

PUNISHMENT BY COMPELLING THE INMATES TO WEAR BAND AROUND THE HEAD MARKED "THIEF" OR "LIAR," ETC.

We found that the inmates were compelled to wear bands around the head marked "thief" or "liar," or other words to designate the offense of which the person wearing it had been guilty. It was also given, according to Miss King's testimony, page 9, for breaking silence or vile talk or impudence. These bandages were worn while the inmates were in school and chapel. Sometimes surgeon's plasters were put over the mouth and remained for a day or two, sometimes longer, taken off to feed the person who wore them. (Miss King, page 10.)

CONFINEMENT IN THE STRONG ROOM.

In the basement of the cottages your committee found rooms which were called "strong rooms." They are of brick and about 6 or 8 feet in length and about 4 to 6 feet in width. There are stone floors, with a little window about 2 feet near the top and sometimes this room looked into the basement and sometimes out doors, but generally very dark. The rooms contained a wooden plank built in the wall about the width of a chair. Upon this the prisoner was compelled to sleep, although blankets were furnished. According to the testimony of Miss King, page 6, the inmates were put in this room for "screaming, banging and kicking and breaking chairs and trying to smash the windows, and misconduct to officers and violent action."

According to the testimony of all the witnesses who testified on the subject those confined in the strong rooms were visited by the officers four times a day, breakfast, dinner, supper and bed time. They have warm breakfast, cocoa and bread; dinner and supper, bread and water. There were no conveniences for answering the calls of nature in these strong rooms, and all such calls were answered by artificial means. Vessels were placed in the rooms, which were removed at certain times by attendants. According to Miss King's testimony, none were ever confined in this strong room for over a week. The other testimony which will hereafter be given shows some to have been confined for longer periods; one for three weeks and four days. There was no light in there at night, no books, nothing to be done by the inmate, save to remain solitary.

PUNISHMENT WITH RUBBER TUBING.

This tubing was of a diameter of three-eighths to three-fourths inch. The long tube was done up in a sort of a coil, so that every stroke with it produced four or five more blows, and this was given, according to Miss King's testimony, page 10, for various acts of disobedience.

Your committee found that the punishment inflicted by the managers of the cottages and others had been so severe that a rule was adopted by the local board that no punishment be inflicted excepting by the superintendent or in her immediate presence, but your committee found on the investigation of the punishments of the superintendents and others connected with the cottages that this rule was repeatedly violated and punishment inflicted in several instances by managers themselves without authority of superintendent and not in her presence. Notwithstanding this rule, according to the testimony of Miss King, assistant superintendent, in the case of one of the girls a mild punishment was inflicted when Mrs. Sickles was not present. This was upon a colored girl. According to Miss King's testimony (page 12), Miss Sevey also used the tubing since the adoption of this rule when Mrs. Sickles was ill, without her direction and presence. Miss Sevey was manager of one of the cottages. According to Miss King's testimony she was a good manager, perfectly reliable and truthful. According to testimony of Miss King and also Mrs. Sickles, the punishment with tubing was never over twelve strokes. That was the rule. Other testimony shows that from 30 to 50 strokes had been given in different instances. Miss King's testimony upon that point is as follows: Page 24.

Q. In regard to the punishment, how often was the tube used?

A. Never but twelve strokes. That was the rule.

Q. Whether they gave it or not?

A. Yes, sir; I never had to give twelve strokes.

DETAILS OF SPECIFIC PUNISHMENT WITH TUBE, THE RULER AND THE PADDLES.

From the mass of testimony taken it is almost impossible to group or arrange each specific punishment. The only way in which the matter can be fairly presented is in giving brief abstracts of the testimony of the different witnesses upon the subjects of these punishments, and then to give extracts from the punishment book, which your committee desires to say is required by the rules adopted by the local board to be kept, in order that comparison may be made between the actual punishment inflicted and the entry taken from the punishment book for the inspection of the board.

Four girls were planning to run away or had talked about it. The testimony of the girls shows that it had not proceeded beyond a talk among the girls.

Of the testimony of Tillie Ray and Minnie Rancer, of which your committee herewith submits brief abstracts, preferring that your honorable body should have the testimony itself rather than any conclusion which your committee may have drawn from their testimony, it is proper to say that this witness, Tillie Ray, after giving this testimony on a subsequent day asked permission to add to her testimony, stating that she exonerated Mrs. Sickles entirely; thought her treatment entirely proper and given for her benefit. The testimony of Tillie Ray as now given was taken at an early part of the investigation and while Mrs. Sickles, the superintendent, was absent in Cincinnati. Her subsequent testimony referred to was after Mrs. Sickles had returned and after she had been at the home for three or four days. She is still an inmate of the institution and has some time to remain.

MISS SEVEY, WITNESS (P. 38)

Was manager of Alger cottage for six months; prior to that was teacher in Honor cottage, there three years and four months, in all four years in the home, (p. 38); punished Minnie Van Houghton the 16th day of November, 1898 (p. 38); she was past nineteen, refused to work; had the housekeeper and sewing teacher hold her, punished with a piece of rubber tubing (p. 39); the tubing five-eighths inches, two strands, a dozen or fifteen blows; she screamed; all the girls in the department were present, sixteen (p. 40). About the last week in August, 1895, heard of Angeline Render's punishment (p. 42); she had been a naughty girl in the laundry and said she would like to smash Mrs. Hawkins's face. Q. Put it in your own language.

A. It was splashed with blood for a distance of eight feet from where the girl stood.

Q. When Mrs. Sickles told you she struck her in the face, did she give you any reason why she struck her?

A. She said she would not take impertinence.

Q. Anything else, tell it in your own way.

A. No, I don't think of anything farther to say. I am not telling this because I am anxious to.

AS TO THE PUNISHMENT OF NELLIE PHILLIPS AND SADIE ANDERSON FOR SENDING NOTES.

Q. Which one sent the note to the other?

A. Sadie Anderson to Nellie Phillips.

Q. See the note?

A. I did later.

Q. What was the character of it?

A. It was a lot of soft trash.

 A. Three or four days.
 Q. On bread and water?
 A. Twice a day.
 Q. Was she punished with a ruler?
 A. She was.
 Q. How long a ruler?
 A. Two feet.
 Q. How many blows did Mrs. Sickles give?
 A. I have no idea.
 Q. Now the other one, Nellie Phillips, was whipped harder?
 A. Yes, sir.
 Q. How many blows did she receive?
 A. I presume half as many again. (p. 103.)
 Q. How do you know she whipped her harder because she would not cry?
 A. Mrs. Sickles said, "I will break down your stubbornness."

THE ENTRY IN THE PUNISHMENT BOOK OF THE WHIPPING OF THESE GIRLS IS THEN OFFERED IN EVIDENCE.

"Dated August 7, 1895—Nellie Phillips writing notes in school; passing to Sadie Anderson. The notes were vile. I paddled her hands."

- Q. Do you know of any other record of this?
 A. I have never seen that book.
 Q. You say the notes were not vile do you?
 A. Not as I understand the word.
 Q. There was no indecent language, I mean vulgar or indecent?
 A. No, sir. (p. 106.)

PETER HAGAN (P. 127) NIGHT WATCH.

In July, 1898, was called to take Ida Spencer from her room to the basement. (p. 128.) She was in solitary confinement in her room. Miss Huss and Miss Burgess were there (p. 128).

Miss Burgess gave me the order and asked the girl to come with me to the basement, and I went up and took the girl by the arm.

Q. She told her to go to the basement with you and you took her by the arm; did she go?

A. She walked so far as the head of the stairs with me, then told me to let go of her; she would walk without me. She threw herself on the floor. (p. 130.)

Q. Then what?

A. Then Miss Huss caught her by the feet and I took her by the shoulders and carried her down stairs, she was not screaming but quiet; she was kicking me going down stairs. (p. 131.)

Q. What happened when you got to the first floor?

A. We let go of her and she got on her feet and started to run away toward the front door down the hall, and I took after her and caught her by the shoulders, her hair was hanging down her back loose and I stopped her.

Q. Caught her by the hair, did you?

A. Her hair was loose and hanging down her back and I reached for her shoulder and caught her.

Q. Well what then?

A. When we got down there she would not get on her feet at all, and I caught her by the arms and carried her from there into the strong room.

Q. How many times?

A. I could not say.

Q. About how many?

A. Possibly a dozen (p. 138.) Went to Mrs. Sickles one evening and she wanted me to meet her at Clark cottage and told me she wanted me to go into the basement with her to inquire after a girl who was there in the strong room. Mrs. Sickles and myself and the manager, Mrs. Worth, went into the basement. (p. 139.)

Q. When was this?

A. Two or three years ago.

Q. When you got there the girl would not answer?

A. Mrs. Sickles called the girl and she would not answer her, Mrs. Sickles struck the girl with a hose, ten or twelve blows; kept on striking her until she answered her. (p. 139.)

Q. What size hose did she use?

A. It was the larger size.

MISS ADA HUSS' TESTIMONY AS TO AN INMATE WHO ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Q. Did you ever know of one being locked in one of the other rooms and trying to hang herself?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was her name?

A. Ida Garner.

Q. Did anyone go in and find her hanging?

A. The manager.

Q. What is her name.

A. Burgess.

Q. Was she cut down before she was dead?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What kind of a girl was she?

A. A girl that we did not consider well balanced in her mind.

Q. Have you seen any whipping with anything else?

A. I saw three girls whipped with a paddle.

Q. Did you hold the girls?

A. Yes, sir, I helped to hold them.

Q. Who else helped to hold them?

A. Mr. Earle?

Q. Who is he?

A. He was a farmer.

Q. Were they thrown on the bed?

A. Yes, sir.

- Q. Put on their faces?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Was their clothing turned up?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. What did she leave on their bodies, what clothing?
- A. Cotton flannel drawers.
- Q. That was all, was it?
- A. Yes, sir. (p. 179.)
- Q. Did you hold their shoulders or their feet?
- A. Their feet.
- Q. Who held their shoulders?
- A. Mr. Earle.
- Q. Mrs. Sickles whipped them?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Who was the first girl?
- A. Florence Cowdrey. (p. 179.)
- Q. How many blows did Mrs. Sickles give her, about how many?
- A. A good many, twenty-five or thirty blows.
- A. Describe that paddle, what kind of an instrument was it?
- A. As near as I can remember about eighteen inches long, about four and a half or five inches wide at the widest part and from a half to three-fourths in thickness. (p. 180.)
- Q. Did Mrs. Sickles bring it with her when she came?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Who turned her dress up away from her body, Mrs. Sickles or Mr. Earle?
- A. Mrs. Sickles. I don't remember whether Mrs. Sickles used both hands.
- Q. Then Mrs. Sickles gave her twenty-five or thirty blows with that paddle while Mr. Earle was holding her and her dress was raised above her waist, and she did that for calling out of the window and making a noise?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Now what is the next girl, what did you do in there, about the same?
- A. She resisted.
- Q. Did she lay on the bed when you told her to?
- A. No, sir.
- Q. You and Mr. Earle had to put her on the bed?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Who raised her dress, what was her name?
- A. Thersia Deering.
- Q. How many blows?
- A. Probably about the same; there was no account made.
- Q. With the exception of the resisting it was about the same as the first?
- A. Yes, sir. (p. 183.)
- Q. And for the same offense—calling out of the window and making a noise?
- A. Yes, sir.

TILLIE RAY. (P. 207.)

Three other girls and myself planned to run away, talked about it. We were all whipped. Were told to take off our nightdresses by Mrs. Sickles. Went into the parlor. (p. 208.) She whipped us with the largest tube. We lay across two chairs.

Q. How many blows did she give you?

A. It seemed to me that I got it for about five minutes. I don't know; I could not positively say. (p. 210.)

Q. As near as you can?

A. I should not think there were more than twenty-five or thirty.

Q. Then after Mrs. Sickles had given you twenty or twenty-five blows as you say, what did she say to the manager?

A. She said you may take it now.

Q. Did she take it?

A. She did.

Q. How many blows?

A. Not more than six or eight.

After Mrs. Sickles told me to get up I got up and she struck me once more. Then I was sent to the basement, put in the strong room in Crosswell cottage. (212.)

Q. What was the condition of your back after this whipping?

A. I did not have but one scar that really pained me very much, that was across the hip.

Q. How long was that scar?

A. It was not very long.

Q. What was the color?

A. It was black and blue, and all swollen up.

Q. How much?

A. Quarter of an inch.

Q. Pain you?

A. It did when I lay on it.

Q. Did you call the attention of any of the teachers to it?

A. I didn't say anything about it.

Stayed in the strong room seven days on bread and water. Before I was whipped I was a strong, healthy girl, able to work. (p. 214.) After I came out I was very weak.

Q. Have anything in that room to occupy your attention?

A. Nothing but the bricks; we counted the bricks on that wall down there.

Q. How many bricks were there?

A. I think 2007, that was on floor two; I think that was the number. It was 2007 or 1007. (p. 215.) My age at this time was fifteen.

In 1896 they were making changes in the school, and carpenters were there, and some of the girls went over to Alger cottage, and got to flirting and using some vile talk, and they were reported, and Lillian Byers was put in number thirty-three; she was there a long time; three or four weeks.

She was skin and bones when she came out. (p. 218.)

MINNIE RANCER. (P. 223.)

Examined by Mr. McCall:

I was one of the girls that talked about running away. Mrs. Sickles came over. Had us put on our night gowns. Was whipped in the parlor. I was the third one whipped. Was whipped with a large rubber tube about a yard long and double. (p. 224.) Was lying across a chair. Struck across the back and shoulders. I did not count the blows. Mrs. Sickles whipped me first and then Miss Osterhout.

Q. How many blows did she give you?

A. Twenty-five or thirty.

Q. How many times did Mrs. Sickles strike you?

A. Ten or fifteen. (p. 225.) Afterwards sent to the basement; stayed there nine days in the strong room. (p. 226.) Had no cocoa for breakfast; had bread and water. Then I was sent to my room, and after that was put on silence for three weeks. (p. 227.)

Q. What did you do by way of planning to run away?

A. Not much of anything, only talked it, tried to think of some plan. I was on silence for nearly two years. Recently taken off silence and the effect was plainly discernible.

Q. What was the offense for which you were put on silence for two years?

A. Some girls got in some trouble, and I said Miss Osterhout ought not to do things that she done, and she said I had no business to say that, and she put me on silence for two years. They had several of the girls on silence the largest part of the year, anyway. (p. 233.)

Mr. Smith, counsel for Mrs. Sickles:

Miss Osterhout was removed from there for not obeying Mrs. Sickles' rules?

A. Yes, sir.

Do not think Mrs. Sickles knew I was on silence so long, for the longest she ever left me on silence was three months. (p. 233.) If Mrs. Sickles came to the cottage and we spoke to her we were slapped. (p. 234.) I wrote a note to another girl, asked her where she came from. She tried to motion over, but could not.

Q. What punishment did you receive?

A. Whipped in school and in the basement had my fingers tied in papers.

Q. Whipped in school?

A. With a ruler, by Mrs. Sickles.

Q. How many blows?

A. Whipped me until she could not whip me any longer; the ruler was all broke to pieces.

Q. What did she do with you?

A. Put papers on my fingers and put me in the basement.

Q. What were the papers for?

A. So I could not write any more.

Q. How long did she keep you in the basement?

A. Four days. (p. 236.) I had one of those bands on my forehead for two days with letters hypocrite on it, because I told another girl she was a hypocrite. (p. 237.)

MISS CORA PAXTON,

one of the teachers in the Alger cottage, gave evidence as to the punishments inflicted while she was there. The following is a brief extract from her testimony. (p. 239.)

Was in Alger cottage. I remember whipping Emma Payne. I passed down the hall to see what the disturbance was; that was my duty, and as I passed the room Mrs. Sickles spoke to me and said take this, and I took the rubber tubing and whipped her twice. She had only her night robe on. I heard her begging; after that I struck her two blows at the request of Mrs. Sickles. (p. 242.) On the whole the punishments were cruel. A woman with a human heart could control these girls without whipping them. I think Mrs. Sickles was very kind at times and at other times very unkind. (p. 244.) The rubber tubing was about the size of my finger.

Q. On the whole, what would you say as to the punishment and treatment of the children in the school?

A. On the whole, I think it is cruel. I should say two-thirds of the punishments have been unjust. (p. 245.)

I left the Adrian school because I had a position offered me in Lansing. (p. 246.) I saw girls with the "scarlet letter" method of punishment for stealing out of the pantry. I had one girl in school two days with a white band over her mouth; she could not talk; court plaster kept her lips together. I think she had persisted in breaking her silence.

Q. Her mouth was closed; how long did that continue?

A. She was in school two days with that. (p. 249.)

Miss Paxton, as shown by her testimony, was not a discharged employe, but resigned of her own free will to accept a position in Lansing public schools, and left with the best of feeling towards superintendent and institution.

MISS DORA RADCLIFFE, is one of the teachers, and has been connected with the institution for several years. She also testified upon this point, and your committee herewith submit brief extracts of her testimony: (p. 252.)

Q. You recollect at one time of Mrs. Sickles' telephoning you that the board was coming down?

A. She telephoned me that two gentlemen, I think a committee, were to visit the school. Miss Osterhout called me to the telephone. She telephoned that these men were going to visit the school, and she said if they ask you if the girls at Croswell are present, say that they are all in school; and I said, "Why, Mrs. Sickles, but they are not."

Q. How many were in school?

A. Only fourteen. And she said in emphatic language, I am giving orders, and I expect you to obey me without comment; and I told her I would not lie for anyone; and she said if you expect to stay at this institution you will obey orders without comment or asking the reasons; and the result was when the men came they did not come to my room, so I did not have the opportunity of telling them. Mrs. Sickles afterwards put in evidence what she termed a statement, showing Miss Radcliffe's scholars were all or nearly all present in school during the time she (Miss Radcliffe) claims that only fourteen girls were in school, but that Miss Radcliffe's statement was that only 14 girls were in school from a certain cottage during the time, each school being made of girls from different cottages. Miss Osterhout and I made the statement and sent it to them.

Q. (By Mr. Stearns, Mrs. Sickles' counsel): Was that statement published?

A. I believe it was; I believe you sent it to the Detroit papers.

Q. Do you know of anyone whose mind was affected by this confinement? (p. 263.)

A. I think Carrie Forbes of Clark cottage was as near crazy as any girl ever was.

Q. What for? What was her offense?

A. As near as I can remember, it was some trivial offense, as upsetting dish water. (p. 264.)

Q. What have you heard as to punishments?

A. Heard screams from cottages; girls told me about it the next morning, and after that for three or four nights, more than that, perhaps five nights we heard screaming from that cottage (p. 269) for ten minutes at a time.

MISS JESSIE NOYES'

testimony, page 270. Was an inmate from October, '93, to January, '98—five years. Her testimony is voluminous, but the committee gives herewith a brief extract from it, quoting it, as it is only in this way that the effect can be obtained. (p. 270.)

Was in the home from October, 1893, to June, 1898, five years. (p. 270.) Been punished for planning to run away with other girls. Only talked it over. Once I said to Mrs. Sickles that I did not think it right to get a girl ready to send out without letting her know about it, and she knocked me over on the stairs and said, "Get out, you dog, and don't show yourself to me again today." (p. 278.) Was shut up once three weeks and three days on the first floor of Central cottage for breaking silence. (278.) I know of the dungeon room in Central cottage in the basement. (280.) Ella Logan was put in there I think about ten days. I went once with the officers and carried a lantern and took her meals to her.

Q. When you came out from three weeks and three days confinement what was your condition?

A. I staggered around. I knew a girl by the name of Emma Payne; she was a very troublesome girl and was whipped, I think she refused to work.

Q. What did you see of her condition?

A. She came into the study room. (p. 281.)

Q. What did she have on?

A. Night robe.

Q. What condition was that in?

A. It was stained from blood.

Q. Did Mrs. Sickles have anything to say about the whipping?

A. Mrs. Sickles said if she was not ready she would take her to the basement and finish up with her. (p. 282.) Knew Nellie Phillips. She was whipped with a ruler, whipped her on her hands. Her hand was in a sling about two weeks. (p. 283.) She exchanged notes with a girl. (p. 284.)

Knew of Nettie Van Camp being whipped by Miss Burgess. (p. 284.) Made her take off her clothing and put on her nightdress. I heard her crying and begging Miss Burgess to stop whipping her, and heard the blows.

Q. How many blows?

A. I should think may be fifteen.

Q. What had she done?

A. Some misdemeanor in the laundry, I think she and some other girls had been kicking, see how high they could kick. Know of the wearing of bands marked "liar" and "silence." (p. 285.)

EDITH OAKES'

was relief officer for a year. (p. 290.) She went to the home in November, 1896, and left in September, 1898. Your committee herewith submits brief extracts from her testimony, showing the condition of things generally, especially the circumstances attendant on the death of Arabella Ecktenaw. This was a girl subject to epileptic fits, as the testimony shows, and on this point is uncontradicted, and that she was in the habit of biting herself, eating spiders and frogs and snapping at the girls and teachers. She was a poor, weak person. One morning, the morning of her death, she was given three strokes with the hose by Mrs. Sickles, the circumstances of which will appear in the testimony and then at night was ordered into a hot bath. Whether that bath was administered as a matter of punishment or for medicinal purposes your committee will leave your honorable body to decide from the evidence. She dies immediately after being taken from the bath, becoming unconscious before she was taken from the bath, and upon her body was found certain bruises, which the testimony will reveal. Miss Edith Oakes testifies on this point. (p. 290.)

Was relief officer a year and regular officer more than a year. Went there November, 1896, and left in September, 1898.

Know of the whipping of Martha Sephas in the reflection room (p. 296), by Miss Merriman. Gave her about twenty-five blows, heard the girl scream. (p. 297.) Said I won't do this, I won't do that.

Q. Did she quit whipping her then?

A. No, sir. I helped hold the girl while Miss Merriman whipped her. (p. 300.) Raised her clothing above her waist, had on only thin cotton drawers. (p. 301.) Blows were not struck gently, violently. Should judge Miss Merriman was angry. (p. 301.)

Now then as to Anabelle Ecktenaw's death, helped give her bath the night she died. (p. 302.)

Q. What was said by Miss Merriman to Annabelle?

A. Why, I don't remember. I think she made some such remark as this, that she ought—whether she would do as she was told to do, and she should be careful of her actions.

Q. Before she was put in the bath she said this?

A. She was in the bath when I went in.

Q. What did Annabelle say then?

A. She said that she had not done anything, and did not see why she should be given a call from Mrs. Sickles. I think she said once that she thought Miss Merriman was going to heat it enough to scald her (p. 303.) The water was in the tub and it is heated by steam.

Q. When she made this remark were the pipes shut off?

A. No, sir.

Q. How long was she in the bath?

A. About twenty minutes I should think.

Q. Notice any change in her looks?

A. I did in just a few minutes, then I went to the telephone. She became rigid, and became very white.

Q. When you got back where was Annabelle?

A. She was out of the tub on the floor.

Q. Was she standing up?

A. No, she was senseless.

Q. Lying on the floor?

A. Yes, sir. (p. 304.)

Q. How long did she live?

A. I don't know, not more than fifteen or twenty minutes.

Q. Was a doctor sent for?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was she alive when he arrived?

A. I don't know.

Q. Did Mrs. Sickles come?

A. She did.

Q. Say anything?

A. She spoke to her and tried to get her to speak to her.

Q. What did she say to her?

A. She would simply call her name and say can't you speak, and then she sent us for different things that she wished—whisky, stimulants and the doctor.

Q. Any stimulants given to Annabelle?

A. They injected morphine. (p. 305.) This water was turned on and heated just a very little when I went in, just a luke warm, and the girl was in the tub. She was left in and the steam was turned on.

Q. How long was the steam left on after that?

A. I think about fifteen minutes.

Q. (By Mr. Worden.) Did you understand that this bath was given to quiet her nerves so she could sleep?

A. Nothing was said about it, but I judge it was given as a sort of punishment. (p. 316.)

Q. You understand this putting in the bath was a punishment for impertinence?

A. Nothing was said about it, but I should judge so.

Q. From what Miss Merriman said you should judge it was given as a punishment?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And not as a sanitary means of quieting her nerves?

A. Not altogether—no, sir.

Q. When you put your hand in the water you did not put it near the steam pipes?

A. Not at the bottom.

Q. Not where her feet would be?

A. No, sir.

Q. How near would her feet be to that steam pipe?

A. Not more than an inch or two.

Q. Could you tell from where you put your hand how hot the water was an inch from the steam pipes?

A. No, sir.

Q. When did you put your hand in?

A. Nearly all the time, perhaps for ten minutes. (p. 318.)

A coroner's inquest was held at that time. Miss Merriman is still in the institution, and manager of a cottage at the present time.

Your committee desires to say that after finishing the testimony they went to the bath room where this girl took her bath, and Miss Merriman, the woman who gave the bath, was present. We made the following test: At the request of the committee Mrs. Merriman filled the tub with the same quantity of water in which the Ecktenaw girl was immersed, turned the steam into it and when it was lukewarm she turned the steam off. This was the temperature, Mrs. Merriman said, of the water when Arabella Ecktenaw was put in the tub for her bath. Your committee desires to explain the method of heating the water in this bath tub: At the foot of the tub a steam pipe enters, projecting into it about six inches. When hot water is desired the steam is turned on, and as the steam enters the tub it escapes in the water heating it very rapidly. While the water was at the temperature which Mrs. Merriman said was the temperature when the Ecktenaw girl was put in, your committee placed a thermometer into the tub and turned on the steam. In sixty seconds the temperature had risen to 110, and in 55 seconds more it had risen to 125, so hot that no one could bear their hand in the tub without danger.

Your committee had before them Miss Engeline Render, a brief abstract of whose testimony is here given. This was the girl who was whipped in the kitchen for saying she would like to smash Miss Hawkins' face. (p. 319.)

Went to the Home May 8th, 1892. Thirteen years old. Came from St. Claire. Was whipped October 24, 1894. I was in the kitchen washing dishes. (p. 322.) In Honor cottage, Miss Hawkins was there.

Q. What trouble did you have, if any, with Miss Hawkins?

A. It was dinner time and I wanted one of the girls to help me wash the dishes, and Miss Hawkins would not let her and it made me angry, and I said I would like to smash her face. Miss Wood reported to Mrs. Sickles and she sent me to my room.

Q. After you had been there all the afternoon what took place?

A. Mrs. Sickles came and Miss Wood took me down stairs. (p. 322.)

Q. Into the kitchen?

A. Yes, sir. I had on a long sleeve apron and cotton flannel under waist and a skirt, and underskirt.

Q. You say an apron, does that go around the whole body, sort of a dress?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did Mrs. Sickles say then?

A. Told me to take off my apron.

Q. Did you?

A. I did.

Q. That really was your dress?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you have on then?

A. Cotton flannel underwaist. Mrs. Sickles tore it off. Just on my back.

Q. Your back was bare?

- A. Yes, sir. From neck to the waist.
- Q. What did Mrs. Sickles say then to Miss Hawkins?
- A. Told her to whip me. She whipped me, with a rubber hose as big as my finger.
- Q. How many coils?
- A. It made eight when it was doubled. (p. 324.)
- Q. How long were the coils?
- A. About a foot long.
- Q. How many blows?
- A. About a dozen.
- Q. Did she stop then?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. What was said then?
- A. Mrs. Sickles told her to go on and whip me.
- Q. Did she go on and whip you?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. In the same way?
- A. Yes, sir, about a dozen more.
- Q. Were you standing up?
- A. Yes, sir. Then she stopped and Mrs. Sickles told her to go and whip me until I tell you to stop.
- Q. Did she?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. About as many more?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Did Mrs. Sickles tell her to stop?
- A. I think she did.
- Q. Where were those blows?
- A. The back and neck.
- Q. Above the waist on your bare skin?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. What then happened after Miss Hawkins had given you the third installment of ten or a dozen blows?
- A. Mrs. Sickles whipped me.
- Q. How many blows?
- A. About a dozen.
- Q. Take the hose?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Light or heavy?
- A. Heavy. (p. 326.) After that Mrs. Sickles slapped my face.
- Q. Tell about the blow in your face?
- A. She slapped me in the face and made my nose bleed.
- Q. Why did she do that?
- A. I don't know. She said she would teach me to be saucy and talk to an officer.
- Q. Notice the blood on the floor?
- A. Yes, sir. (p. 327.)
- Q. Notice it on the apron of Miss Hawkins?
- A. It was Miss Wood.
- Q. Notice it on the sink?
- A. Yes, sir. I was on silence after that until just before Thanksgiving, about a month. (p. 329.)

Q. You went to your room immediately after this whipping?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you look at your back or neck?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was its condition?

A. All black and blue.

Q. Where?

A. From my neck to my waist.

Q. About how many welts were there?

A. I should think there must have been thirty-five or forty.

Q. Was it painful?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was any attention paid to you?

A. No, sir.

Q. How long did these black and blue marks remain there?

A. They were there for over a month. (p. 329.) I was never whipped before or after.

Q. And your only offense was you said out of Miss Hawkins' presence, you would like to smash her old face?

A. Yes, sir, that is all I did. (p. 330.)

Mr. Cheever:—I will read from page 207 of the punishment book under date of September 26, 1895. Mrs. Sickles handwriting: "I struck Angeline Render for saying she wanted to trounce Miss Hawkins, and would if the girls would help. I told Angeline I would do all the trouncing in that kitchen at any time it was needed. I would be ready without any of her assistance. She was very impertinent to all the officers. Put her on silence. That is all the record.

Cottage punishment book, Miss Wood's writing. (p. 54.)

MRS. SEVEY'S TESTIMONY. (READING.)

"October 24, 1895, Angeline Render naughty about doing her work, was reported by housekeeper, Miss Hawkins, and reported to manager before dinner. After dinner, being refused help, was saucy. Miss Hawkins left the room to reprove Lillie Clark, when Lula reported by signs what Miss Hawkins was doing. Angeline said I wish I could smash her old face for her. Sent her to her room until after school, then Mrs. Sickles came over, found Lillie Clark and Lillie Owen discussing the affair, sent them into the kitchen. After boxing Lillie Clark for impertinence, Miss Hawkins took the rubber tube and whipped Angeline. Mrs. Sickles then whipped her severely. Was put on silence for a month. Mrs. Sickles then whipped both Lillies over the shoulder and put them on silence for a month."

BESSIE FORCE

was one of the girls claimed to have been cruelly whipped in administration building, with tubing and trunk strap. Mrs. Babcock, manager of the cottage from which Bessie came, witnessed the punishment. Her testimony on this point is as follows:

MRS. HELEN BABCOCK. (P. 337.)

Live in Bay City. Was in Adrian School from February, 1896, until April, 1898, two years. Relief officer part of the time, housekeeper in Clark cottage nearly a year.

I know Bessie Force, was in Honor cottage, she was punished some time in October or September, 1897, had been impertinent. Would not answer the housekeeper. Monday I telephoned that she was very penitent and she told me to bring the punishment book and Bessie to the Administration building. (p. 340.) Bessie had on a long sleeve apron and she took her handkerchief out of her pocket and began to cry, and Mrs. Sickles said, "You stop your crying, but you will cry before I get through with you; I am going to whip every bit of this out of you." She told her to take her apron off. (p. 342.)

Q. That is her dress?

A. Yes, sir. Mrs. Sickles tore her knit vest down about eight or ten inches, exposed her back half way down, and her shoulders.

Q. What did she whip her with?

A. The small hose. (p. 343.)

Q. Where did she strike her?

A. On her neck and shoulder.

Q. On the bare skin?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many blows?

A. I should say twenty-five or thirty.

Q. Hear anything else?

A. Mrs. Sickles says, "Why don't you cry now you have a chance to cry?" and Bessie said, "I can't cry," and she told Bessie to roll up her sleeves and she whipped her on her hands and arms.

Q. How many blows?

A. I didn't count them.

Q. As near as you can tell?

A. I should think a dozen, and Bessie was saying to Mrs. Sickles, "I cannot cry," and she said, "You will cry before I get through with you, I will kill you," and she said, "You take your drawers off," and Bessie took her drawers off.

Q. Did you notice the skin on the back?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Leave any welts?

A. Raised in white ridges.

Q. How many?

A. I did not count them, every blow she struck would leave one.

Q. How many coils were there, how many would strike at a time?

A. Every one that struck would leave a mark. (p. 344.)

Q. How many?

A. I should say four or five.

Q. With every blow four or five would strike her body?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What happened after Bessie took off her drawers?

A. Mrs. Sickles left the room—

Q. What did she bring back?

A. She brought back a trunk strap.

Q. How large?

A. I should say an inch and a quarter wide, a good, solid trunk strap.

Q. Had Bessie taken off her drawers?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What then had Bessie left on her body?

A. She had a skirt on and a dress skirt, and Mrs. Sickles told her to lay on the couch and she raised her clothes, I turned my back on it, I did not see the girl after she was bending over, I turned and looked out of the window. I could not see it.

Q. How many blows did she give her?

A. I counted the blows, and she struck her ten times very deliberately. (p. 345.) The girl was lying on the lounge, and every blow Bessie would say, "Mrs. Sickles, you will kill me, I cannot cry," and she didn't cry. Mrs. Sickles said she was putting it all on. The girl was as white as a sheet and trembling all over.

Remembers the whipping of Carrie Forbes in December, 1896. She had said in the presence of one of the girls that Miss Worth made her sick. Carrie was in bed with a nightdress on.

Q. What did she whip her with?

A. With a rubber tube three-fourths inch.

Q. Not the small tube?

A. No, sir.

Q. How many blows?

A. If I should guess I should think about seventy-five. (p. 348.) From her head to her feet.

Q. What did Carrie do?

A. She was crying and begging.

Q. Scream?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did she say to Mrs. Sickles?

A. She begged her not to, and Mrs. Sickles said she would whip all the old Carrie Forbes out of her, and Carrie said she would be good and begged of her to stop.

Q. Did she stop?

A. Not until she got through.

I remember the whipping of the girls who planned to run away. (p. 350.) When I went into the parlor one of the girls was being whipped. The girl had her nightdress on.

Q. What was she whipped with?

A. Rubber tube, about a three-quarter inch rubber tube. I should think she was struck twenty-five or thirty.

Q. In what position was she?

A. In a high back chair with her hands over the back of the chair and Mrs. Sickles was whipping her over the shoulders.

Q. Severe blows?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. She cry?

A. Yes, sir. (p. 351.) Six were whipped in that way. (p. 351.) I think four girls were whipped twenty-five or thirty blows, but Stella Bermie and Mary McCourt I counted the blows, and they were whipped thirty blows, each. (p. 352.)

Q. From what you know or have heard from the officers, or Mrs. Sickles, or seen there what is your opinion as to hot baths being given as a punishment?

A. Very likely.

Q. Were they given as a punishment?

A. Yes, sir. (p. 353.)

Q. What was the reason of your leaving?

A. I had handed in my resignation about a year before then and intended to leave, in fact I was on the grounds longer than I expected to be and I left because I wanted to go.

Q. Did Mrs. Sickles say anything to you about leaving?

A. She asked me for more than a month to supply for other teachers.

Q. You did not leave on account of any trouble with her?

A. No, sir. (p. 356.)

Q. (By Mr. Stearns, counsel for Mrs. Sickles) In the matter of the punishment of the girl you spoke of, I desire to have you state positively whether you know the girl had her drawers off?

A. I saw her drawers lying in the corner of the room.

Q. And you are positive that she used a trunk strap?

A. Yes, sir. (p. 357.)

I saw Mrs. Sickles go to Theresa Morressy's room and go in and heard the girl scream and cry.

Q. How many blows?

A. Perhaps twenty.

Q. What for?

A. I can't remember now. (p. 364.) Then she went down the hall to where Mart Brigham was and I heard about the same number of blows. (p. 365.)

As to the punishment of the Render girl in the kitchen, Miss Hawkins, the teacher who assisted in inflicting that punishment, and of whom the Render girl said, "I would like to smash her face," testified as follows:

Went to the home in July, 1895, stayed about a year. Was housekeeper in Honor cottage. Know Angeline Render. (p. 367.)

Q. Remember an occasion when she received a whipping from your hands and also the hands of Mrs. Sickles?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. For what was that whipping?

A. They told me that she said that she would like to smash my face, I didn't hear it.

Q. What was the next you heard about that?

A. Mrs. Sickles sent for me to come to the manager's room in the afternoon and she told me of it herself.

Q. What took place?

A. She said I must punish the girl, and I said I didn't think I ought to do it. The girl stepped into the room and she cuffed her on one side and then the other with her hand and perhaps half a dozen times, and there was blood running from her nose.

Q. Knock her nearly insensible?

A. Yes, sir. It was hard enough for a man, and then she handed me the hose and said I was to whip her.

Q. What did she have on? (p. 32.) (p. 369.)

A. She had on a thin underwaist, a calico waist simply.

Q. Had no dress?

A. Yes, sir, had her dress on.

Q. What took place then?

A. She wanted me to whip her, and of course I struck her perhaps six or eight blows.

Q. With what?

A. A hose. I presume eight or ten times, then I quit, and she said that wasn't half enough, and I gave her more; I was afraid of losing my place, and against my will I struck her as much more, and she took the hose from my hands and told her to take off her waist and she pounded her about three times as much as I had done.

Q. What did she have on then?

A. Just a cotton waist.

Q. Did she tear that down the back?

A. I think she did.

Q. How many times did she strike her?

A. I didn't keep count, but she probably whipped her three times as much as I did.

Q. Blood run down the face?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was Mrs. Sickles angry at that time?

A. Very much so.

Q. She allowed her passion to overcome her judgment somewhat?

A. I should say she did.

Q. What condition was the girl in after that? Notice her back after that?

A. It looked like a piece of beef would.

Q. (By Mr. Stearns.) Are you sure about the time she struck the girl in the face whether it was before or after her whipping?

A. I know she struck her just as soon as she stepped into the room, for she stood very close to the door.

Q. Who knows best about that—you or Miss Render?

A. I am positive.

Q. You know it and she doesn't.

A. She was knocked to that extent that she probably doesn't know what she was doing. (p. 375.)

The teachers talked some among themselves, said they wished I would see the Governor and expose the manager there.

Q. Several of the teachers and managers told you that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did they say?

A. That they thought it was very poor management and very cruel and ought to be known.

Q. Treatment of the children?

A. Yes, sir. (p. 381.)

• MISS LILLIE J. SMITH (P. 388)

testified as to certain punishment inflicted on her:

Was an inmate of the Industrial School from October 27, 1891, to 1897 or 8.

I myself was kept on bread and water, I think it was about the number of fifty days.

Q. What was the offense?

A. I don't know. I was in the basement in Clark cottage in the strong room. (p. 389.) Had two slices of bread and a cup of water for each meal, same for breakfast. (p. 390.) Thanksgiving day I had my Thanksgiving dinner.

Q. Did you have any light allowed you in the room?

A. We were allowed all the light that would come in.

Q. In the night?

A. No, we were never allowed a light of any kind. (p. 393.)

I was in the basement three weeks, if not longer. p. 394.)

Q. Did you ever see any of them with court plaster on their mouths, strips of court plaster?

A. Yes, sir; I saw one, a little girl from Palmer, a girl by the name of Mattie Beamer.

Q. How old was she?

A. Between 10 and 12 years old.

Miss Minnie Osterhout was five years housekeeper at the Croswell cottage from 1888. Her testimony relates especially to the whipping of the four girls in the parlor by Mrs. Sickles for planning to run away. Also bears upon keeping the diseased girls in the cottage against her protest and complaint, and her discharge was made on account of such protest. Her testimony is as follows:

MISS MINNIE OSTERHOUT. (P. 406.)

Five years housekeeper in Croswell cottage, from 1888. (p. 406.) Know of the four girls planning to run away. Punished in the girls' parlor. Laid over two chairs. Mrs. Sickles whipped them with tubing.

Q. How many blows?

A. I counted from 25 to 30. Struck them very violently; the girls begged and cried as soon as she began to whip them. (p. 411.)

Q. Did you see her body?

A. I did one girl. Minnie Ransom.

Q. How soon after punishment?

A. An hour.

Q. What was its condition?

A. Like raw beef. Could not say how many welts there were on the body. Other girls were punished about the same. (p. 412.) Other girls were punished in their rooms, with the tubing. Perhaps two or three a week, and perhaps several weeks would pass without a punishment. They were put across the bed in their nightdress. (p. 413.) Have seen eight or ten girls whipped in their bed rooms on their beds. a week, and perhaps several weeks would pass without a punishment.

A. Yes, sir; some of them.

Q. How many?

A. Three or four.

Q. What was their condition?

A. Pretty well striped.

Q. Swollen badly?

A. Yes, sir. (p. 414.) Have known of the paddling of the girls.

Q. Ever hear whippings in the other cottages?

A. Oh, yes, sir.

Q. Hear the girls cry and hear the blows in other cottages?

A. I have heard it. Have known girls to be put in the strong room from eleven to fourteen days; kept on bread and water.

Q. What are they placed in there for?

A. A great many were placed in there for being returned from families where they have been taken out. Sometimes had a warm breakfast.

Q. Do you know of their being shut up in their own rooms?

A. Yes, sir; for thirty days, and kept on bread and water. For disobedience, or perhaps their work was not satisfactory. Sometimes for using improper talk. (p. 417.)

Q. Do you know of their wearing bandages over the forehead?

A. Yes, sir; saw two dozen, probably.

Q. See surgeons' plaster over the mouth?

A. Yes, sir. (p. 418.) I was told to resign by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Bliss and Mrs. Metcalf, members of the board. I asked the board why I was to resign. Said I was complaining about the diseased girls. (p. 419.)

Q. What was the disease?

A. The doctor pronounced it syphilis. The odor was dreadful. Penetrated the house. Many were made sick by it. The hands of the girl were in a matterated condition. (p. 420.)

Q. Do you know of girls being shut in the strong room?

A. Yes, sir; known of girls being in the strong room from eleven to fourteen days. I thought the punishment was too severe, but did not report it because I knew better. I could not have stayed. (p. 429.) Told Mr. Stearns about the diseased girls.

Q. What did he say; give his conversation.

A. Said he "guessed the old woman had been there long enough."

Q. To whom did he refer?

A. The superintendent, Mrs. Sickles.

Q. What else did he say?

A. He said it was through him that she was holding her position; said the girls should not be there; said they ought to be sent to the administration building. Told him about the other whippings—the whippings of the other girls.

The counsel for Mrs. Sickles desired to have placed upon the stand certain witnesses, truant officers from different counties, etc., all of whom testified generally to have taken the girls to the home and seeing them many times after they left the home, conversing with them, and they know of no instance of the girls complaining of the punishment inflicted while there. The most of them spoke in the highest praise of Mrs. Sickles, her kindness, etc. These witnesses include

Mr. A. D. Wyman, page 449, truant officer for Bay county.

George S. White, county agent of Jackson county.

J. H. Van Ness, from Ionia county.

J. L. Willets, C. E. Mitchell, Charles W. Whitehead, Benton Harbor. Maude Lena Hatch, county agent under Gov. Winans.

Each of then gave evidence to show of their taking the girls to the home at different times. Had talked with them after; heard no complaints from any of the girls of cruel punishment or harsh treatment. Some of these spoke in the highest terms of Mrs. Sickles and her kindness. Mr. White had been himself a school teacher and has used the rubber tubing as a punishment when teaching school. None of these witnesses, however, claimed to have made any examination of matters at the school for the purpose of investigating any of the charges of unkind or harsh treatment or cruel punishment.

Counsel for Mrs. Sickles introduced Mr. John Hosmer, county agent for Wayne county. A brief extract from his testimony is here given:

MR. JOHN HOSMER. (P. 460.)

County agent. Took girls to the home. Generally the girls sent from Wayne county were beyond control. (pp. 460-461.) Met the girls frequently and talked with them; know of no instance where they made any complaint. Talked with them after they came out. Girls have asked Mrs. Sickles to let them come back. From what I know, the Sickles administration has been the best. (p. 462.) Have seen the girls out a good many times picking flowers and berries. (p. 465.) Had no idea there was such rooms as strong rooms in the basements. My recollection was that the rooms were near the outside wall, with a window to them. (p. 474.) Never heard of the girls being whipped with a paddle or kept on bread and water. (p. 474.)

Q. As a matter of fact, you knew very little about the punishment inflicted?

A. No, sir, I did not. I think it is doubtful whether girls could be taken care of at Adrian without corporal punishment. (p. 476.) Think the complaints come largely from ex-employees, because of the loss of salary. They are malicious. (p. 481.) Think that is so with Mrs. Babcock. (p. 482.) Many of the girls taken to Adrian are prostitutes, and are taken from houses of ill-fame. (p. 486.)

Mrs. Sickles also introduced Mr. Jos. Nicholson, superintendent of House of Correction at Detroit. An extract from his testimony, covering material parts, is herewith submitted. (p. 493.)

Superintendent Detroit House of Correction, and has been for over 20 years. It is harder to rule women than men. (p. 493.)

Q. Do you use corporal punishment on women?

A. Never.

Q. Never have to punish any of those bad women or girls?

A. No, sir.

Q. Never have to confine them?

A. Take their ears and lead them around a little while.

Q. You shut them up in close rooms?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sometimes have to keep them on bread and water? (p. 494.)

A. Yes, sir; for a day or two. When they say they won't do it again, they are let out. I would not take any account of an inmate saying would like to smash my face. (p. 499.) I think the punishment testified to here would be very improper, cruel and brutal. (p. 501.)

By Mr. Stearns:

Q. Suppose the girl refused to become obedient, and the punishment ceased at the time the girl became obedient, and the punishment did not show anything more than discolorations, and the punishment was stopped the moment she consented to behave and be obedient?

A. I think that kind of punishment, that character of punishment, can have nothing but a brutal effect on the punisher and those who are punished. (p. 502.)

Counsel for Mrs. Sickles introduced a letter from Ida Spencer, in which the girl begged Mrs. Sickles to let her come back to the home, saying that she found there were worse places than the home, though she thought it was pretty bad when she was there; had no worldly temptations to face when she was there. (p. 505.)

Counsel for Mrs. Sickles also called Dr. Charles O'Reilly, vol. 2, page 119, who testified that he had never heard of any cruelty in the institution.

Sarah Deeney, who testified, vol. 2, page 155, generally the girls liked Mrs. Sickles. Never heard of any cruelty.

J. R. Bennett, vol. 2, page 178, county agent at Adrian. Never heard any complaint against Mrs. Sickles.

Committee called before them Mrs. A. H. Smith, one of the members of the local board, page 137, vol. 2, who gave evidence as to the duties of the board, the discharge of these duties, and she testified she understood that the superintendent had entire charge of the school, page 138, subject to the supervision of the board when any difficulty occurred, and then it was referred to the Board of Corrections and Charities, page 139, vol. 2.

That she visited each cottage every month; been through the cottages carefully, and knew of the strong rooms, page 141, vol. 2. There was a girl in one of them. She thought that she was familiar with the modes of punishment in the schools, as a member of the board and in the strong room (refectory room), and about using the rubber tubing, and about the bands worn around the mouths of the inmates, never heard of using surgeons' plaster, nor of the handcuffs, page 142, vol. 2.

Never heard of the girls being confined in the strong room for a month, page 143. She did not approve of this confinement; preferred whipping, but found others who preferred confinement.

On examination by Mr. Stearns, page 145, she thought that the attitude of the children toward Mrs. Sickles, she was regarded in the light of a mother. They often said they wanted to see her so much; was lonely without her. They seemed to love Mrs. Sickles so much. She thought Mrs. Sickles well fitted for the place. Never heard of cruelty or insubordination (p. 145). That the Home was not in a state of insubordination. She said that it was very well managed.

On redirect examination, by Mr. Cheever, she testified as follows:

Q. Were you ever present at Mrs. Sickles' punishments.

A. No, sir; I have not?

Q. Do you know of any of the punishments having been inflicted?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Of your own knowledge?

A. Only by the punishment book. I never have been present.

Q. From your own knowledge you know nothing of the severity of the punishment?

A. I never saw them; no, sir.

Witness was then asked:

Supposing the case of the girl who was whipped in the laundry because she said she would like to slap Mrs. Hawkins' old face, as to whether, if the girl's testimony is true, Mrs. Sickles is competent to be at the head of that institution, pages 148-9. Witness declined to give an opinion. She was also asked: As to the girl, when held by a man and woman, and she refused to give an opinion on that, pages. 149-50.

Also the case of the girl being whipped in the administration building, according to the girl's story, and she declined to give an opinion upon that. (p. 153.)

Q. Have you any personal knowledge relative to the punishment of the inmates at all?

Q: No, sir; I have not seen, I have looked over the punishment books.

Q. You do not form an opinion as to that by taking in your account at all any action of hers in giving punishment?

A. I suppose I do.

Q. You say you do not know anything about it, you decline to give your opinion?

A. I decline to suppose the case, I prefer not to.

Q. Isn't a personal regard for Mrs. Sickles?

A. I have a personal regard for her, yes.

Q. Isn't it your personal regard for Mrs. Sickles that you decline to take these elements into account in giving your opinion?

A. I don't think it is.

Q. Why then should you hesitate to give an opinion if it isn't personal regard?

A. I don't know really as I really care.

Q. You have examined the punishment books? Did you not see in the punishment book several times, giving an account of the girls and their doings, and threatening them with hot baths, have you seen that?

A. I should say that I had. I did not regard it as a punishment because I remembered the physician telling us there are several girls here that had nervous attacks, and the physician said one of them was in the habit of howling and screaming and that if you put her in a warm bath she would stop. I have always supposed that it referred to that for medicinal purposes. Vol. 2, page 154.

Q. Why was the word "threatened" used, why was it?

A. Because I had heard it recommended, and it occurred to me that it was for medicinal purposes, and I never thought of it as a punishment at all.

Q. You would not expect to see anything like that in a punishment book?

A. No, sir; I would not.

Q. You would not expect to see a hot bath given as a remedy in that book?

A. I don't remember that I did, I don't believe——

Q. If you did find the words "hot bath" would you thought it was a punishment?

A. Yes, sir; I think so. I don't remember of seeing it. I didn't notice it, we go over those very hastily.

MISS MARY CURTIS, IN CHARGE OF THE LAUNDRY, TESTIFIED. (P. 194.)

As to the punishment of Grace Wheeler for throwing a cup of water in the manager's face; that she was confined in the strong room five days and was then punished in that room, the witness assisting Mrs. Sickles:

that the witness held her, assisted by Miss Burgess; that she was whipped with the large sized rubber tubing, and received 15 blows on her shoulders and hips; that she promised to be good and Mrs. Sickles then stopped whipping.

The committee placed on the stand Grace Albion, (page 193), whose testimony referred to solitary confinement and the Echtinaw girl's death, as she was near the bath room door at the time and heard her protest when in the bath.

GRACE ALBION (P. 193)

was an inmate of the Adrian home at one time, 1895. Was punished because she went down stairs. Had a pail of water and went down stairs to empty it, and jumped over a girl's head on the back porch; sent to my room; took on so was ordered a hot bath (p. 195); shut in my room and put on silence (p. 196.) Knew of the Echtinaw girl's death; my room was near the bath room (p. 199.) I heard Annabelle when she had her bath; heard her holler or yell.

Q. What did she say?

A. "I am burning! burning!" that is all that I could hear. Heard of her death in the morning. When I was given the bath I told them I didn't want to go in, and the water was warm.

Q. After you got in you say the water was warm?

A. Just a little warm.

Q. Was it any warmer after that?

A. It kept getting warmer, warmer, and warmer. I hollered, screamed and yelled.

Q. Did you try to get out?

A. I tried to get out, but I couldn't.

Q. Why couldn't you? (p. 203.)

A. They was holding me down in there.

Q. Who?

A. Miss Wiggins and Mrs. Sickles and Miss Merriam. Miss Wiggins would hold my feet down, and Mrs. Sickles would hold me down here, and Miss Merriam would—

Q. Bathe your head in the water?

A. Yes.

Q. Did it get hot?

A. Yes, sir; they turned the steam on. Miss Merriam did. I kept telling them it is getting hotter, and they would turn a little hot on; it was awfully hot. (p. 204.)

Q. Did it burn you?

A. Yes, sir; it made me so dizzy when I came out; didn't know anything; felt so quite awhile.

Evidence was introduced to show that she was sent to the insane asylum at Kalamazoo, but returned in six week, and declared not insane. (p. 205.)

Mrs. A. M. Bliss, one of the local boards of managers, gave evidence as to the methods of the board, and their knowledge of the penalties inflicted under the manager, Mrs. Sickles. (p. 210.) Member of the local board. Said she visited the home once a month. (p. 213.) Never heard any complaint from the girls about Mrs. Sickles. Generally got to the meetings about 2 o'clock; staid over night; went to the cottage with Mrs. Sickles. (p. 217.) Sometimes went alone; didn't talk particularly with any of the girls; addressed them in a body; perhaps in one or two instances I did; Mrs. Sickles was present; the girls admitted planning to run away; said they were whipped.

Q. How many blows did they tell you they received?

A. There was some that didn't count, and some did, but all seemed to take it as a matter of course.

Q. How many blows did they tell you as near as you can, that they received?

A. I judge about 25 or 30; some received 25, some didn't count. (p. 224.) Admitted they had planned to run away; did not exactly know what plan they had formed; made no investigation into the Echtnaw girl's death, except to question the managers. (p. 226.)

Q. Was your attention called to the punishment of Angeline Render, one of the children—what her offense was?

A. No, I understood it was language too foul to repeat.

Q. Who gave you to understand it was language too foul to repeat?

A. I think the superintendent.

Q. Mrs. Sickles?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she give you the language?

A. No, sir.

Q. She told you it was too foul to repeat?

A. Yes.

Q. Why didn't she give it to you?

A. I didn't wish to hear it.

Q. Did you find out at that time as a member of the Board of Control from anybody else, what the language was that was used? (p. 230.)

A. I didn't. I never wished to hear it. (p. 231.)

Q. You took Mrs. Sickles statement of the language used by Angeline Render that it was too foul to repeat?

A. Yes.

Q. You were satisfied with it were you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Didn't you consider it your duty as a member of the board to investigate and see what that was?

A. I didn't.

Q. You were told by Mrs. Sickles what the punishment was that was inflicted?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she tell you she had the girl take off her apron?

A. For that offense she was slapped on the face, and she hit her nose and made it bleed.

Q. Did she tell you that was all the punishment she gave her?

A. No, sir, for that offense.

Q. For that offense did she tell you that was all the punishment she gave her?

A. No, sir.

Q. You stated for that offense she slapped her on the face?

A. She was taken in charge and punished for all the offenses at once. A punishment is not inflicted for any special offense, it is for a continuation of offenses.

Q. Let me understand you, I don't quite get it. I understood you to say, Mrs. Sickles told you that her offense was for using language too vile, and too foul to repeat, that was one?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. For that offense she slapped her face and made her nose bleed?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You understood that was the punishment for that offense and nothing else?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You understood the other punishment in the kitchen with the hose, was for an accumulation of past offenses?

A. No, sir, it was for what she had said about the manager.

Q. You have just said it was for an accumulation of past offenses?

A. I say in a general way when a girl was punished it was when a girl had been bad for more than once. (p. 232.)

Q. Who told you that?

A. I didn't ask any one.

Q. Why do you say it, then, if no one told you?

A. That was the general understanding.

Q. Why didn't you want to know what the foul language was?

A. I don't know; I suppose a woman's feelings on the subject; I am not familiar with such language.

Q. Did you consider your womanly feelings and delicacy a sufficient excuse for you as an official to decline to hear that language to ascertain whether the punishment was proper or not—proper and meet for that offense or not? (pages 233-234.)

A. I never examined into the details or ferreted it out to know whether the offense was proper or not; there was no complaint made.

Q. I mean this; do you consider your womanly feelings and delicacy under all the circumstances a sufficient excuse for you, as an official person, and officer of this board, whose duty it was to investigate, whether it was a sufficient excuse for you to decline to hear that language to ascertain whether the punishment was proper and meet for that offense or not?

A. I consider it a sufficient excuse in this case, I do.

Q. Then you consider your own personal feelings sufficient in any case to prevent an investigation into the details of an offense, when those details are such that, as a woman, you do not desire to hear it?

A. I do not consider it so.

Q. Why did you, then, in the Angeline Render case?

A. Because, perhaps. I shan't say in that particular instance it was, and it didn't require consideration. In my opinion the superintendent should be the judge and the executioner.

Q. What was there peculiar about that case that rendered it different from any other case?

A. The offense and its instant punishment.

Q. You didn't know the details of the offense?

A. Why should I?

O. That is for you to say.

A. Do you think I should?

Q. I do. I think as a member of the board charged with the duty of seeing that proper discipline is kept and charged with seeing whether punishment is too great or not?

A. I don't regard it so, because the punishment was immediate and the offense demanded it.

Q. You say in that instance you didn't regard it so, because the punishment was immediate. Do you understand that in case of an offense where the punishment was immediately inflicted on the spot you are not in duty bound to inquire into the details of it?

A. I think there is no better answer to such a question as that, than this. I think each case requires different punishment. (p. 236.) I don't think there is any one rule or a rule that is applicable to every case.

Q. Do you mean to say that you didn't inquire into the language used because you thought it was not your duty to inquire into this case because of the fact that the punishment had been inflicted immediately, was that the reason you didn't inquire into the case?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, Mrs. Bliss, you were told by Mrs. Sickles what that whipping was given Angeline Render for?

A. No, sir, I didn't; I wasn't told anything about it—I saw on the punishment books that she had been punished. (p. 236.)

Q. You didn't inquire?

A. No, it had passed from my province; the act had been committed; the punishment had been inflicted, and I didn't know as I could remedy it by going back over it.

EXAMINED BY MR. STEARNS. (P. 240.)

Q. Do you know any other punishment that you can say you investigated as a member of the board?

A. I never investigated this.

Q. I mean, did you know about or hear about it?

A. I never heard or knew this until I heard the girl's testimony.

Q. Did you ever hear of any punishment with paddles?

A. No, sir. Page 240, (Vol. 11).

Q. Did you ever hear of the punishment of court plaster over the mouth?

A. No, sir; have heard of putting bandages on their teeth, etc. Girls very violent. Page 241 (Vol. 11).

Q. Mrs. Bliss, did you ever investigate the offense of Bessie Force? (Page 241.)

A. I have heard of it, yes.

Q. How did you hear of it there?

A. From the punishment book, I guess that's all.

Q. Just from the punishment book?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did Mrs. Sickles say that Bessie Force had done that she was punished? (Page. 242.)

A. I do not remember.

Q. Can't recall?

A. No, sir.

Witness was then asked question as to the deportment of Bessie Force as testified to by Bessie herself and by Mrs. Babcock (pages 242-3). And was asked whether she considered that punishment proper for that offense.

A. I cannot consider that it was true.

Q. I will preface it by saying, supposing you ascertained that was true would you consider it a proper punishment?

A. No, sir.

Q. Would you not consider it an inhuman punishment?

A. Yes, if it was true.

Q. Would you consider a woman that inflicted such punishment as that a fit woman to be at the head of an industrial school for girls?

A. No, sir. (Page 244.)

(Witness then testified that she would take Mrs. Sickles' testimony as to the case, and would take that in preference to Mrs. Babcock's sworn testimony.) (Page 244, Vol. 11.) Page 247.

Q. You said you took the punishment books as evidence and passed upon it. Is this the record you had on page 66 as to the Bessie Force punishment?

A. Yes, sir; that is the record.

Q. Is that not Mrs. Sickles' handwriting?

A. I should think it was.

This punishment book is now introduced as evidence and read as follows: "September 20, 1897. Force, Bessie. Too mean to live in the house with. Put up with her tantrums all summer. Miss H. Manager, came with her to the office. I took the rubber and strapped her shoulders. She only smiled a mean smirk. I then put her across the couch with only drawers on; I strapped her twelve straps."

Mrs. Bliss, did you consider that sufficient without any record of the offense for which the strapping and hosing punishment were given? Did not consider that sufficient for an investigation?

A. It seems to me that the record shows what the offense was. (Vol. 11, page 248.)

(Mrs. Sickles testifies that, although she wrote the word twelve straps, she did not use a trunk strap, but referred to blows given with hose.)

Bessie Force was examined among the list of witnesses, and gave evidence that she was at the time in Adrian from 1894 to 1898; she had been on the "punishment of silence" and had been whipped once. She then testified as follows:

Q. Just go on and tell how that happened, what you did and how you were punished?

A. I was in the pantry that morning; was very busy and I was cooking, and I had biscuits made, and one of the girls asked to speak to me, and I would not speak to her.

Q. From Wednesday noon until Monday morning where were you?

A. In my room.

Q. What did you have to eat?

A. Had my breakfast—regular breakfast in the morning.

Q. The same food all day?

A. Bread and water the rest of the meals. (Page 508.) Monday morning Mrs. Babcock went to Mrs. Sickles and told her that I was too mean to live. Mrs. Sickles, she went to her book, I had been reported a good many times for not behaving, and sometimes disobeying the rules, and of course when a girl would do anything the officer would report to Mrs. Sickles, and she would of course put it in the book, and after awhile if she thought they deserved to be punished, she punished them, and of course as it was, I deserved my punishment. It was not so very hard, what clothes I took off was before——

Q. Who told you to take them off?

A. Mrs. Sickles.

Q. What clothes?

A. My apron and skirt. All I had on was my underclothes.

Q. Was anything done as to your waist?

A. Mrs. Sickles just ripped my waist down a little behind.

Q. How far?

A. I should say about two or three inches.

Q. Then what happened?

A. Then she whipped me.

Q. What position were you in?

A. Kneeling over the sofa.

Q. What did she whip you with?

A. A tube as used in the home to whip girls with.

Q. Do you know how large it was?

A. Maybe as large as my little finger.

Q. Was there more than one strand of it?

A. There were two or three, I don't know just how many.

Q. Where did she whip you?

A. Across the shoulders.

Q. Where the waist was torn down?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Anywhere else?

A. Across my hands.

Q. About how many blows were given you?

A. Ten or twelve.

Q. Did you see anything on your hand or wrist?

A. Just little blue marks. Two or three.

Q. Did you see any on your back?

A. I saw some on the shoulders.

Q. In all, how many blows do you think she hit you?

A. Ten or twelve.

Q. Did she stop and ask you to say whether you were willing to be obedient before she commenced the second time?

A. She said she was going to make me cry, and she struck me two or three more blows after that. She wanted to know if I was going to be a good girl, and I said yes, and after my punishment I went over and talked with her, and she was just as good as any time before.

Q. Could your own mother have treated you any better?

A. No, sir.

Q. Could any girl's mother have treated them any better than she did uniformly?

A. No, sir.

(Witness here testified that Mrs. Sickles treatment was kind; she thanks Mrs. Sickles for bringing her up; if it was not for her words and kindness she would not be the girl she is; she treated all girls alike; kind. Page 513. Girls liked her and took flowers over to her nearly every night; all tried to get there first; she put her arms around them; she would be willing to go back; thought the strong rooms were necessary. Mrs Bliss looked out of the window part of the time while she was being punished. Mrs Sickels did not strike her twenty-five blows and then stop because she would not cry, then give her twenty-five more blows; did not say "I will make you cry or I will kill you." Page 515.)

Q. Then it was not true that she told you to take off your drawers as has been testified to?

A. No, sir, all the clothes I took off was before I kneeled down.

Q. And it was not true that she whipped you with a strap?

A. No, sir.

Q. After that where did you go?

A. Went back to the cottage and done my work and got ready and went to school in the afternoon.

Q. Have you told everthing that took place?

A. I might say that Mrs. Sickles is not to blame and the officers were more to blame than Mrs. Sickels.

Q. What do you mean?

A. When a girl does something wrong the officer, instead of talking to them and making the girls mind, report it to Mrs Sickles and add a little more than it is, and makes it seem worse, and of course you know she is thinking it is the truth and depending on the officers to do what is right, and so when a girl gets so many reports against her, then she thinks they deserve a punishment.

Q. So far as Mrs. Sickels' treatment was concerned, it was kind was it?

A. Yes, sir, took a mother's place.

Q. Before and after this?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About what time was this?

A. I think in February.

Q. Did she turn away and look out of the window when you were being punished?

A. Some of the time she was standing looking out of the window, when I looked at her she was looking out of the window.

Q. Did Mrs Sickles strike you 25 blows and then stop?

A. No, sir, she did not.

Q. Then after you told her you could not cry did she strike you 25 more?

A. No, sir.

MISS JESSIE NOYES

was called and testified that she had come to Mr. Cheever without being called or sent for. She came and asked to see him. Page 521. Vol. 11. Written Mrs. Sickles since she left; adressed her as "My dear Mrs. Sickles. 562. "You have all been so kind to me and I have been so ungrateful, and this thought makes me miserable, and my heart aches for you. Sometimes so I can't stand it, and I just long to come and rest in your arms." Page 523.

MISS PAXSON

was recalled and testified. (Page 537.) She thought that it was possible the home could be governed without the strong room, and at the same time did not know it would be possible.

JOHN L. WILLET, (P. 47); C. E. MITCHELL, (P. 52); CHARLES W. WHITEHEAD, (P. 58); MAUD L. HATCH, (P. 72).

Counsel for Mrs. Sickles also introduced as a witness, George D. Gillespie, an extract of whose testimony, (94) is as follows: Been a member of the State Board of Charities for 22 years, still a member; visited the home and talked to the girls; sometimes the girls have come to see me after they were out; no girl ever claimed that she was unkindly treated or severely whipped. (p. 95.) Mrs. Babcock complained of severe punishment (p. 99.) with rubber tubing, and about diseased girls. We made no personal examination of the girls (p. 102), relied upon the doctors; examined some girls before us as to whipping; none of them could tell how many blows they received; said they had on their drawers, and that is all I remember; never examined the strong room as member of the board of correction; visited the strong room. (p. 107.)

The board called one of the physicians who was present after the Echinaw girl's death, and he testified as follows:

DR. KIRKPATRICK. (P. 260.)

Am a physician living at Adrian; was called at the time of the death of Annabelle Echinaw. (p. 261.) There was no light in the room; and a candle in a lantern brought in where the body was. (p. 262.)

Q. Did you find any marks on that body, external marks showing any violence?

(Page 263.) There was some black and blue places; some of them were on the thighs and on the hip, and there was one bruise, a black and blue spot on the calf of the leg.

Q. Did Mrs. Sickles or anyone connected with the institution give any explanation of the bruises?

A. I think Dr. Logue said that was where she was drawn out of the bath probably, offered that as an explanation of it.

Q. I will ask you now, as a physician, whether, if the body was in the tub and became rigid so that there was no resistance, and taken out of the tub, those bruises could have been inflicted in that way.

A. I do not believe it was possible for the bruises to be made in that way unless a leg was bound in some way to produce a counter-pressure.

Q. Might they have been produced if the body had been forced into the tub when she was conscious in the beginning?

A. If force was used.

Q. Did you make any autopsy?

A. I did not. (p. 264.)

They also called another physician who was present at her death and testified as follows: (p. 272.)

A physician living at Adrian was called to see the body of the Echinaw girl the night of her death. The body was not cold. (p. 273.)

Q. Did you find any marks of discoloration on it?

A. No, sir, no discoloration at all; we found two slight abrasions below the knee.

Q. On the calves of the legs?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Both on one calf, both abrasions?

A. I don't remember now about that—we found two abrasions, whether they were both on one knee or leg I couldn't say.

Q. Any around the hips?

A. Not that I remember. (p. 276.)

ALSO DR. MINA L. FULLER. (P. 293.)

Saw the Echinaw girl's body. Saw no marks upon the thigh and to the best of her knowledge there was none on the body. (p. 298.)

TILLIE REAY REQUESTED COMMITTEE TO ALLOW HER TO MODIFY HER FORMER TESTIMONY.

She did so as follows: (p. 338.)

Said she wanted to add something. (338.)

Said she thought her punishment did her good; that all the girls liked Mrs. Sickles; that she was kind to her, and that her punishment was a good thing for her; that if a girl behaved herself she was all right there (339-340); that she lied in fear of Miss Ousterhout when she told certain things to Mrs. Sickles.

Since her last testimony she had talked with Mr. Stearns; told him she wanted to be corrected. (p. 340.)

ALTA MEYERS AND CHRISTINE HOFFER. (P. 558.)

Both testified at request of Mrs. Sickles' counsel that Mrs. Sickles' treatment was kind and good, and that she was all right and the punishment was not too severe.

OLGA EVERSON.

also, at request of Mrs. Sickles' counsel, testified to the same. (p. 368.) She admitted that the girls had all talked together since the last examination day, and agreed that they liked Mrs. Sickles; thought she was one of the best women in the world; noble and kind-hearted. (369-70-72.)

EV A THOMPSON. (P. 395); C. M. ANGEVINE, Housekeeper (P. 394); M. E. CURTIS, Charge of Laundry at Central Cottage (P. 396);

BELLE BURGESS, Housekeeper (P. 398); CATHERINE

THIELMAN. (P. 405).

All testified that the punishments were not severe; that Mrs. Sickles was an estimable woman; a very competent superintendent; girls all liked her. Mr. Shepherd could not find in the county clerk's office the records of the inquest of the Echinaw girl. Found finally in possession of the coroner.

MRS. SICKLES READ A WRITTEN STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

My official connection with the Industrial Home began with my appointment by the Board of Control, composed of five members. This was in 1891. I assumed charge in September of the same year. The following October I was appointed by the new consolidated board, composed of Messrs. Barnes, Palms, Campbell and Duffy.

I have been since then in charge as superintendent.

The institution has for its purpose the reformation and education of girls who have, in early years, gone astray or have become so utterly unmanageable that it is impossible for parents, relatives or officers of the law to control them. The records show that not less than 90 per cent have been guilty of lewdness. One girl received, who was but nine years of age, but she had been sleeping in the woods with boys.

The average age upon entering here is about fourteen, although many come here who are nearly seventeen years of age.

Since I have been here there have been received 23 girls at ten, 21 at eleven and 52 at twelve years of age. There were 233 girls in the Home when I came and there have been received since 711, making a total of 944 girls.

There are now in the Home 307 or thereabouts, and 107 out on leave of absence, who are under our control. There are seven cottages in which these girls are placed. When I took charge and for some time after, the custom was to promote girls, keeping the worst in the Croswell and the highest grade in the Honor cottage. In this way girls of tender years were thrown into companionship of older girls, more confirmed in bad habits. By consent of the board I changed this method and placed the girls with the worst record in one cottage where they remained during their stay. Truants and girls sent for other causes were not under the contaminating influence of those who had become lewd.

These cottages are built on plans and specifications approved by the State Board of Charities and Corrections. I found when I began my duties that one of the methods of punishment was solitary confinement, in what is called the strong rooms, in the basements of the cottages. I found discipline was the first essential in managing the institution, and have ever aimed to maintain the rules laid down for its government. The Board of Control has met monthly and the members of the State Board of Corrections and Charities meet once a year, while individual members visit frequently.

I desire to explain such charges as you may deem to indicate an unfitness for the position I hold.

First, I am certain from my connection with the Home and the knowledge of the class of inmates that authority cannot be maintained and some of the most incorrigible girls governed without resorting to some kind of punishment.

I think these punishment rooms sometimes necessary. I dislike to use them, I assure you. I think of the danger in case of fire and it is with reluctance that the basement or strong room is used, but sometimes it is absolutely necessary in lieu of corporal punishment.

You have covered the entire period of my administration in the present investigation and I regret that you have found it necessary to conduct a portion thereof in my absence.

I will endeavor to explain the cases of cruel punishment of those which you have heard.

The first case is that of the three girls who were paddled January 9, 1892. It was when I first began my work. Miss Huss, the manager of the Palmer cottage, had sent them to their rooms for some misdemeanor. Between five and six o'clock, while I was at my supper, I was notified by the girl in the administration building and about the same time by Mr. Earle, the farmer, who had just returned from the city and had heard them when a half mile away. These three girls were swearing, screaming, singing bawdy songs, yelling to passers by, using the lowest kind of rowdy language. I at once went over and was shocked to hear the language used. Miss Huss had not sent me word. I do not recall now what reason Miss Huss gave for letting the girls' conduct go unnoticed, but I went at once upstairs. Each one of these three girls was in her room. I demanded admission, but the girls refused to let me in. I found the door barricaded by the iron bedstead. The girls were defiant and said "You come here if you dare, I'll knock the pudding out of you," and similar expressions, using terribly vile language. I had no whip, nothing with which to punish them. I asked Miss Huss for something to use. She knew of nothing, but Mrs. Wilcox, the housekeeper, produced a paddle which was in the house. I then summoned Mr. Earl and the doors were forced open. The girl sat on the bedstead to keep it against the door. T's room was the first entered. She was defiant and insolent. I attempted to make her stop, but she continued her insolent talk all the while sitting on the bed. I attempted to spank her, but she kicked and scratched so I asked Miss Huss and Mr. Earl to help hold her. We laid her on her face in order to spank her, the dress and skirt being turned up, the girl wearing canton flannel drawers. I struck her perhaps a dozen blows, not to exceed fifteen. On her first promise to obey, I desisted. The other girls kept up their defiant talk during this time, as each room had to be forced, each girl was punished, but not cruelly, and on promise of obedience, I ceased. Neither of these girls ever again gave me any trouble. I had before been called to this cottage nearly every night, often at ten and once at one o'clock at night to quiet girls who were noisy. Miss Huss utterly failed to manage the girls. She was sent to Central as assistant manager and Miss Vida Burgess took charge of Palmer cottage.

This was the only time the paddle was ever used. I found several were on the grounds in cottages and ordered them burned, saying: "If we required anything I would find something to take its place that was not so harsh. The soft rubber tubing was substituted. I may say that in this punishment as in all others, no skin was ever broken, no injury ever done. Once for all, I say right here, that I never in any case struck a blow upon any girl after she had promised obedience and in the use of the rubber tubing, seldom if ever exceeded twelve blows.

This rubber tubing generally is a piece of white, soft, tubing the size of a lead pencil and hollow. It is eight feet long and doubled twice, making eight strands a foot long. It is absolutely impossible to use it with force enough to even break the tender skin. It is here for your own examination and it is not a piece of hose. There is another piece as large around as a small finger. This is thirty inches long, doubled, leaving only fifteen inches for handle and whipping as with the small tubing. After one grasps it, as doubled, only about nine inches can be effective for blows. The large tube is seldom used.

The bands around heads containing the words "Disgrace," "Thief," "Liar," etc., are ideas I gathered from similar institutions elsewhere, and are used in preference to solitary confinement or only when talking and pleading are of no avail. The bandage over the mouth is simply a piece of white muslin so fastened over the mouth as not to interfere with breathing and fastened with a pin behind the head. Sometimes narrow strips of surgeon's plaster are used, one, two or even three over the mouth. These punishments are only used as a means to break up bad habits.

Handcuffs and restraining sheets are seldom used. I have used the restraining sheet in five cases, four by order of the physician, two being insane, and afterwards conveyed to Kalamazoo Asylum and two cases of St. Vitus dance. We used it on Ida Garner, whose actions were so hysterical that she seemed almost insane. She had to be returned to the county from which she came. Handcuffs had to be used but few times and only in cases where it was absolutely necessary because of resistance, fighting, scratching, biting, etc. They have been used on Martha Cephas more than any other inmate.

In the case of Jessie Noyes who testified at Lansing, who had been punished for trying to escape and who impudently criticised me because I did not inform girls several days beforehand when they were to go out. I reasoned with her against the impropriety of criticising my course. She only grew more insolent and on refusing to be silent, I slapped her mouth. We were in the kitchen of the administration building and not near any stairs. She was not knocked down nor was she in any way hurt, nor did I ever say to her, "Get up, you dog," nor any such kind of language. The history of the girl kept shows her to be untruthful, but to show her opinion I beg to read this letter sent me by her one day long after the punishment, also a letter from Mrs. Ella Andrews, with whom she was sent out on trial.

In the cases of the girls who attempted to run away and were whipped with the soft rubber tubing, the fact is they had made previous attempts to run away and had repeatedly been disobedient and had used tramp dialect and told filthy stories. One was reprimanded, the others whipped, but not at all cruelly. Miss Osterhout assisted in these punishments. No girl ever received over fifteen blows and I do not think received that many. Tillie is on the grounds now and I am willing she should tell you just how she regarded me. There was no harshness nor cruelty in the blows administered.

In the case of Bessie Force, Mrs. Babcock has misrepresented. She brought Bessie to the office and as she stepped into my private office with her, she (Mrs. Babcock) said, "Mrs. Sickles, this girl is too mean to live." For four years Bessie had been here and every mild measure had been used upon her with no avail.

I find on the daily journal, Monday, September 20, 1897: "Miss Helen Huss had trouble with Bessie Force again." As this was the end of a series I used the rubber on her (not strap as Mrs. Babcock says).

I find in the punishment book this entry: "Had put up with her tantrums all summer. Miss Ada Huss, manager, away so she tries to take advantage of Mrs. Babcock who came with her to the office. I took the rubber and switched her shoulders. She only smiled a mean smirk. I then put her across the couch and with drawers on I strapped her twelve stripes. I deny that I compelled her to take off her drawers. I do not recall what I said about her crying, but I switched her only a few blows and found it availed nothing. I sent her into the doctor's office, made her lie on the couch, turned up her skirts and whipped her twelve blows with larger rubber tubing. I never used a trunk strap in my life. I had none to use, except one on a trunk upstairs. When I saw her trembling or shaking after punishment I told her to stop, she was making it, and she was, as she stopped at once. Her back was not bare nor was the punishment continued after she began crying and promised obedience. I never had any more trouble with her and her letters to me are a complete answer to the charge of cruelty.

I chided Mrs. Babcock for the Halloween tricks in which pranks she took part, one-half of which she did not tell you. I reported the case to the board. She appeared and explained that it was harmless in her estimation and did not consider that she had done anything wrong. The unpleasant episode was disposed of by the board and she allowed to remain with the understanding that it should not occur again.

Mrs. Burke (Mrs. Babcock's sister), one of the managers came to me in October following Mrs. Babcock's resignation, and asked that Mrs. Babcock be given housekeeper's place in the Palmer cottage during Mrs. Angeline's vacation.

So far as Angeline Render is concerned, I find she was reported to me twice in one day, once for saying she would like to trounce Miss Hawkins. Miss Wood 'phoned, saying there was almost an insurrection in the kitchen and that Angeline was the ringleader. I went over after school, tried to talk and reason with her. She was very insolent and saucy to me, and I found it necessary to punish her. I took hold of her apron at the back of the neck to shake her and it being old, or loose, I then took my rubber off my foot, as I recall it, and directed Miss Hawkins to do the "trouncing" herself. I feel certain that I did not have the tubing, but as the book says I "strapped" Angeline Render, it may be that I used the tubing. I did not tear down her waist, nor strike her on her bare back, nor after promise of behavior. While talking with her, after the whipping, she called me a vile name which she declined to state and I will not repeat it, and unintentionally hit her nose, causing it to bleed freely. I deny that I told Miss Hawkins to strike her twenty-five blows. After Miss Hawkins had administered punishment, I deemed her state as defiant and unconquered and I whipped her, striking not more than twelve or fifteen at most blows. The reason I thought her defiant and punished her after Miss Hawkins was because she kept talking back and was impudently defiant.

Angeline Render was punished in the fall of 1895. Later she worked in several homes, but failed to stay long in a place. She lived in the family of the county agent for a short time. What he thought may best be seen by his own letter. Was placed in another home and on complaint of improper conduct was removed and sent to another home for a short time and then discharged. Her letter to me, published in my last biennial report, ought to be sufficient answer to all charges.

The punishment of Carrie Forbes was for general continued disobedience. I read from the record of Clark cottage. (p. 22.) The charge that I struck Carrie many blows is absolutely false. Mrs. Babcock says that I whipped three girls, May Brigham, Carrie Forbes and Theresa Morrissey, the same night, and then said, "If you have any more bring them on, I am in fighting trim." Looking over the Clark book, I find on page 21 that I whipped May Brigham December 10, 1896. Theresa Morrissey, December 11, 1896. Carrie Forbes, December 15, 1896. I could have no reason to use the language charged and did not make use of it, nor did I strike any of these girls more than a dozen blows. Mrs. Worth, the manager, was present during the punishments.

I have never given or ordered a bath as a punishment for any girl. No "hot" bath is given. The girls all have a right to a bath, and in cases of extreme nervousness a warm bath is given and the girl put to bed, and almost invariably she becomes quiet. I learned this was a sanitary means used at the asylum, and in cases of extreme nervous condition the bath has proved to be the most effective of anything. Girls have asked for it themselves while in case of others they do not like to be put to bed afterward.

Annabel Echtenaw was a most peculiar case. A note from the manager, Mrs. York, says: "Annabel too nervous to go to school." She had spells of biting herself until her arms were blue. Other spells which at first we called fainting spells. She had them in the cottage and at school. She had a strange appetite, was known to eat spiders, flies, etc. I myself found her with old quids of tobacco in her pocket and one in her mouth which she swallowed. These were picked up where they were dropped by the men who were doing carpenter work here. She was brought to me on the morning of her death screaming every time they looked at her. She screamed here even if looked at. I talked and reasoned and finally, to stop her screaming and get her attention, I took the small rubber tube struck her three times across the shoulders with clothing on. She stopped, then listened to me and promised to behave, which she did so that she went to school in the afternoon. At supper time she began again also to snap and bite the girls. She was again brought to me while I was eating my supper (usually 5 o'clock). I tried to talk and reason again, but no avail. She snapped and bit at me as she did at the girls. I took her by both shoulders and held her and talked to her. Then told Mrs. Merriam to give her a bath, also a dose of bromide. We would try and quiet her until morning when I would call Dr. Fuller as it was raining that night. I also said the board must do something for her, she was not a fit subject for us. I was called again to the Clark cottage, the 6 o'clock bell had rung. I found Annabel on her bed, nightdress on, in a fit frothing at the mouth. I called for hot water to place her feet in, it not coming soon enough, I went for it to the bath tub where Annabel had bathed. The water was too cold for the purpose I wanted, told Miss Oakes to turn on the steam and heat it, which she did. We, Miss Oakes and I, put her feet in the water and rubbed her legs. Mrs. Merriam was telephoning for the doctor. Then came a change over her. I said, "She is dying." "Get me whisky." I tried it, but she could not swallow. The doctor arrived but Annabel died. Her heart was beating when I first went there. I kept watch of her pulse and knew when it grew weaker. Dr. Fuller was here. I immediately notified the prosecuting attorney and the coroner, then Mr. H. C. Smith. They came also and brought Dr. Stephenson; were here as soon as could get here that night. Came the next morning with the jury; adjourned until the following Wednesday, when the inquest was held, teacher and girls sworn. Annabel died Friday night, the body left Adrian for Fremont the following Monday noon. I wish to read letters here from her father and mother received when she first came and after her death.

The record of Lillie Smith, sworn at Detroit, shows she was guilty of continued thefts. When arrested she was in a house of bad repute and was in a state of beastly intoxication. She was filthy in her habits, and it was nearly four years before she was fit to be placed in any one's home. She went from here into the home of Mr. Willets at Sand Creek, was returned at the end of six months. She was sent to the basement for two reasons, one was for punishment for conduct at Mr. Willets. Secondly, because I had no room for her. It was at a time when we were crowded. She was later indentured to Mr Palmer, staying seven months. Owing to continued filthiness they gave her up and she was returned to county.

Girls were never handcuffed for punishment only for necessary cases of restraint when viciously violent. Carrie Forbes reported by Martha Cephas was never handcuffed. So far as Ida Spencer is concerned, I found it necessary to send her to the basement July 4. She was sent to her room on the 3d because ugly; all day the Fourth and in the evening she was in one of her almost crazy spells. She was taken to the strong room by Mr. Hagan, being called to assist Miss Huss and Miss Burgess. I find by the books she was kept there nine days. She was a girl who was a continual trial all the time she was here. Read punishment book, pages 223-224-225. The letter read to you at Detroit, written by Ida Spencer, asking to come back to the Home ought to convince you as to whether she was cruelly treated. I feel almost certain it is not necessary for me to pay attention to the testimony of Martha Cephas. It is false in almost every particular. There has never been used for punishment any kind of rubber tubing except the two sizes I have shown the committee. The girl is a confirmed liar. She never was fit to go into a family. She has a most hot and ungovernable temper, and she was returned to the county as utterly incorrigible, after five years of trial with her. By the cottage record, was put in her room December 5, 1893, and kept until the 16th. Again she was in the basement from July 14th to the 23d, 1894. May 1st in her room until May 7th. She has many others charged against her. (Read from old book.) I never paddled her, never knocked her down. Her letter since discharge speaks for itself.

Relative to the complaint of Misses Radcliffe and Osterhout as to the three girls at the cottages suffering from venereal disease, I think there was a violation of the law, probably, but they came with the certificate of physicians that they were free from contagious disease. The home physician, however, reported them as suffering from venereal disease and all were isolated to await action of the board. The members of the board talked it over, but did not order them returned as Dr. Logue Fuller did not consider them bad cases. I discussed the matter with Miss Osterhout and in answer to her complaints, I told her the doctors had certified that they were free from disease, but I would talk the matter over with the board, which I did. This talk was in October, 1897, after the marriage of my daughter. I now refer you to the minutes of the meeting on November 5, 1897, December 3, 1897, and January 7, 1898.

I had to be governed by the board, which alone is authorized to discharge girls. I received them because the proper certificates, according to law, were in the commitments and the girls were legally committed here. The physicians having certified that in November there was no longer any danger of communicating the disease, the girls were kept. These two ladies also claimed that the odor was unbearable, but when the filthy clothes were washed and 20 unclean chambers in girls' rooms removed and replaced by new ones no bad odor remained. Had Miss Osterhout attended carefully to her duties as manager I have no idea that any unpleasant odor would be noticed. I offer no apology, no excuse for receiving these girls, which was undoubtedly a violation of the law, but I can assure you that since that time no such girls have been received, who were suffering with venereal disease. Two of these girls are here now, but I believe they are saved to society and to themselves.

Miss Paxon's statement that there were from one to four girls under discipline in Central Cottage (where she resided) every day except one during her five years' stay here is not verified by the daily report from the manager, Miss Vida Burgess, of which I find one month in my files. These records are usually thrown away after one year.

Miss Radcliffe made a serious charge when she told you many girls where kept out of school and that Delilah Wilder had been here nine years and did not get out of the second grade. I gave you Miss Radcliffe's report for October. I now furnish you those of November and December, these being the months she taught school. They negative her sworn statement. Delilah Wilder was here but eight years, one of which she spent in homes, indentured. At the time of which Miss Radcliffe speaks Delilah had been here but six years, one of which had been spent in outside homes. The history will show the reason for her not learning and progressing faster in her studies.

The rules and regulations have been furnished you. I found Miss Osterhout so injudicious in punishment that I secured the adoption of the provision that no corporal punishment be inflicted except by or in the presence of the superintendent. During my service, no teacher ever complained to the board of cruelty or punishment. Mrs. Babcock never made any complaints to them. She knew I could not remove her and knew that I was subject to the discipline of the board. Did she do right not to enter a complaint if she was so affected by my brutality?

These rules govern the home. I have tried to make answer to all cases of alleged cruelty. If any are left unexplained, I will endeavor to answer any question you deem necessary. Since Miss Osterhout left there has not been one girl in the basement of Croswell Cottage and not one whipped in said cottage.

I have presented to you witnesses interested in reformatory work.

You have the words of the venerable Bishop Gillespie, so long the head of the board of Charities and Corrections, a man of exalted piety and high Christian character, who is deeply interested in reformatory work and whose interests have led him to clearly investigate all methods of discipline.

I have furnished the testimony of county agents and truant officers who bring girls here, look after them when indentured, and watch over them when discharged.

I have furnished the testimony of the members of the board of control who have watched my work at the Home for more than seven years and know intimately what I have done. I produce the pastors of our churches who have given us religious instruction and watched our course with solicitude.

I have furnished heads of families in whose homes my girls have been placed. I have the approved testimony of one of the leading W. C. T. U. ladies, Mrs. Chas. Humphrey.

I have the testimony of staunch co-workers, attesting from intimate association their knowledge of my discipline and of the results attained. I give you the names of all girls who have sustained corporal punishment at my hands, and there are not three in a hundred.

Best of all, most convincing and most gratifying, I have given you the testimony of many young girls whom I have governed for their term, whose affection and love I have and proudly return in full measure. Confidently I offer these people to you, as worthy of as much consideration as are incorrigible girls and discharged employes.

If you wish to know how the three hundred girls feel toward me call them together and ask them. They know nothing of this investigation and are not advised that one is in progress. Test them in any way you please and I think you will find as one of the girls testified that ninety-five out of every hundred regard my course toward them with the most kindly affection. There has never been any disposition to treat them other than with the utmost kindness and impartiality, and with no more firmness than the nature of this institution requires. My methods are open to the most searching examination. I regret that you have listened to tales of cruelty, that you did not think advisable to come to me and let me explain each case, but you deemed it best to do otherwise. As legislators you may have ideas of your own concerning punishment in reformatory institutions. You may oppose strong rooms such as have been established here. You may object to any kind of corporal punishment, but you cannot open wider the doors of the House of Correction in order that those of the Home be narrower.

There is a grave responsibility resting upon you in this investigation. You are, as legislators, bound to stand between this institution and harm. I trust you will discharge your duties so honestly, so fairly, so impartially that you can have the same consciousness of having performed honestly your work that I have as I look over the results achieved. The filial love and tender, glad greeting I receive from almost every girl who has been my charge during my nearly eight years here, leads me to aver on oath that I have never forgotten my duty to them. As a loving mother they open their arms to me and it is a sweet recompense for the efforts I have made for them.

I need say no more.

ON EXAMINATION BY MR. CHEEVER MRS. SICKLES TESTIFIED AS FOLLOWS:

Q. You say, Mrs. Sickles, that you never tried to keep any thing back; you remember that in the testimony given here, when we were first here, but in the statement you made here in March when you were asked about the kind of hose used for punishment, that the small kind was produced, and I understood you to state that that was the only kind you ever used.

A. No, you did not ask me; I said that was the one that I had used for four years.

Q. You said it was the kind——

A. I said it was the kind, the one that had been in use for four years.

Q. I then asked you if you used any other, and did you say anything to me about any other one?

A. You didn't ask me anything——

Q. Did you say anything about the other?

A. No, I didn't.

Q. And during those four years you had used the other hose?

A. I have used it in unusual cases, but in usual cases I used the small one.

Q. But you did not tell me that.

A. You did not ask me. Had you asked me I would have told you and brought it at the time.

Q. That is what I mean, but you had used paddles?

A. Just once.

Q. You did not tell us that then.

A. You did not ask me, and really that is so long ago it did not enter my mind. I burned those paddles and never pretended to use paddles.

Q. Had you used a ruler?

A. I have used a ruler in the school.

Q. You did not tell us anything about it.

A. You did not ask me. Had you asked me I should have told you.

Q. Didn't you understand that we wanted to ascertain what instruments were used in corporal punishment?

A. If I had understood what you wanted to know whatever treatment was more than the usual treatment I should have told you.

Q. What was your idea that you thought we wanted to ascertain, if it wasn't the different kinds of instruments used?

A. I understood that you wanted to know what I whipped with usually.

Q. Didn't you understand that we wanted every kind of an instrument used in whipping?

A. I did not.

Q. Why did you think we only wanted to ascertain about the use of the small hose or tubing? (No answer.)

Q. Miss Seavey is in what cottage?

A. She is in Alger cottage.

Q. She is a good teacher?

A. She was a good teacher; she is manager now.

Q. Is she a good manager?

A. Not as good as she was teacher.

Q. Is she a woman of good reputation?

A. Yes, I think so.

Q. Did you, when you went there, tell Mrs. Hawkins to whip her, Angeline Render?

A. She said she would like to trounce Mrs. Hawkins and I said to Mrs. Hawkins, "You may do the trouncing."

Q. What did Mrs. Hawkins say?

A. I don't know as she said anything.

Q. Now, take the girls that planned to run away, how many were there of those?

A. There were four who were planning to run away, two other girls heard of it and knew they were planning, but did not report it.

Q. What punishment did you give those four girls?

A. I whipped those four girls and put them in the room; they were dressed in their nightdresses.

Q. They laid across chairs though?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many blows did you give them?

A. I didn't give them any more than 12 or 15; not more than 15 at the very most.

Q. Did you give the two girls that didn't tell of it some?

A. I gave them a whipping and sent them to work; they were not punished as hard as the others.

Q. Now, as to this girl that was brought into the office here, what was her name?

A. Bessie Force. That was the one that was brought into the office.

Q. Did you tell her to take off her waist and her apron?

A. No, sir; Bessie Force was whipped around her shoulders with a little switch.

Q. Did you use a trunk strap?

A. No, sir.

Q. When you finished whipping her was she trembling?

A. She was shaking; she just shook herself like a dog that came out of the river.

Q. You told her to stop that?

A. Yes, sir; and she stopped it.

Q. How many blows did you give her in the office before you took her in the office, the doctor's office, in this room?

A. I think about three around the shoulders.

Q. How many blows did you give her in the doctor's office?

A. About twelve.

Q. (Reading from punishment book.) "Force, Bessie, too mean to live with."

A. That is what Miss Babcock said when she brought her into the office.

(Reading.) Had put up with her tantrums all summer. Miss Huse (meaning Miss Ada), the manager, was away; she tries to take advantage of it. Mrs. Babcock came with her to the office. I took a rubber and switched her shoulders. She only smiled at me and smirked. I went and put her across the couch.

Q. She was in the front room, "smiled at me and smirked."

A. Yes, sir; turned her face up and smiled. It was not a smile either; it was a smirk.

Q. That was the reason you took her in the office?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And put her across the couch?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had given her three blows?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many did you give her after you got her in there?

A. Twelve.

Q. What did you whip her with there?

A. With a rubber.

- Q. With the small one?
- A. No, I used the larger one when I went into the doctor's office.
- Q. What is the diameter of it?
- A. You saw it here, about $\frac{1}{2}$ or $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch.
- Q. Was anybody in there with you and Mrs. Babcock?
- A. I always had some one in the room with me.
- Q. After you had done that what did you do with her?
- A. I let her go home.
- Q. Do you recollect the offense for which she was first brought in?
- A. It was general meanness.
- Q. "Too mean to live?"
- A. That is what Mrs. Babcock said, "Too mean to live." She had been reported a great many times, day after day.
- Q. That day she said "she was too mean to live?"
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. And for that she got ten or twelve blows?
- A. Twelve.
- Q. For that, after you gave her three blows she smiled a mean smirk?
- A. That is what I supposed; at the time I did not ask.
- Q. She got three for being "too mean to live with," and twelve for smiling that smirk?
- A. I think it was all in one. Under one head for the whole she got fifteen. I wouldn't divide it at all.
- Q. You don't say you gave her the other twelve blows because she did not behave, but because she turned up her nose and smiled?
- A. No. I don't say that; I say she only turned up her nose and smiled; I don't think I said because she did that; if I did, Mr. Cheever, I did not know it. The girl was not subdued and very defiant.
- Q. Mrs. Sickles, take the case of the girl that was trounced, that is, whipped in the room when you called in the farmer, Mr. Earle?
- A. I did because I could not get into this room; if I could have got into this room I shouldn't have.

BY MR. McCALL.

- Q. Where was Mrs. Bryan?
- A. She was in there.
- Q. You then called the man simply to go in the room?
- A. Yes, sir.
- Q. You got into the rooms, didn't you?
- A. Yes.
- Q. Why didn't you dismiss him then?
- A. Because I found there a hard, defiant girl and I had never seen anything like her in all my life, and I wanted him to be there; I found her so defiant that I told him to stay.
- Q. You found her so defiant you told him to stay?
- A. I told him to wait a few moments, I wasn't sure that I could whip her alone.
- Q. Did you tell her to lie down face down?
- A. I told her and she didn't. After I had worked with her and told her to and tried to make her, she wouldn't lie down and I said, "Mr. Earle and Hiss Huss you must help me," and really I kept him for self defense.

Q. You used what instrument there?

A. A paddle, the only time I ever used a paddle in the institution.

Q. How many blows?

A. I couldn't tell you.

Q. As near as you can.

A. I should say 12. She promised obedience and she had never gave me any trouble after that.

Q. Did you punish the other two in the same way?

A. Yes, they were still howling and yelling—

Q. The punishment of each was about the same?

A. Yes.

Q. You recollect the case of the two girls at Romeo?

A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. What were their names?

A. Sadie Anderson and Angie Phillips.

Q. Give us the language of the note.

A. I cannot give the language exactly, further than this: I know what it really meant, I can only give that to you; I cannot give it all to you, not the words, just exactly, as it was written, but I can give you the substance of it.

Q. Give us the substance of it.

A. That this Sadie Anderson looked like a fellow she used to know; that she had made a rhyme of, and that she had spent so many pleasant nights with him, and that she looked very much like him, and that she wished they too could spend a night out together; she had put it in rhyme; wished they might spend the night together.

Your committee has realized the caution with which the testimony of the inmates should be received, and also of those who have been discharged from the institution; but putting aside all such testimony, they submit that, the testimony of those who are still officers, either managers or teachers in the institution, or former inmates who have been honorably discharged, and are now in private life, is sufficient to warrant the recommendations which your committee desires to make.

Under the law creating this Home of Industry, its management is in the hands of a local board, composed of one man and two women. This board is appointed by the Governor, and when appointed, the board has the appointment of the superintendent, managers, teachers and housekeepers of the various cottages. This board has recently been changed by the retirement of Mr. Metcalf, June 1, 1899, at the expiration of his term of office, and the appointment of Frederick Bowerfind to fill his place, so there remains on the board but two members, Mrs. Bliss and Mrs. Smith, who have been there during the time when the matter under our investigation occurred. The members of the committee feel justified, therefore, in recommending in view of the evidence, the removal, by the Governor of Mrs. Bliss and Mrs. Smith, two members of the board, for the reason that they were negligent in the discharge of their duties as members of such board. This is apparent, not only from their own testimony, but from the surrounding circumstances, revealed by the testimony of other witnesses. They are both estimable ladies, but it is believed by your committee that more energetic action and close attention to the duties devolving upon the members of this board should be manifested than has been manifested by these persons.

And we further recommend that in the appointment of the successors to Mrs. Bliss and Mrs. Smith that the Governor appoint two ladies not over 50 years of age. And after the term of office of the present resident member of said board that no one be appointed as member of said board of control who resides in the city of Adrian, for the reason that a local appointee is prone to regard the Home as a local rather than a State institution.

Your committee further recommend the abolition of the lever lockage, by which means all the rooms at night are locked and unlocked from the first floor of the building. This, in the opinion of your committee, is a very dangerous method on account of fire.

Your committee would also recommend the following changes:

First. The appointment, by the board, after it shall have been re-organized, of a man and his wife as superintendents of the institution in the place of the present incumbent.

Second. The abolition of corporal punishment in the institution. Your committee is justified fully in this recommendation by the fact, that although at the beginning of this investigation the testimony of the board of managers was that corporal punishment was absolutely necessary, since the investigation began this same board has, by resolution, abolished corporal punishment in the institution. This action shows one of two things: Either that the board was not sincere in stating its belief in the necessity of corporal punishment, or if it was sincere, that it has, against its own convictions, and for purposes which are not necessary to mention, abolished this corporal punishment. In either event, we submit, it justifies your committee in the statement that the members of this board are incompetent to discharge the duties of their office.

In this connection we desire to state that, having visited the Industrial School for Boys at Lansing, we found that corporal punishment was not used at that institution; that a man and his wife were at the head of it, and in fact, a man and his wife were managers in each cottage, and we found that the boys were easily managed, and that they were governed by love rather than by force, a striking contrast with the existence of things in the Industrial Home for Girls.

Third. The total abolition of the so-called "strong rooms" in the basement of the buildings.

Fourth. The abolition of the "scarlet letter;" punishment of wearing bandages, marked, or sealing the mouth with surgeon's plaster for any offense.

Fifth. The abolition of the so-called solitary imprisonment for any time exceeding two days, and where such solitary imprisonment is inflicted the confinement should be in the room of the inmate herself, and not in the so-called "solitary room."

Sixth. The abolition of the hot baths as a means of punishment.

Seventh. The abolition of the use of handcuffs and shackles as a means of punishment or restraint.

Eighth. A change in the rule requiring "silence," excepting when the inmates are in school, leaving them free to converse together at other hours.

The committee also found that in the so-called library at this institution, the principal books were agricultural reports and legislative documents. In fact, there was nothing which was worthy the name of a library, and we recommend that an appropriation be made of $500, to place in the library books of an interesting character, and that the inmates be permitted to use them under such rules and regulations as the board may make.

Your committee desire to state in conclusion, in justice to this subject, so far as the Industrial Home for Girls as an institution is concerned, it is one of which the State should be proud. The general appearance of the inmates and the details of its management other than as we have recommended changes herein, met our approval and we desire heartily to recommend the same. It is an institution which the State should support freely and the benefit which it will be to those who are sent there under the law is inestimable; but we also realize the fact and desire to place on record our conclusion that it should be regarded as its name implies, as a home for these poor creatures rather than as a prison.

Whereas, It is much better to compensate him for his skill and extra labors than to employ another for night work; therefore

The motion that the entire message be spread on the Journal then prevailed.

The following is the message:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, June 16, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

Gentlemen—I return herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 933, being an act to amend sections 1, 2, 7 and 8 of act No. 48 of the public acts of Michigan for 1897, entitled “An act to provide for the encouragement of the manufacture of beet sugar and to provide a compensation therefor, and to make an appropriation therefor.”

This law contains the same objectionable feature as the act which you recently recalled from this office. In my communication sent to you on June 6, I expressed the opinion that a limit of $25,000, to be drawn from the State Treasury, by each factory, should be fixed. The law as it finally reaches me, reduces the bounty from one cent to half a cent a pound, but no limit is placed to the amount which can be paid to each factory. No one can tell what the output of the factories constructed in the immediate future will be, nor what amount it will be necessary to raise by taxes on all property to pay the bounty to a few manufacturers. The law in the form in which it reaches me, is unbusinesslike and wrong in principle. It is estimated that if the factories now built and in process of construction should be run to their full capacity, the draft upon the State Treasury would be $900,000 yearly, at one cent per pound. If the bounty should be paid at one-half cent a pound, as proposed in the law now before me, the amount paid from the treasury would be $450,000 per year. It is a simple calculation to determine that if the factories should double in capacity, an entirely probable supposition, the State would be required to pay a bounty of $900,000 per year, the same as the result would be under the law which you recalled. I do not see that you eliminated the provision of the law which I cannot sanction, and I am obliged, therefore, to return the act without my approval.

While this law is chiefly objectionable for the reasons which I have pointed out, it also meets my disapproval, because it will result in increasing the taxes of all property owners, and this Legislature has passed no laws to equalize the burden of taxation and make corporate and other property pay its share of taxes.

This Legislature was elected for the purpose of passing laws to equalize assessments and taxes, and to make railroads and other corporations pay as much taxes in proportion as the farmer and other small property owners. It has failed utterly to carry out the wish of the people in this respect. The tax dodger has either controlled or obstructed legislation. In which branch of the Legislature he has done so is a matter of public knowledge and comment. His interests have been carefully protected. The record of the official proceedings places the responsibility where it belongs.

The effort seems to have been to appropriate as much money as possible, out of all proportion to the present income of the State, and to stifle all measures framed to make the tax dodger bear his and its share of the increased expense.

A review of the efforts to make railroads, mining companies and other corporations contribute their share to the support of State and local government, will serve to fix the responsibility for the failure.

It is unnecessary to remind you of the persistent fight which the friends of equal taxation made for the passage of the Atkinson bill. The supreme court indicated that the law violated the constitution, a fate to which any law is subject. Eminent attorneys had pronounced the law valid, but the decision in the telephone cases made it necessary to enact other laws to compel protected interests to pay taxes.

In my message to you of May 17, I recommended the passage of certain measures which would enable you to return to your homes and say to your constituents that you had followed their instructions as far as the decision of the supreme court would permit you.

Those recommendations were acted upon in one branch of the Legislature, the House of Representatives, but have not received favorable action in the Senate. Those measures are as follows:

1. The joint resolution, providing for the submission to the people of an amendment to the constitution so that railroad and certain other property could be taxed upon its actual cash value, at this time is resting in Senate committee. It is the most important tax measure before the Legislature. It is the net result of the effort to make railroad and other property, paying specific taxes, pay taxes upon value the same as all other property. There seems to be a disposition to deny the people of the State the right even to vote upon such an amendment, although at the last State election, they declared with unmistakable emphasis that railroads should pay taxes in like manner as others.

2. The law providing for a permanent tax board to supervise assessments, place property on the rolls now escaping taxation, and to gather information relating to the value of railroad and other corporate property, is now also reposing in a Senate committee. Under it a vast amount of good work can be done to equalize assessments and taxes and make property pay taxes which now escapes. I cannot conceive any valid objection to the measure and do not understand why it should be held in Senate committee.

3. The law increasing the specific tax on railroads by $410,000, passed the House, but all the increase was stricken out by the Senate. The Senate would not consent to increasing the taxes of railroads by any amount.

4. The Senate refused to pass a law providing for an amendment to the special charter of the Michigan Central Railroad compelling it to pay the same taxes as other railroads. It, therefore, still enjoys the special privileges, as to taxes and rates of fare, which were granted to it by special charter.

5. The Senate still holds in committee the bill passed by the House providing for an increase of taxes from copper and iron mining companies of the State. It is notorious that these companies pay only a small fraction of the taxes which they ought to pay.

The only tax measure of any consequence which passed the Senate is the bill for taxes upon telegraph, telephone, and express companies, and the Senate insisted upon a reduction of the rate upon express companies from 5 to 3 per cent. There has been, therefore, no increase in the taxes of railroad, telegraph and telephone companies and the taxes upon express companies have been reduced.

The final result of taxation legislation at this session of the Legislature, aside from a few minor amendments to the general tax law, is, therefore, an actual reduction of taxes upon corporate property instead of an increase as demanded by the people.

The republican party in convention, by its platform, unanimously pledged and the people endorsed reforms in taxation, not one of which has been fulfilled. Such violations of faith are sometimes as dangerous to parties as to individuals.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The question being, as provided by the constitution, on the reconsideration of the vote by which the House passed the bill.

The motion then prevailed.

The question being on the passage of the bill, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding,

The Speaker also announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, June 16, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

Gentlemen—I return herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 1147, being "An act to create a commission and define its duties and powers and make an appropriation of money for the purpose of making an exhibit of the various manufactures and products of the State of Michigan at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, New York, in the year 1901, and provide a tax to meet the same."

I cannot sanction this act with my official approval because it makes an appropriation of $40,000 which the immediate needs of the State do not demand. The Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo will be held in the year 1901, and the creating of a commission and the making of an appropriation is more properly a matter for action by the next Legislature. There will be time after the convening of the Legislature for Michigan's building and exhibits to be constructed and prepared.

While our laws are so framed as to tax everything the small property owners possess, and this Republican Legislature acting through its upper branch, persistently refuses to enact any laws to make the property of corporations and the stocks, bonds and other personal property of wealthy individuals bear its share of taxes, I cannot approve an act making an appropriation to enable the mining companies and other corporations to exhibit their products at the expense of the State, and to enable the railroads to profit, legitimately of course, by transportation of freight and passengers to this exposition.

If this Republican Legislature cannot afford to make the pay of Michigan's volunteers in the Spanish-American war at least one dollar per day it certainly should not tax the soldier's modest home for the purpose of raising a fund to enable tax dodgers to exhibit their wares in a neighboring state.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The question being, as provided in the constitution, on the reconsideration of the vote by which the House passed the bill,

The vote was duly reconsidered.

The question being on the passage of the bill, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

On motion of Mr. Gillam,

The bill was laid on the table.

The Speaker also announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, June 16, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

I return herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 81, entitled "An act to amend section 2 of 'An act to authorize proceedings against garnishees and for other purposes,' " being act No. 137 of public acts of 1849.

The exemption of a householder, having a family, under the law now on the statute books is $25. Under the proposed law, amounts due the householder, with family, for personal labor, for any amount equal to $1.25 per day, are exempt, and this exemption includes all sums of $7.50 or less but in no case exceeding $25.

While this bill in terms applies to all people in the State, and is not, by its express provisions, confined to any class, yet it nevertheless affects most seriously the small wage earners, the laborers, the workingmen and many clerks. In changing the law so as to reach the dishonest debtor, the machinery of the law is placed in the hands of the lawyer and collection agency so that it may be used to oppress an unfortunate debtor.

Credit has been asked for and extended, and business has been conducted for many years with a thorough understanding, both on the part of the merchant and customer, of the exemption law now in force. Business has adjusted itself to this law. The power is entirely in the hands of the merchant to refuse credit. If he has unwisely extended credit, or if dishonest debtors have taken unfair advantage of the exemption law, bad accounts so created must be charged to profit and loss. The profit and loss account is one which is carried by every merchant, and every wise merchant makes allowance for it in managing his business.

One effect of the proposed law is to make it possible for the merchant to collect accounts which he has treated as worthless assets, at a cost of suffering and hardship which cannot be estimated at this time. The seriousness of this aspect of the question will be appreciated when it is recalled that the country has just passed through a period of great depression. Merchants themselves, as well as laboring men and clerks, have incurred obligations and become financially embarrassed from causes apparently entirely beyond their control. The closing, either temporarily or permanently, of factories and business institutions, during the recent debt have created debts among all classes.

The merchant, under the new federal bankruptcy law, enacted to relieve him from the embarrassment created by the panic, can commence business life anew, with a clean balance sheet. Because of the expense involved, the poor man is practically deprived of the benefit of the bankruptcy law. The law which is now before me, however, instead of relieving the employee, forces upon him the necessity of providing for the payment of debts which have accumulated as a result of the hard times. The proposed law makes the merchant the judge of how the ones most affected by the law shall use their small wages, and it is human nature for each merchant, doctor, or money loaner or landlord to think that his bill should be preferred above all others. The inevitable result will be a rush of suits under this law to establish preference by way of prior claim upon wages subject to garnishment.

I believe that there should be no garnishment laws. It will be conceded that the poor man should not, except in very exceptional cases, be given credit. Our laws should discourage the giving of credit. The extension of credit work is an injury to the one who receives it. It encourages him to incur debts. If he can secure no credit he will limit his expenditures to his income. Our laws should encourage thrift and economy, instead of encouraging extension of credit and then providing laws to make the wage earner experience the folly of running into debt.

Another objectionable feature of this law which is before me, is that the exemption is so small that a large part of the money collected under it would be paid to justices of the peace, constables and other officers of the law. In other words, the cost of the legal proceedings would absorb most of the proceeds and leave but little to apply upon the debt.

In considering the justice of reducing the exemption which is chiefly for the benefit of the wage earner, it is right to take into account the exemptions which are enjoyed by other classes of our citizens because of their circumstances in life. These laws, of course, apply to all citizens of the State, but the benefits of the exemptions do not accrue to all.

Under laws now in force, certain household goods, utensils, furniture, etc., to the extent of $250 in value, libraries and school books to the extent of $150 in value, and other specifically mentioned articles of personal property and household use; also tools, implements, stock, team, vehicles, horses, to enable any person to carry on the profession, trade, occupation or business in which he is engaged not exceeding $250 in value, and a certain quantity of hay, grain, etc., are exempt. In addition to these, real estate owners are entitled to an exemption of a homestead consisting of forty acres and a dwelling house on it, or a lot in a city or village and dwelling house on it not exceeding $1,500 in value.

It is apparent that there is a very large proportion of our population which cannot, in the nature of things, receive any benefit from the exemption laws to which I have just called your attention. This class is the one most affected by the law which I return without my approval. The merchant, manufacturer, business man, farmer, doctor and lawyer, and the citizen who own his home, all enjoy exemptions from which the wage earner, because of his condition in life, cannot receive any benefit. I do not believe it is just or wise to frame our laws so that they in effect, although, perhaps, not in letter, discriminate between classes of citizens.

This proposed law is a relic of the commercial barbarism of a few centuries ago. It is as offensive to me as imprisonment for debt. The commercial spirit of the times, which gave birth to this measure, is the same as that which led our forefathers to throw men into prison because they could not pay their debts.

I, therefore, respectfully return this bill, without my approval.

H. S. PINGREE,

Governor.

The question being, as provided in the constitution, on the reconsideration of the vote by which the House passed the bill,

The vote was duly reconsidered.

The question being on the passage of the bill, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding,

On motion of Mr. Chamberlain.

The bill was laid on the table.

To the House of Representatives:

I return herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 451, entitled

"An act making an appropriation for promoting the Horticultural interests of the State and the editing and compiling of the reports of the Michigan State Horticultural Society."

I cannot approve this act because the appropriation is asked for an organization which is not a part of the State government. It is a society which is not officially connected with the State and not being a State institution is not entitled to any more recognition from the State than any other organization, whether of farmers, lawyers, doctors, or laboring men. I am advised by former officials of this society that the work which has been performed in the past by this society is now being done by the horticultural department of the Michigan Experiment Station and by the Agricultural College and Farmers' Clubs and Institutes throughout the State. This is one of those appropriations which has been granted in the past as a matter of custom, and has apparently escaped attention because it was placed on its passage during the last hours of the session.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The Speaker also announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE.
Lansing, June 23, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

I return herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 633, entitled "An act for the reorganization of the military forces of the State of Michigan and to provide for the incorporation and consolidation of military companies, and to repeal all former acts, or parts of acts, inconsistent with the provisions of this act."

This act makes but few changes in the laws now on the statute books. The principal changes are the creation of additional offices with pay attached, provisions for cavalry and artillery which are not authorized by the law now in force, entailing additional expense upon the State, requirements for a rigid physical examination in same manner as is prescribed before muster into the service of the United States, provisions for new elections of officers in all companies of the National Guard, and a provision for an age limit for membership of the Guard.

The proposed law makes a number of changes and additions to the law which can be accomplished by regulations made by the Military Board.

I cannot approve this law because I believe that this is not the proper time to add to the expense of conducting the military department of the State. I cannot approve legislation which creates additional military offices, the incumbents of which would have no duties to perform which cannot now be easily attended to by the present officers except perhaps in time of war. If the State is to be put to any additional expense on account of its military department I believe that a law should first be enacted giving the volunteers in the late war an increase of pay, so that their patriotism and devotion to country should be at least decently recognized. It is apparent, if the requirements for admission to the National Guard are made more strict by subjecting applicants to the same rigid physical examination as is prescribed for enlistment in the United States Army, that it would be almost impossible to enlist complete companies in the smaller towns. It may be necessary to exercise more care than in the past in the enlistment of members of the National Guard, but I am advised that the Military Board is clothed with sufficient authority to regulate the physical examinations according to the necessities of the times. It is not wise to enforce the same physical requirements in time of peace as in time of war.

I deem it unwise, particularly at this time, to order an election of officers throughout the Guard. I believe that the opportunity should not be given to displace officers who served throughout the recent war by men who may not have served during the war. They are entitled to a continuance in office. New elections might for many reasons result in the choice of other men. The companies will be completed by the enlistment of men who did not serve in the late war, and the enforcement of proper discipline may have made officers unpopular with a portion of their men. These influences might result in the rejection of excellent and deserving officers if a new election should be ordered as prescribed by the proposed law. The age limit from 18 to 45 years is also objectionable because it bars many excellent men of long service, and deprives the Guard of the value and benefit of their experience and wisdom in military affairs.

In the United States army officers are permitted to remain in service until 64 years of age. The leading officers in the United States army, who are especially valuable in time of war, are usually more than 45 years of age. I am compelled to believe that the Legislature overlooked this fact in framing the new law. The effect of this law would be to deprive the State and the National Guard of at least two of its most valued and experienced officers, Colonel Peterman and Colonel McGurrin, and others perhaps whom I do not at present recall.

I, therefore, return the act herewith, without my approval.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The Speaker also announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, June 23, 1899.

To the House of Representatives:

I return herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 1124, entitled "An act to provide that Long Lake, in the township of Arcadia, county of Lapeer, shall be a private fishing pond."

I cannot approve this act because it establishes a very unwise precedent. If one lake, no matter how small, is, by legislative act, made a private fishing pond, where can the line be drawn? It is plain it is not right to encourage a practice which may lead to depriving the people of the State of the best fishing lakes and waters for the benefit and advantage of a few land owners.

H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

The message was ordered spread on the Journal.

No further business appearing, to be done, and

The hour of 12 o'clock noon having arrived,

The Speaker declared the House adjourned sine die.

APPENDIX.

PROCEEDINGS

OF THE

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

HAVING UNDER CONSIDERATION THE REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEES ON PRIVATE CORPORATIONS, RAILROADS AND GENERAL TAXATION.

DISCUSSION RELATIVE TO HOUSE BILL NO. 3, FILE NO. 1.

EVENING SESSION.

} REPRESENTATIVE HALL, LANSING,

} Monday, February 27, 1899.

The House having under consideration the report of the joint committee consisting of the committees on Private Corporations, Railroads and General Taxation, the following proceedings were had:

Mr. Cheever: This report comes from the joint committee, adopting a report of one of its sub-committees of five, which according to this statement has received, as I understood it, the actual approval of but two members, so far as its principles go, and one other member so far as reporting it to the House goes. It is reported without recommendation. Under those circumstances and after this long discussion of it, I move that this report do lie upon the table, and I give my reason very briefly, and upon that motion when it is put, I demand the yeas and nays. This report of the committee—

The Speaker (interrupting): What is the gentleman discussing?

Mr. Cheever: I want to give my reason for this motion.

The Speaker: It is not debatable.

Mr. Cheever: Then I move that the report do lie upon the table.
Which motion prevailed.

MORNING SESSION.

} REPRESENTATIVE HALL, LANSING,

} Tuesday, February 28, 1899.

Mr. Gillam: Mr. Speaker, I move that House bill No. 1, file No. 3, be taken from the table, for the purpose of placing it upon the general order.

Mr. Chamberlain: I move to substitute by naming the bill that was reported by the general conference committee, upon the same subject, bearing the same title.

Mr. Gillam: On that question I demand the yeas and nays.

Mr. Chamberlain: I do not believe that many of the members of the House—any members of the House perhaps—outside of the committee who have had charge of these bills and to whom they have been referred by a resolution, understand the nature of this bill, and I believe that every member of the House, considering the importance of these measures, ought to be prepared to vote intelligently upon this motion.

In the first place, the report that was sent to the House last night by the general committee reported back a substitute for the bill, which the gentleman moves to take from the table, and which was known as the Cheever bill. The substitute reported by the committee comes to the House with no name endorsed thereon and is simply the product of the best judgment of a majority of that joint committee. The first change, and the first notable one, that is made in the bill is with reference to the manner of the creation of the board. A majority of the committee which had consideration of this bill believed that the fairest way was that the Legislature itself should name the two elective members of this board, and one of the arguments used in that connection, I may say, Mr. Speaker, was that should the bill provide for their election by the people the question would be dragged into politics and these members would be nominated in all State conventions that nominated a full State ticket, at the bottom of the calendar. The gentlemen who have attended conventions in this State of any party know that after the first two or three nominations are made the convention is largely in confusion and by the time the foot of the ticket is reached it has oftentimes happened that not over 20 members were present and making such nomination. It has, therefore, I say, been thought that the better way would be that these two elective members be elected by the Legislature itself. No party could complain of that treatment, because if either party had control of the Legislature politically, they could control the politics of these offices, if there be politics in them. My own idea is that it takes them largely out of politics and we would be provided with better officers, so far as the two elective members are concerned, if this method should be adopted.

It provides that the balance of the board shall be constituted of the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer and the Auditor General, the last of whom shall be, under the terms of this bill, ex officio the president of this board.

It provides that vacancies in the board shall be filled by the Governor at any time when one occurs in any of these offices.

I do not care to dwell longer upon that. I simply want the House to understand the nature of this provision. This provision is in the bill that it is moved to take up, on the substitute motion which is made by myself.

The next important change made from the Cheever bill is one which yesterday, when the bill was under consideration before these joint committees, was conceded by the author of the Cheever bill himself to be a very great improvement over his own measure. It provides a different manner of arriving at the actual rate of taxation, by explicitly stating what shall constitute the dividend and the divisor. I may say, and I do not think that the gentleman objected to any especial feature of the bill except that section 13 of the Cheever bill is omitted. That section provides for a tax upon franchises. It is a debatable question, I will say to you frankly, in my own mind whether that section ought to be in the bill. The report of the sub-committee, of which I had the honor to be chairman, made to the joint committee yesterday stated that as long as no other class of property or as long as all classes of property are not assessed upon their franchises, it would in the judgment of that committee be unfair to place taxation upon the franchises of the four corporations named in this bill. However, if the House desires, it can very easily insert that section, if it finds, in its wisdom, that it is the better method.

The other changes perhaps are minor; they relate somewhat perhaps to the machinery. One other change I may mention: It has been suggested and it is believed by those who are competent authority that a salary of twelve hundred dollars for the secretary of the most important board in the State of Michigan is not sufficient to secure proper services and therefore the bill was amended in that particular, changing the salary from twelve hundred to eighteen hundred. On the other hand it was argued that eminent men could be named, if you please, by the Legislature, should this bill be adopted, as the two elective members of this board, upon a salary of three thousand dollars per year and their expenses, and therefore they cut down the salaries of those men from the five thousand dollars provided in the other bill to three thousand dollars. Both bills provide for the payment of their expenses.

This substitute bill also provides for the payment of witness fees. That provision is contained in no other bill that was before the committee. Briefly that is the situation. Those are the changes made. I think those are all the material changes. And I say, therefore, that it has seemed to this committee that the substitute bill, which they sent to the House last night, should take precedence over the other bill which Mr. Gillam desires to take from the table and I make this statement simply that the House may know upon what it votes—the condition of affairs—and I desire to impress upon you that the distinguished author of the bill which Mr. Gillam desires to take from the table concedes that in some and many particulars the substitute bill is much better than his own. As I say, it bears the great mark of no man, there is no man's name attached to the bill, and I only regret that the papers of the morning have suggested my name in connection with it. I had something to do with the drafting of the bill and I may as well say in this particular, Mr. Speaker, as I probably shall not take the floor again upon the subject unless forced to do so, that the substitute itself does not meet with my approval upon these lines. We have stated that fully in the report of this sub-committee, which is published in your Journal. But as I said I was the chairman of the sub-committee to which was referred these bills and only these, dealing with the question of taxation upon the four topics mentioned in the title, and therefore I decided that it became my duty to present to the House as among the choice of evils, the least. And I prepared as good a bill as I was able to upon these same lines, and I was very proud when many parts of it met the approval of my distinguished friend from Wayne, who is the author of the other bill.

I am, therefore, of the opinion, Mr. Speaker, that the substitute should be taken from the table, not necessarily for passage, but that it may be considered, and if, after it has been considered by the House, my distinguished friend desires to take the other bill and consider them both, side by side—which is the only fair way to do—I will very cheerfully vote for a motion of that character.

Mr. Cheever: I have only one word to say as to the statement of the gentleman from Gogebic as to my opinion of the merits of the substitute, compared with the other bill. What I said was this: In some respects the principle which he would apply in obtaining the ratio I thought might be beneficial and, perhaps better, but the difficulty would be in applying it; that I did not believe in consideration of all the matters in the bill that it could be applied or that it was beneficial. I therefore oppose the substitute.

Mr. Crosby: I would like to ask the gentleman from Gogebic a question, if he consents.

Mr. Chamberlain: I will be very pleased to answer, if I can.

Mr. Crosby: And that is, what is the difference between the two means of determining the valuation of this property? What is the difference between the Cheever-Atkinson bill and the substitute offered? I think that should be understood before the House votes.

Mr. Chamberlain: Well, I can only say to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, that he can arrive at this fact only by comparing section 6 of both bills. The difference is principally in the establishment of the divisor—that determines the rate.

Mr. Crosby: What is the difference?

Mr. Dingley: I rise to a point of order. The bill is not under discussion, it is merely a motion to substitute.

The Speaker: The question is on which bill shall be taken from the table, and that opens the discussion as to the merits of the bills.

Mr. Crosby: It seems that I do not get an answer, or else the gentleman misunderstands the question. •However, we will pass it.

Mr. Chamberlain: I should be very happy to answer the question of the gentleman. I thought the bill had been published.

The Speaker: The gentleman asks what is the method of arriving at the value of the property—is there any difference?

Mr. Crosby: That is all.

Mr. Chamberlain: At the value of the property?

Mr. Crosby: Yes, sir.

Mr. Chamberlain: Excuse me; I thought you said the naming of the rate.

Mr. Crosby: That covers the entire question—How do you arrive at the value of property, and what property do you include?

Mr. Chamberlain: I will answer that in this way: I desire to say, in reply to the gentleman's question, directly, that there is a change as to the board's duties here in arriving at the valuation of these corporations mentioned in the bill. It provides, as does no other bill that has been before us, that the board's duty shall be to arrive at the actual cash value of all the property in the State, as well as its assessed value, so that they may thereby determine what shall be the proper cash value of these corporations. And now, as to the rate: Section 6 provides this—and I can answer the gentleman no better than by reading from the substitute bill—"Said board shall determine the average rate of taxes paid for State, county, township, village, city, and school purposes throughout the State, for the current year, by dividing the aggregate taxes for the current year, as ascertained and determined under the provisions of this section, by the aggregate cash valuation of the property throughout the State assessed for State, county, township, village, city or school purposes for the current year, added to the cash value of all railroads, railroad companies, union depot companies, railroad and depot companies, express companies, telephone companies and telegraph companies, as determined and ascertained under and by virtue of the provisions of this section."

Mr. Crosby: It is claimed by the gentleman from Gogebic that the substitute proposed is entitled to some merit because it has not endorsed upon it the name of the distinguished deceased who was a member of this House two years ago—Col. John B. Atkinson. Now I apprehend that that remark was not made with the purpose of making an attack upon our deceased friend, but it seems that there is some reason in the mind of the members of this committee why the bill that is introduced—the Cheever-Atkinson bill—should not pass, which is attached to the fact that it bears a name. Do I understand from the gentleman from Gogebic and the members of this committee that they are opposed to the passage of this bill because it bears the name of "Atkinson" or the name of "Cheever?" Do I understand that the members of this committee oppose legislation in Michigan which shall secure the best interests of the people of this State because that legislation is upon paper which has attached to it a name? The gentleman says that the substitute represents the best judgment of the members of this committee. I say to the gentleman in return that the Cheever-Atkinson bill represents the best judgment of the people of the State of Michigan and the best judgment of some of the best lawyers in the State. That if there is one thing to commend to the members of this House the substitute that is proposed, there is tenfold as much to commend to the members of this House the bill itself, because, if the few members of this committee are entitled to consideration, the great constitutional minds of the State and the voting people of this State are certainly entitled to consideration.

Now this question that is proposed in relation to electing two members by the Legislature is one that is worthy of some consideration. The members of the House, if they vote for the substitute, are voting for a bill which proposes these several things which have been outlined by the gentleman from Gogebic, and in order to rid themselves of any one of them they must by at least a majority vote be able to amend. It is proposed that these two members of the Board of Assessors shall be elected by the Legislature, and I wonder if the gentleman from Gogebic wishes to have repeated every two years the contest that is now had every two years, skipping the third session? I wonder if the gentleman wishes that the contest that is had at such time shall be repeated by the members of this board? Why, upon the question of Senatorial election thousands of dollars are disposed of. Not that I mean that members of the House are bought, not that I mean that members of the Senate are bought, but thousands of dollars are invested by men who seek to become Senators of the United States and those dollars are invested in securing influence with the members of this House and of the Senate. Those dollars are invested every second year, skipping the third session, and with two members of the Board of Assessors to be elected every second year and with the great railroad corporations of the State to put their money into operation for the purpose of securing results, we would have such a disgraceful combination of circumstances, such a disgraceful turmoil and fight upon the floor of the House and Senate every second year as would be a still greater disgrace to the noble State of Michigan.

Now I have nothing to say upon the question of whether or not the State Treasurer shall take the place of the Governor on this board of five assessors. I have nothing to say upon that question, because there cannot be any question in the minds of the members of the House as to whether the three persons proposed in the substitute or the three proposed by the Cheever-Atkinson bill will be properly able to carry out the requirements of the bill, but I do deem the action of the members of this committee in removing the Governor from the board and placing in his stead the State Treasurer, a slap at our Chief Executive.

Now it seems to me the most important feature of this question that has been suggested by the gentleman from Gogebic is connected with the one of arriving at the valuation of the property to be taxed. If I am not mistaken, under the Cheever-Atkinson bill the property of railroad, telegraph, telephone and express companies is to be taxed in this manner: When the tax to be raised and the assessed valuation of the property of the State of Michigan has been determined, a rate is determined, which is the rate upon all taxable property in the State of Michigan, except that kind of taxable property that is connected with local improvements.

Under the Cheever-Atkinson bill the property of railroads, telegraph, telephone and express companies is taxed and its valuation is determined by its cash value, and under the Cheever-Atkinson bill the same rate will prevail which has prevailed in regard to State taxation upon property outside of this corporate property, that it shall be the same rate that shall prevail upon property proposed to be taxed by this bill.

Under the substitute that is proposed, what is the situation? Suppose we have in the State of Michigan a million dollars worth of property outside of the property in question. Suppose we have a billion dollars of property in the State of Michigan to be taxed. Suppose the assessed valuation of the property is determined by the taxing power throughout the State. Suppose that the tax upon it is 5 per cent upon this billion of dollars of property; then suppose we have a half million of dollars of property which under the provisions of this substitute which we add to it, from which we determine the rate.

If I understand the proposition correctly, it is that we shall add to all the property in the State of Michigan the property of railroad companies, telephone, telegraph and express companies and that we then shall determine the rate in question for the purpose of raising the tax that is to be raised by the State. What is the result? If I understand the law correctly this class of taxes will go into the primary school fund. The assessed valuation of the property that is used for the purpose of determining the rate, the amount of money to be raised in the State of Michigan, does not take into consideration the primary school fund at all. The primary school fund is not considered in determining the value of the property of the State, nor is it considered in determining the amount of taxes to be collected; it is an outside matter. It is proposed by the railroad companies that the property which has to go to the primary school fund shall be added to the valuation of the property, and from that valuation the rate shall be determined. The consequence would be that the rate would be reduced, and we would not collect the amount of taxes the State requires and we would fail to collect the taxes provided for and that is necessary to run the business affairs of the State of Michigan. The proposition proposed is the only fair one. Why? Because it provides that railroad companies, telephone, telegraph and express companies shall pay identically the same rate to the State of Michigan that other property of this State has paid for years, when the valuation is determined. And yet it is proposed by the railroad companies of the State of Michigan, and it is proposed by the members of this committee, who, it seems to me, are acting for the railroad companies in proposing this substitute, and want to tax the property of railroad companies at less than the other property of the State is taxed. That is the proposition that is contained in the substitute that is here. And if the gentlemen upon the floor of this House shall vote in favor of the substitute, they vote against the interest of the people of the State of Michigan, which interest has been expressed by them when they declared themselves in favor of the Cheever-Atkinson bill for the equal taxation of railroads, telephone, telegraph companies and express companies in with the other property of the State. Now then, they propose something else, and I have been impressed with the idea that they are not acting in good faith. That they are not here because it is deemed by the members of that committee that it would result in any special benefit to the people of Michigan, but because of that prejudice that permeates a certain element in this House, because it is prejudice of the members of this House that causes them to oppose the passage of the Cheever-Atkinson bill in its present form, and desire that a bill in an entirely different form, as amended, be passed.

Now it is proposed to increase the salary of one of the officers—the secretary of this board. While I have not a word to say against the reduction of the salaries of the two members of the board, because I apprehend that a salary of three thousand dollars or four thousand dollars is a sufficient salary to secure men of sufficient ability to assess this kind of corporate property, I believe that the secretary should be paid a salary which would be adequate, and by the word adequate in this connection I mean that the salary should be fixed large enough to enable the people of the State to secure the right kind of a man to fill these two positions. Men of sufficient capacity and ability to determine all questions that are involved in the taxation of this property, and men of sufficient integrity and honor so that there may be no question whether or not the interests of the people of the State of Michigan are to suffer when they are called upon to exercise their official duties, and I apprehend that a salary of three thousand dollars will secure them. I believe there are men in the State of Michigan of sufficient ability to perform those duties, who can be secured at the salary proposed. But what do they propose? They propose to reduce the salary of the two assessors, the men who actually determine every question arising in regard to these corporate powers paying their just proportions of the burdens of taxation in the State of Michigan. They propose to raise the salary of the clerk, who simply records the action of these men and performs the duties they shall designate. It strikes me that the action of the gentlemen shows a sentiment of false pride, a sentiment of false economy which should not be considered by the members of this House. It seems to me it is unwise and foolish, and it reminds me of a story: There was an old man that raised chickens, and he wanted to experiment some, and he gave bran mashes and bone dust together, and gave the old hen all the care and attention possible to give a chicken; but by degrees he began to put a little sawdust in the mash and dispense with the bone dust, and there came a time when he entirely dispensed with the bone dust. There came a time when he entirely dispensed with the article of food, and fed her sawdust alone. And the time came when the old hen wanted to set and she sat upon twelve beautiful eggs, and when the time came to hatch them, this is what she had, eleven wooden legged chickens and one woodpecker.

It strikes me the gentlemen are practicing false economy in proposing to reduce the salary of the commissioners, whose duty it shall be to determine the valuation of this property and increase the salary of the secretary, a mere clerk, who has nothing to do but to record the action of those commissioners. I mention this for the purpose of calling the attention of the members of the House to the action of the gentlemen upon this committee who propose this substitute, indicating one or the other of two things, either that they are not acting in good faith in proposing it and only hope thereby to defeat the Cheever-Atkinson bill and introduce their substitute which shall bear their sanction and shall result in giving credit to them, or else they are not controlled by good judgment.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, we have been in session here in this House almost sixty days and the people of the State of Michigan who sent us here to take some action upon this question, have waited in vain to see any decisive action taken by the members of this House. They have been wondering what their representatives on the floor of the House of the Michigan House of Representatives have been doing during all that time. I do not mention this because I think the prospective seat of any member of this House is in danger at all because I apprehend the various members in this House who are opposing the passage of this bill come from districts where their action will be commended by their constituents upon their return to their homes.

But this is the question, Mr. Speaker, how long must the people of the State of Michigan wait for action upon this matter? How long must the Republican party wait for action upon this matter? Is it the desire of the members of the Republican party upon the floor of this House to turn back the action of the State, is it the desire of the members of this House that the Republican party shall die and that the members of this House shall summon its knell?

I do not wonder that my Democratic friends smile at these remarks, because they must recognize the fact that if the Cheever-Atkinson bill is defeated the Republican party is in danger. Now, the question is, Mr. Speaker, whether we as men, as Republicans, as representatives of our people, are going to take some action on this measure upon the line dictated by the people of the State when they cast their votes in November, or whether we are going to absolutely disregard the interests of the people and the interests of the State.

The Speaker: The motion is that the Cheever bill be taken from the table and that motion was amended by Mr. Chamberlain to insert the joint committee's bill instead of the Cheever bill, and the question is now upon the amendment.

Mr. Kelly: Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House: It seems to me at this time that we are proceeding with a good deal of haste in this matter. I have listened with a great deal of pleasure to the distinguished gentleman from Calhoun, who has given us a duplicate of some of the speeches we have heard in the recent campaign. As to the merits of the measures before us I have heard but very little discussion. Now, I desire to say, Mr. Speaker, that so far as the report of this joint committee is concerned, a poll of the members of that committee shows a large majority in favor of the present system of taxation. Now, so far as I am concerned, I am opposed to both propositions, and when the time shall come I shall oppose both propositions. I have heard a great deal this morning about the Cheever-Atkinson bill, and I wish to state, after an investigation of it, I have concluded that the bill amounts to but little or nothing. Take the board feature out of the Cheever bill and you haven't got any bill. These gentlemen who have pointed so often to what conventions have done in the past, can now point to almost every county in the State that has held conventions and find where they have refused to endorse this Cheever-Atkinson bill. And I believe that this haste comes now because they fear that the grand assemblage that meets at Jackson tomorrow will refuse to accept this Cheever-Atkinson bill. Now, so far as the substitute is concerned, I was in favor of reporting it out to get it upon the floor of this House, and I gave my reasons therefor. I submit this question of the Cheever bill is an important matter. I believe any change in the system of taxation from the present system will be a great detriment to the best interests of the people of this State. I hope, Mr. Speaker, without going into the merits of either proposition that if we are to pass upon anything at this time it will be the substitute instead of the Cheever-Atkinson bill.

Mr. Gillam: Mr. Speaker, I am not going to debate the proposition, because I think the ground has already been covered by the distinguished gentleman from Calhoun. But I want to call the attention of the members of the House to one or two facts in connection with this motion to substitute the bill reported by the committee. In the first place the Cheever-Atkinson bill is in proper shape for discussion by the House inasmuch as it is printed and on the files on our desks. The bill reported by this committee is in manuscript form and is not in proper form for discussion before the House, according to the regular practice of this House. It was for that reason principally that the bill which was reported out by the revision committee last night was not taken up for discussion; it was in manuscript form and therefore not in a proper form for discussion.

Now, as to the points of distinction between the Cheever-Atkinson bill and the bill which this committee desires to substitute for the Cheever-Atkinson bill, I am not going to take up very much time in the discussion of. The board feature, I consider a very immaterial point. Whether the board is elected by the people or whether they are appointed by the Governor. But it seems to me that it is a vicious practice, judging from experience along the line of legislation upon other questions, to place in the hands of the members of the Legislature, of this and subsequent legislatures, the election of two members of this very important commission. We all know what the sentiment is in regard to the election of United States Senators. There is a strong and growing sentiment in this country in favor of the election of members of the United States Senate by the direct vote of the people. We would be practically taking an opposite move, a move which is in opposition to the real wish of the people with regard to other officials. They desire that members who shall serve upon public boards and serve in an official capacity, shall be elected by a direct vote of the people, as nearly as may be. And I do not believe that this provision of the substitute bill is wise, and I think that the Atkinson bill or the Cheever-Atkinson bill is very much superior to the substitute bill in that respect.

Now, as to the other amendments proposed here by the substitute bill; it seems to me, gentlemen of the House, that the proper action is to report and take action upon the Cheever-Atkinson bill. If the bill is then before the committee of the whole there will be no reason why members of this House who desire to amend the Cheever-Atkinson bill cannot there in committee of the whole offer such amendments and secure them upon the passage of the bill, provided a majority of the House desires such changes. If a majority of the House favor the principles of the amendments proposed in the substitute bill reported by this committee, there will be no reason why that majority cannot and may not control the action of the House in committee of the whole.

I think, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that it is high time that we proceeded to act on the Cheever-Atkinson bill, or some bill along that line. It is now in the neighborhood of sixty days since the opening of this session, and the people have been expecting that we should do something along the line of railroad legislation. This bill has been before us; we have heard it discussed before the joint committees; we know the objections that have been raised to it; they tell us it is unconstitutional; the attorneys of the railroads tell us so. Perhaps it is unconstitutional and perhaps it is not. But the fact remains, that it never will be known whether the Cheever-Atkinson bill is unconstitutional or not until the highest tribunal of this State has an opportunity to pass upon it.

Considerable has been said with regard to the method of obtaining the average rate. It is barely possible that the method proposed in the substitute bill is a better method than that proposed in the Cheever-Atkinson bill. If it is, and the gentleman from Gogebic makes an appeal to this House which will satisfy a majority of the members of this House that his method is better than the method proposed in the Cheever-Atkinson bill, and can satisfy the members upon this point, there will be no objection, and no reason why the method proposed in the substitute bill should not be substituted for that proposed in the Cheever-Atkinson bill.

Gentlemen, I hope that the substitute, or the motion to substitute the substitute for the Atkinson bill will not prevail.

I will call attention again to the fact that the Cheever-Atkinson bill is printed. It is ready for our action. It is upon our desks, and all we have to do is to go into the committee of the whole and we have the bill before us for our action and consideration.

Mr. Gustin: It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that the question is whether we shall consider this substitute, or whether we shall consider House bill No. 3, the Cheever bill. We have now reached a time when every man has an opportunity to go on record whether he is in favor of the Atkinson bill or not.

Now, this substitute, Mr. Chamberlain tells us, is the best judgment of this joint committee. Just think of it! The best judgment of this joint committee, and for that reason he asks you to consider it in preference to House bill No. 3. I say that this committee has no judgment, and they stand on record to that effect. They come in here with a report, and what do they propose by this report? They report this substitute for House bill No. 3, and they report the Kelly bill, increasing the present system. They have no judgment, and yet they say this is their best judgment and we must consider it. What have they done? They have simply taken House bill No. 3 and amended one section, cut out section 13 and made a minor amendment and reported it back to the House as a substitute.

They have stolen the Cheever-Atkinson bill, and now report it out here to the House. The question is now, whether the House will concur in any such action as that. I do not believe that the House in its sound mind will allow it or concur in it. The introducer of this bill is entitled to have this bill considered. There are but three sections changed in this bill, a copy of which I have here. It has but three sections changed. We can go into the discussion of this bill and discuss it on its merits here today without the necessity which he proposes to have this bill referred to the general order, and then go to the printing office and be down there for a week and get at it sometime next week. That will be the result if we accept this substitute. Now, this committee of twenty-five, if you please—what have they accomplished? They have accomplished nothing. There was but thirteen to fifteen members who considered this report. Some of them voted for both systems, some for no system at all. They did not know what they wanted. I say it is our duty to come right down to the fundamental principles and take this Cheever-Atkinson bill, this House bill No. 3, which is the same bill that was accepted in the committee, and consider it here today, and we will have done what the people of the State of Michigan are waiting for us to do, to take action upon this system of taxation. And I hope that this amendment will not prevail, and that Mr. Gillam's motion will prevail, and upon his motion I demand the yeas and nays.

I hope and trust before this House adjourns today that it will take action and a final vote upon this proposition, and I trust that the members who are in favor of this bill will see to it that nothing prevents them from being present during the discussion today, this afternoon and evening, if necessary, until we reach a final vote upon this question. The people have been looking for it for the last sixty days and now is the time to take action.

Mr. Wood: Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Gogebic a question.

The Speaker: Does the gentleman from Gogebic desire to hear the question?

Mr. Chamberlain: Yes.

Mr. Wood: Do I understand that the Atkinson bill, or the Cheever-Atkinson bill, is unconstitutional, and if so, why so many of the features that were eliminated from that bill and put in the substituted bill would make it constitutional, so that they are sure of it.

Mr. Chamberlain: Mr. Speaker, I will take pleasure in stating to the gentleman my view of the principal point in the Cheever-Atkinson bill that it has been argued is unconstitutional—that is, as to the method of raising the rate, the delegating of authority to any board of naming the rate of taxation upon these corporations mentioned in the bill. This amendment that is proposed in this bill, and which I repeated to the honorable gentleman from Calhoun, arranged for arriving at the rate, are definite and simple, and as stated in the report last night a matter of mathematical computation. That is not true in the Cheever-Atkinson bill, as we have understood. It does not define the manner of raising the rate, as does this bill. Now, it being only a question of mathematical computation upon the part of the board, the Legislature practically fixes the rate so that it cannot be charged that the placing of the rate is delegated to any authority by the Legislature.

The only other point that has been discussed with reference to that, with any seriousness by the people who have opposed all of these bills, is whether or not in this system of taxation an ad valorem tax can be placed in the primary school fund. I desire to say to the gentleman that I have examined that with considerable care, upon my own account, and I have come to the conclusion that there is nothing in that point.

Mr. Wood: I would like to ask the gentleman if he knows that the Cheever-Atkinson bill is unconstitutional.

Mr. Chamberlain: I will say that there is not a man on earth that knows that. As the gentleman, Mr. Gillam, has stated, it may be possible if the Cheever bill passes and becomes a law, it would require a court to pass upon it in that regard. Now, I will say to you, and I say it frankly, that some of the best lawyers in this State (and we have some good lawyers in Michigan), are divided upon this question. If I may state further upon that same point, at a meeting called in the city of Detroit a short time ago at the Governor's private residence, where there were a number of good attorneys who were supposed to be special and particular friends, who were required to put in writing (if I have been rightly informed), that the Cheever-Atkinson bill was beyond any constitutional question and there could be no doubt about it, the noted Judge Kinney, of Washtenaw, was one among them who said he had very grave doubts as to the constitutionality of the bill. Later on when the measure was under consideration my distinguished friend from Wayne, Mr. Cheever, who is the author of this bill, in a way, said there was a grave doubt in his mind as to the constitutionality of some parts of it—

Mr. Cheever: Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege.

The Speaker: The gentleman will state his point of personal privilege.

Mr. Chamberlain (continuing—if I understood rightly).

Mr. Cheever: You did not understand me rightly; I never said so.

Mr. Chamberlain: Then I am very glad to be corrected on that; but I so understood it and some of the committee understood the gentleman the same as I did.

So, that the best attorneys in the State are divided as to the question of the constitutionality of the Cheever-Atkinson bill.

Mr. Wood: Then as I was—

Mr. Gustin (interrupting): Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The Speaker: Will the gentleman from Alpena state his point of order?

Mr. Gustin: My point of order is, I made a motion for a demand of the yeas and nays on the motion.

The Speaker: The gentleman's point of order is out of order. The gentleman from Gratiot may proceed.

Mr. Wood: I do not desire to make any argument on this bill, but when I am through, I believe every member of this House will understand my position.

I wish to correct the gentleman from Muskegon, Mr. Kelly, when he says that all or nearly all of the county conventions that have been held throughout the State are not in favor of the Cheever-Atkinson bill today. Could he have attended a convention held in Gratiot county last Friday, he would change his views in regard to that county. The people there are unanimously in favor of the Atkinson bill. I was elected upon the platform adopted by the State convention in Detroit. I can place no other construction upon that platform but that we were to give the people equal taxation, and in giving them that we were pledged at that time to what was known as the Atkinson bill.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I pledged my constituents to stand by that measure, and I have done so from the beginning and I intend to do so until the end.

I wish to call the attention of the House to a few statistics here on a vote in the State of Michigan at different elections. I shall begin at the election of 1872, when Governor Bagley was elected by 56,644 plurality. This would seem to show us that Michigan was an absolutely safe Republican State. In two years from this his plurality was reduced to 5,967 majority. Again, in the year 1880 Governor Jerome was elected by 41,273 majority. In 1882, only two years after, our majorities were completely wiped out, and Governor Begole was elected by 4,572 majority. In 1884 Governor Alger was elected by the narrow margin of 3,953 plurality. We kept increasing it, until 1888, when Governor Luce was elected by 17,145 majority. And what is the result in two years? Mr. Winans, Democratic candidate, was elected by 11,520 majority, and in four years from that time we had a nominal majority, a Republican plurality of 106,392.

We well remember that the Winans campaign was made upon a platform pledged to anti-railroad taxation, and we remember how well they failed to keep the pledge, and we remember that in four years from that time there was only one Democrat elected as a member of the Legislature in either House.

Now, we must not think for a minute, because we have a plurality for Mr. Pingree of between eighty and ninety thousand this last year that we are absolutely safe. We have a pledge before our people, and they are demanding of us, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that we shall faithfully perform the duties to which we were pledged during the campaign. And I should oppose, if for no other reason I should oppose, the taking from the table of this bill. We should turn to the Cheever-Atkinson bill. Mr. Speaker, I should oppose the amendment to take from the table the substitute, if for no other reason than because it provides that this House shall elect the members of that board. My friend Mr. Gillam has covered that ground. We already have traveled over it. The people of the State of Michigan desire that the United States Senators be elected by a direct vote, and they will demand that this board shall be elected by a direct vote, and for that reason, if for no other, I take this position, and I demand the yeas and nays upon the amendment.

The Speaker: That demand has already been made.

Mr. McKay: Mr. Speaker, I believe that the members of the House have been permitted to deviate a good deal from the question before the House. And in order to expedite the business, and without wishing to shut any of them off, I will now move the previous question.

The Speaker: The previous question is moved. As many as are in favor of the demand, please rise.

A sufficient number up.

Mr. Heineman: I demand the yeas and nays on the main question.

The Speaker: As many as are in favor will please rise.

A sufficient number are up; you will answer to your names as called. The Clerk will call the roll.

(The Clerk then called the roll).

The Speaker: The question is, shall the question on the amendment be now put, under the previous question. All in favor say "aye;" opposed "no."

The ayes seem to have it. The ayes have it.

Mr. Wood: We don't understand, Mr. Speaker, what the vote is on.

The Speaker: The question is on the amendment. The question is on the motion to take from the table the substitute prepared and submitted by the committee. All in favor will say aye; opposed no. The Clerk will call the roll.

ERRATA.

I hereby certify that, after a careful comparison of the foregoing Journal, as printed, with the history of the passage of bills kept by me, I find the following clerical errors and omissions, viz.:

1. The formal entry of "Title agree to," should appear in the following places: Page 780, after roll call on S. J. R. 76; page 1116, after roll call on H. B. 766; page 2202, after roll call on S. B. 298-583 (file 394); page 2287 after roll call on H. B. 319; page 2556, after roll call on S. B. 261.

2. On page 622, after the roll call on concurring in Senate amendments to H. B. 77, the usual reference for presentation to the Governor should appear.

3. On page 1455, the motion relative to House bill 553 should be to discharge the committee of the whole, instead of to take from the table.

4. On page 1790, after the report of the committee of the whole on H. B. 11 and H. B. 379, should appear the formal entry that no amendments had been made and their passage had been recommended.

5. On page 1814, S. B. 176 and not H. B. 176, should appear in the report of the Committee on Public Health.

6. On page 2174, S. B. 298-563 (file 394), and not H. B., was considered.

7. On page 2201, the same correction as in 6 should be made.

8. On page 2534, after the message transmitting S. J. R. 308, should appear an entry tabling the bill.

9. On page 2577, after the report on H. B. 573, should appear an entry tabling the bill.

10. On page 2614, S. B. 328 (file 204) was reported, instead of H. B. 204.

Such minor errors as misnumbering bills, etc., are not noted, since the title of a bill, when correctly given, is deemed a sufficient identification of the bill acted upon.
